TWO SHOWS ON TONIGHT

"Rangers of Fortune" and "Congo Maisie" at Capitol Now

Showing at the Capitol Theatre tonight and tomorrow night are "Rangers of Fortune" and "Congo Maisie." Featured in the former are Fred MacMurray, Patricia Morison, Gilbert Roland and Albert Dekker. This story hits its pitch in a little plains town near the Mexican border, where an embattled newspaper publisher fights the violence of a sinister gang. Since they cast their lot with the underdog, the adventurous trio find themselves in shooting scrapes and necktie parties and finally in a battle royal that serves to clear out the gang preying on the local ranchmen.

"Congo Maisie" features Ann Sothern and John Carroll. The story tells of a fiery American showgirl who is stranded on the west coast of Africa. There she meets a sardonic doctor who regards her as nothing more than an intruder. When the girl proves her integrity and her courage, the man is forced to admit her merits. When he is called upon to perform an emergency operation, she alone is capable of standing beside him as assistant. Again, when the natives go wild, she holds them back with her remembered card tricks and a bit of dancing.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

The latest casualty lists contain the names of Lieut. G. E. Gibson and Sergeant R. W. Cameron amongst the wounded. This is the second occasion on which Robert Cameron has been wounded.

The tourists on the Princess Alice had a most delightful time on the voyage north. With such musicians as E. C. Stilwell and W. Balagno in the company, two splendid concerts were given and the tourists were sorry to part with them at Prince Rupert.

The Majestic Theatre will re-open on Wednesday evening when a high-class picture program will be given. There will be a three-piece orchestra, consisting of Charles Balagno at the piano; W. Balagno, violin, and the popular Ed Stilwell in his old place with the drums.

A WELL-DESERVED MEAL

Man in the Moon

Not long ago we were all cursing the Soviets for attacking Finland and now we are cursing Germany, for attacking the Soviets. Who shall we curse tomorrow?

Finding it impossible to beat the British, Hitler is now trying out the Union of Soviet Republics, usually known to the world as Russia. There he has plenty of scope for his activities.

There is a new director of shipbuilding but if we see as little of him as we did of his predecessor, F. A. Wiltshire, it will make little difference to us in Prince Rupert who is the director.

According to Hitler the Russians are already "licked to a frazzle" and there is nothing now to do but pick up the fragments.

The school year ended this morning and now the serious education of both teachers and pupils will continue after the long lapse.

My young nephew Roland's teacher (she's got a lot of pupils but not much class) said to him:

"Well, you're getting a bigger boy, and it won't be long before you leave us for a higher grade."

"Gee, teacher!" he said. "I wish you were smart enough to go on teaching me."

Dumb Dora has been nicknamed "muscles" because she is in everyone's arms.

Dora is one of those girls who refuses to take a back seat unless its in a Rolls Royce.

HOUSEBOATS FOR SAFETY

LONDON, June 26: (CP)—Reality reports that many people bombed from homes in recent raids have exchanged their heaps of rubble for houseboats on the Thames, all sorts of derelicts being restored for service.

PAPER TOWN IS HUMMING

Ocean Falls Never Busier—Mills Are Operating 24 Hours Per Day

OCEAN FALLS, June 25— The Pacific Mills establishment here was never busier than it is today, due to the heavy demand for its products.

Both pulp and paper mill and the nearby sawmill are working twenty-four hours a day.

The paper products are going far afield to the British Empire and the United States.

The lumber mill is specializing in airplane spruce cut from Queen Charlotte Islands timber.

All freight vessels available are getting full cargoes.

OCEAN FALLS

Matt Haslett, for years dock superintendent at Ocean Falls, has been appointed townsite manager here. The responsibilities of the latter post has been increased as a result of larger population and building expansion.

S. J. Grady, who was a constable on the old city force at Prince Rupert twenty-five years ago, is now located in Ocean Falls as special constable.

M. P. Olsen, who years ago was interested in mining at Alice Arm and is also well known in Prince Rupert, is now located at Ocean Falls. He is a machinist in the paper mill.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McMaster and little daughter, left Ocean Falls at the end of the week for Vancouver with the intention of remaining. Mr. McMaster, who was chief electrician here, had been located for seventeen years at Ocean Falls. Mrs. McMaster was the former Betty Wright of Prince Rupert.
