VALENTINE WEDDINGS

Entry Into War Projects Nuptials to an All-Time High.

Associated Press Staff Writer
By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK, Feb. 16: (AP)—With the Wedding March Uncle Sam's theme song just now, thousands of young couples celebrated St. Valentine's day Saturday in the good old fashioned way.

"Be My Valentine" has a new meaning as wartime quickens the national tempo and marriage figures hit an all-time high.

Though almost any day looks good to the girl who gets her man, there's no other date so nice for a wedding anniversary as February 14, the one day in every year when nobody is ashamed of being sentimental.

Sentimental Year

That little man with the bow and arrow scored historic victories on all fronts this year as the world paused to pay tribute to the patron saint of love in the midst of Armageddon.

It was good to know that wedding bells could still drown out the sound of cannon and that General Cupid flies faster than the bombers.

Already America's marriage totals have surpassed the previous record set in 1917, the bumper war bride year. In 1941 a million and a half American girls went to the altar and in 1942 the grand total is expected to approach two million.

Records of the New York marriage licence bureau show that more than 80,000 brides and grooms tied that important knot last year in New York City, as compared with the 1917 score of 76,000.

Veils at a Premium

So hearts and flowers were the order of St. Valentine's Day. Wedding veils were at a premium and there was a run on diamond engagement rings and wedding bands. While formal church weddings with all the trimmings, still hold the lead, many more informal home weddings took place, due to the exigencies of war.

The valentine bride was radiant, whether she wore traditional white satin or said the same words in mufti. The formal bride chose cotton net or rayon satin for her gown this year because of priorities, and she prefered pastel pink or blue. The informal bride will chose a simple afternoon dress or suit, with romantic white or pastel hat and accessories. The most popular costume for the bridegroom of 1942 was a uniform.

In last Thursday's Vancouver Province appears a picture of Petty Officer Gordon Parkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Parkin, Borden Street, who is now in Vancouver on leave with his wife and two children after eleven months' service on a Canadian naval vessel on the Atlantic. Petty Officer Parkin has been mentioned in dispatches on three occasions.

Charming Wedding Saturday Evening

Miss Nellie Anderson Becomes Bride of John Carpenter

A charming wedding was solemnized at 7 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents on Eighth Avenue East, Canon W. F. Rushbrook officiating, when Nellie Olive, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Anderson, became the bride of John Spencer Carpenter of New Massett.

The bride's costume was a floor length accordian pleated torquoise blue gown with three-quarter length veil and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart rosebuds and carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Josephine Gay, wore a gown of dark blue georgette, colonial style, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and blue iris.

Ole Anderson, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman.

Following the ceremony, a large assembly of guests, after expressing their felicitations to the newly weds, enjoyed a sumptuous wedding breakfast.

The popular young couple will make their home in the city.
