TRAINING OF GUIDES

Girl Units Enlisted for Intensive Work in Readiness for Service

EDMONTON, June 26: (CP)—Looking ahead to their usefulness in national crises Alberta Girl Guides are being enlisted and trained intensively in four essentials—discipline, physical fitness, message corps work and emergency cooking. The campaign is under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Pardee, Alberta commissioner.

Any guide 15 years or over who has taken the tenderfoot test may take the emergency training course. The first part is based on training in discipline and resourcefulness and is followed by further teaching in specialized sections. On completing the requirements for general test, an armlet is issued and thereafter stripes are added as each specialized section is passed.

In training for good health, each girl is required to take at least 20 minutes outdoor exercises each day. She must raise her health standard by studying the rules of health, and is trusted on her honor to maintain these fitness requirements at all times.

In the message corps the girls are expected to memorize a message and carry it for a mile at scout's pace; give and receive messages accurately over the telephone; if dark be able to dial a telephone without lights; know important telephone numbers; master Morse code thoroughly and be able to use it in a buzzer, light or signal flag. Guides also must have a thorough knowledge of their own neighborhood and be able to find their way about day or night. They must know how to use maps and a compass.

In the emergency cooking field, the girls must know how to cook a simple two course meal for five people over a campfire. Proficiency badge tests include examinations in first aid, home nursing, household repairs, nursing, cooking with thrift, child care, transportation, gardening, farm work.

Edmonton has 1,234 Guides in 25 companies. Last year there were eight camps held with 143 campers. The association in Edmonton, financed in part by the community Chest, is laying the ground work for the new wartime emergency services.

BUG TALK IS HEARD

E. P. Sidaway Tells Rotarians of "Social Life of Insect World"

E. P. Sidaway of the scientific staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station was the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club yesterday. He gave an interesting and informative discourse on "The Social Life of the Insect World." Life history of various types of insects such as the fly, the ant and the beetle were described.

President P. H. Linzey was in the chair. William Sheardown was the winner of the weekly raffle of a War Savings Certificate.

NOW IS THE TIME---

Give us an order right away for the amount of coal you expect to need next season. This will enable us to meet your requirements now or as supplies arrive.

It is important that you should lay in your coal supply this summer as it is almost certain that the dealers will not be able to cope satisfactorily with the demand next winter.

IT IS NOT HOARDING TO BUY YOUR COAL EARLY

(It is also necessary to place your order a day ahead of Delivery)
