PRICE OF POTATOES

Are Pegged at $3.94 Per Hundred In Prince Rupert

Under an order effective June 7, maximum prices for new potatoes have been set by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. These must not exceed the lawful ceiling prices for Canada No. 1 grade old potatoes (Coast No. 1 whites).

According to this scale the maximum retail prices for new potatoes are as follows:

	100 lbs.	50 lbs.	25 lbs.	10 lbs.	5 lbs.
Vancouver	$3.85	$1.99	$1.01	.44	.22
Victoria	3.49	1.80	.92	.39	.20
Trail and Nelson	3.65	1.88	96	.41	.21
Vernon	3.43	1.77	.91	.39	.20
Pr. Rupert	3.94	2.03	1.03	.43	.22
Pr. George	3.76	1.93	.99	.42	.22
Penticton	3.49	1.80	.92	.39	.20
Nanaimo	3.61	1.86	.92	.41	.21
Cranbrook	3.68	1.90	.97	.41	.21
Kamloops	3.24	1.67	.85	.38	.18

To ensure that these prices are available to the consumer a subsidy will be paid through the wholesalers by the Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation. This subsidy will be in effect until August 31.

TWILIGHT WEDDING

Miss Bernice Ingram is Pretty Bride of William Holzer

St. Andrew's Cathedral was the scene of a pretty twilight wedding last Thursday evening at 8:30 when Very Rev. J. B. Gibson united in marriage Bernice Mary Georgina, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ingram, Prince Rupert, formerly of Wawanesa and Winnipeg, to William Carl Holzer, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holzer of Couer D'Alene, Idaho.

To the strains of the bridal music rendered by the Cathedral organist, Peter Lien, the bridal procession came slowly down the aisle. First were the ushers John Hunter and Dell Stock—followed by the matron of honor, Mrs. Phil D. Johnson, in a floor length gown of soft shell pink georgette, wearing a matching feathered toque and carrying a bouquet of pink and yellow carnations and mauve stocks. Then came the pretty bride on the arm of her father. Her white bridal satin gown, with sweetheart neckline, featured a low hipline accentuated with heavy fluting displaying the low bodice while her floor length double flounce bridal veil was becomingly held with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of rapture roses, pale pink stocks and pyrethrum with a large white satin bow.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Commodore Cafe where the happy couple received best wishes from their many friends. The three-tier wedding cake reposed within a silver laurel wreath, flanked on either side by tall white tapers. Displayed was a presentation gift of table silver from the Port Edward Division of British Columbia Bridge and Dredging Co. Ltd. business associates of the bride and groom.

After cutting her cake, the bride retired to don her travelling suit which was of dressmaker design in powder blue with lingerie touches, with matching wide brimmed felt hat, topped by the gift of the groom a silver fox jacket, with corsage of gardenia and pink roses. The happy couple left for Vancouver, Seattle and Couer D'Alene, Idaho.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Housewives' League meeting tonight, East End Hall, 8 p.m.

▲ Civic Federation Labor Meeting, Friday, 8 p.m., Carpenters' Hall. (134)

W. F. Stone advised the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night that he had no report to make yet for a special committee on the matter of membership and attendance.

Labor regulations and national nutrition were subjects dealt with in a communication from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce read at last night's meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

On behalf of Murray Oliver, T. W. Brown, local barrister, had a letter before the city council last night asking for the restoration of Oliver's chauffeur's licence which had been cancelled. Hearing of the application was set for June 14.

The Poole Construction Co. had a letter before the city council last night requesting to rent for a period not exceeding six months lot 7, block 14, section 1 for the purpose of erecting temporary living quarters. The request was referred to the board of works.

Fred Scadden had an application before the city council last night for permission to erect signboards on property belonging to the city between Ambrose Avenue and the dry dock and on the rock bluff below the old Prince Rupert Club building. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

The Children's Aid Society of Vancouver, in a letter read at last night's council meeting, asked the city to pay the sum of $229.33, represented as being a deficit on children from this city kept at the institution, this over and above $625.76 which had been paid by the city. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Attention of the city council was brought by the city foreman, Henry Arney, last night to a barricade in front of the York Hotel on Third Avenue which had been erected last year and which the foreman said was an obstruction to pedestria traffic and a fire hazard. The matter was referred to the fire and health committee.

Robert Reid, secretary of the local St. John Ambulance Association, had a letter before the city council last night inquiring as to the possibility of obtaining accommodation for the holding of first aid classes. The first suggestion of the council was that a school room might be obtained for the classes but it was decided to hold the matter over for a couple of weeks. The council was not disposed to make the council chamber available.

There was no report at last night's meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce from a special committee which had been delegated to go into an extensive report from Dr. R. J. MacDonald, until recently medical health officer here although the chairman of the committee, Dr. R G. Large, was quoted as saying that Dr. MacDonald was to be commended on the excellence of the report.

Reporting for a special committee, Arnold Flaten told the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at its meeting last night that more time was required to take up the matter of reported negotiation for the taking over of the British Columbia Electric Railway by the city of Vancouver with suggested assistance by the provincial government. Already the local chamber has expressed its opposition to any such support by the government which Premier John Hart had said might be forthcoming.

The postal department at Ottawa is now giving consideration to the instituting of a daily mail car service on the local line of the Canadian National Railways, according to reports received by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night. At present there are three mail cars a week and a baggage car mail service on the other three days. The mail car service gives faster distribution and the volume of mail now handled here warrants the service, it is contended. The military authorities have endorsed the daily mail car service.

▲ Elio's Pay Cash for Furniture, Stoves, Tools, Musical Instruments.

W. A. Rundle, chairman of the freight traffic committee of the Vancouver Board of Trade, had a letter before the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night seeking suggestions in regard to the matter of car loadings. The letter was referred to the freight rates committee of the chamber.

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting last night heard a communication from the city council which stated the city was not in a financial position to accede to the chamber's suggestion that street designation signs should be erected. However, the council had decided to draw attention through advertising in the press to the advantage of householders putting up the number of their houses.

Reporting for the finance committee at last night's meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, Arnold Flaten stated that the committee had considered the question of whether it was advisable to continue the present policy of having succession dues collected separately by the provinces or have the Dominion take over the succession dues prerogative. The report of the committee was, however, not yet ready for presentation.

Public Rest Room Planned

Old Civic Reading Room to be Converted, City Council Decided

The utilities committee was authorized at last night's meeting of the city council to proceed with obtaining estimates and calling of tenders for the converting of the old civic reading room into a public restroom. Mention was made of a figure of $2,400 in connection with the carrying out of the work. Sanitary Inspector C. R. Stonehouse will collaborate with the committee in connection with the matter.

Only One Case In County Court

Only one case came before Judge W. E. Fisher at the monthly session of the county court for the setting of cases. This was an appeal by William Goldbloom of Stewart against a conviction under the Game Act, for which he had been fined $50. T. W. Brown is acting for the Crown.

A claim by Robert Sharffe against Adam Collins for the sum of $140.20 was held over to the next court.

WEEKLY WARTIME NUTRITION HINTS

Martha Logan, Swift's famed home economist, whose weekly wartime cooking column is a regular feature of this page. Look for these valuable hints each Monday

by Martha Logan

S-t-r-e-t-c-h-i-n-g Meat.

Combine meat with other foods to make delicious meat flavour stretch

Meat tastes good and is one of the essential protective foods. It is the outstanding source of proteins and a good source of vitamins of the B complex, iron, phosphorous and copper—all nutritional essentials which are not stored in the body to any great extent and must be supplied regularly by the food we eat. On top of all this, meat is 96 to 98 per cent digestible.

In these days, then, when we must be content with a smaller share of meat than that to which we have, perhaps, been accustomed, it is very important to know how to make a little meat go a long way. Here are some simple general rules:

1. Plan meals ahead so that your share is well spread over the week.
2. Know your meat cuts . . . get to know the cuts you haven't bothered with before. Buy wisely.

Besides meat, be sure to serve each day tomatoes or citrus fruit or their juices, one other fruit, two vegetables, potatoes, cereal, bread and milk. Eggs, three or four a week.

3. Store meat safely. Remove wrapping from all fresh meat, wipe, cover loosely, store in cold place till cooking time . . . be careful to treat left-overs this way too.
4. Cook meat carefully. Don't overcook; use moderate, even temperatures to avoid shrinkage.
5. Don't waste meat. Save trimmings, save fats, save bones. Use left-overs for savoury hashes, croquettes, casseroles.
6. S-t-r-e-t-c-h the flavour. Combine with other foods, vegetables, bread crumbs, potatoes, rice, spaghetti, to make meat go further. Stuff chops, bread cutlets, etc., to make one pound look like two.
