OPEN HOUSE IS SUCCESS

An "Open House Night" held at the Wartime Housing Community Clubhouse on Wednesday was very successful. The event was sponsored by the Good Cheer Club. At one time during the evening over fifty visitors were in the house.

Arthur Tassie, community counsellor for Wartime Housing in Prince Rupert, spoke on the necessity for group work and the possibilities and benefits of club activities.

A tenant council is to be farmed, their first meeting to be held next Wednesday. The council will have the governing of group activities. The first consideration is to be a proposed Christmas tree program.

Much interest was shown in the proposed group work such as home photography, carpentering, wood turning, sewing classes, etc. These subjects and many others were discussed and many suggestions and ideas put forward.

Mr. Tassie stressed the point that the clubhouse was not confined only to the use of Wartime Housing tenants. It might be used by any group that has the interests of the community at heart. It was non-partison and non-sectarian.

All considered, Mr. Tassie felt that the event was very successful and a long step towards the successful integration of the newcomers to the city as all districts were well represented.

Most of Canned Salmon Overseas

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (?)— The Department of Fisheries said that by far the greater part of the 1943 salmon pack on the British Columbia coast would go to the United Kingdom and Allied nations although perhaps 200,000 cases may be available for the Canadian market.

This statement from Ottawa is in line with a similar one made by Hon. Ernest Bertrand, federal minister of fisheries, when visiting Prince Rupert recently.
