SHORT SPORT

The managerial difficulties of George Young, the "Catalini Kid," were making the front pages 19 years ago. He had just won the Catalina marathon swim and on February 5, 1927, his mother rushed from Toronto to San Francisco to confirm Henry O'Byrne as manager—with a 40 per cent cut.

Frenchy Belanger, Toronto flyweight, was stripped of his world title 18 years ago tonight by Frankie Genaro, in a 10-round bout at Toronto. Belanger previously had won a close decision over the New Yorker but the return bout was never in doubt after the halfway mark. Belanger has since slipped into obsucrity.

RAINMAKERS, SAVOY WIN HOOP GAMES

Bo-Me-Hi Rainmakers edged out Macey's 45-24 and Savoy defeated Co-op 34-27 in the intermediate hoop series in the armories last night, while in the junior schedule, Watts & Nickerson overcame Gyro by a score of 30-14. The Savoy—Co-op game went into overtime.

In the Savoy—Co-op game Savoys controlled the greater part of the play, although poor shooting held the score down. At half time the score was 12-5 for Savoy.

The second half showed a better class of play with Co-op starting the scoring with three quick baskets. Savoy then found the mark, and the battle seesawed in a thrilling final few minutes which closed with the score tied at 27-27.

In the overtime Joe Davis of Savoy broke loose and tossed the ball through the hoop three times while Co-op was held scoreless.

This was Co-op's sixth straight defeat and leaves them deep in the league's cellar. Gurvich of Co-op was high scorer with 14 points.

Bo-Me-Hi, in fine spirits, went forth to trounce Macey's by a 45-25 score in the final fixture of the evening. Bo-Me-Hi controlled the game and at half time they were leading by a score of 19-11.

RUP-REC FITNESS FIRST

WHATS DOING AT PRINCE RUPERT RECREATION COUNCIL GYMS

BY JIM NAST

STUDY GROUPS — With the opening of the Prince Rupert Civic Centre the Rup-Rec recreative gymnastic program will be increased to include classes for everyone interested in healthful sport and exercise. To those who are not interested in tripping the light fantastic in the recreational dancing class or in the more violent exertions of other gym sessions and who may not care to devote all their time to the mysteries of chess or to the acquiring of skills in leatherwork or plastics or model aircraft building—in short to some of the people all of the time, Rup-Rec will offer study groups as a subdued but equally pleasurable form of recreation. Study groups are the nucleus of adult education. Informed discussion is an absolute necessity in our democracy. Therefore this device is to predominate in the adult education program when it comes into active being at the Prince Rupert Civic Centre. A group can tackle problems too great for a single person to handle. Here good ideas will get a chance and impulsive notions and prejudices may receive friendly criticism. People become citizens, in fact as well as in name, when they meet to discuss public issues.

SKI NEWS—The Mt. Blain Ski Club is making definite headway in securing the Army buildings on Mt. Hays and is drawing up plans to turn these abandoned buildings into a modern ski village. Among the propects that are currently under discussion are the formation of a larger club to include all ski enthusiasts and the formation of a ski patrol to provide first aid to the injured. Rup-Rec will, in all probability, give assistance in the formation of a junior ski club, in ski instruction and dry skiing classes. The Mt. Blain Ski Club, which will soon chose a more appropriate name, is a young, enthusiastic and progressive organization and it should contribute greatly to the encouragement of a more active participation in both summer and winter sports among the younger set.
