Little Theatre To Stage Plays

Immediate objective of the newly formed Little Theatre group is the presentation of a series of one-act plays at the end of January. Although the Civic Centre audtorium is available for use by the group, an offer was accepted from Lieut. Eric Jones, R.C.N.V.R. for use of the Naval drill hall.

Rehearsal dates, which have not yet been set, will be arranged by a meeting of the executive this Friday.

PEACE PRICE PAID BY DEAD

Those Who Live Should Glorify God by Practising Christian Principles

"The price of maintaining the privileges of freedom was paid in only one way—in the lives and sufferings of those who fought and died. The least that those of us who are left today to enjoy and retain those benefits can do is to dedicate our lives to the glory of God and the practice in body and spirit of Christian principles."

So declared Rev. Fred Antrobus from his pulpit in First Baptist Church on Sunday morning when members of the Canadian Legion—old and young—and of the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion paraded for their annual Remembrance Day service. There were about 100 persons in the parade.

Mr. Antrobus deplored the situation of today in which the official fighting had ended but in which conflict continued among the nations because of suspicion and distrust.

Miss Kay Watson was organist at the service and the Junior Choir took part.

The chancel recess was centred with a large Union Jack with Canadian Legion standards on either flank.

The civic band led the procession from the Canadian Legion headquarters to the church.

While the fund being raised under the organization of T. Smith for the purpose of assisting Leonard Campbell, a local stricken child, who requires special institutional treatment, grows substantially, arrangements are being proceeded with to provide the treatment. The money is being placed in a trust fund for disbursement when the time comes. There is generous response to the appeal.
