IS WORRIED BY SECRETS

LONDON (AP) — Secrets that aren't secrets have the King's Stationery Office at its wits' end.

That what Sir Norman Scorgie, controller of the office, told the Commons committee of public accounts.

It came up on discussion of a £7,500,000 ($33,750,000) item for government expenditures on paper. Lt.-Col. Alan Dower, Conservative member for Penrith and Cockermouth, said paper salvage was cut down because so many documents were marked "Secret."

"They aren't in the least secret, but they have to be destroyed," he said. "They cannot be returned, although the actual information on them isn't worth twopence to anybody. Nine out of ten of the communications in the services towards the end of the war were marked 'Secret,' even if it was about a pair of boots."

"I agree with that personally to the full," said Sir Norman. "We are at our wits' ends to find enough boxes to carry secret documents, and one of the troubles is that it is so easy to say a thing is secret and so difficult to get anybody to take the responsibility of saying that it is no longer secret."

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent rubber gloves from rotting after they have become wet?

A. The only way is to dry them thoroughly, both inside and out, dust them with powder before putting them away.

Q. How can I sharpen knives?

A. Sharpen a dull knife by folding a piece of emery paper in the centre and drawing the knife blade rapidly back and forth several times.

Q. How can I present bananas from turning black?

A. Bananas should never be kept in the refrigerator. They will not only turn black but will flavor ever uncovered eatable.

TOO TALL FOR MINE

BRIGHTON, Eng., (AP)— When Dennis Powell, 30, was fined three pounds ($13.50) for leaving the coal mines without permission, he said: "I am not going back. I am six feet tall and was working in a place three feet high. It affected my health."

CONVENTION IN SMITHERS MARCH 14, 15

Organizational meeting of the Union of Northern B.C. Municipalities will be held at Smithers on March 14 and 15, City Council decided last night. Prince Rupert's delegate to the convention will be Mayor H. M. Daggett. City Clerk Thain will be alternative delegate.

Plan to organize a union of northern municipalities originated with the Prince Rupert city council last September and, since that time, communities between here and Prince George have expressed approval of the idea and have signified willingness to join.

The orgnization will give concerted voice to representations of northern municipalities presented to the Union of B.C. Municipalities and the provincial and federal governments. Similar organizations exist in other parts of the province.

Among prospecuve members are Prince George, Vanderhoof, Smithers, Terrace, Prince Rupert and Stewart. The village of Stewart however, will not be represented at the initial meeting.

It is presumed that the union will convene again this year, probably a short time before the annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, in order to co-ordinate briefs for presentation to the provincial conference.

New Sidewalk to Be Built Soon

Construction of the sidewalk on Sixth Avenue East from the Hays Creek Bridge to Immanuel Street is expected to get under way shortly. Survey work on the projected sidewalk, which is being largely financed by Wartime Housing Ltd., has begun, and city council last night approved a recommendation by the board of works for the purchase of two carloads of lumber for that purpose.
