Must Point Science Towards Human Good

CALCUTTA, Mar. 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, in a message read at the annual meeting of the Royal Asiatic Society, said: "It is the great tragedy of our time that the fruits of science should by monstrous perversion have been turned on so vast a scale to evil ends."

"But that is not the fault of science," the message added. "Science has given to this generation means of unlimited disaster and unlimited progress. There will remain the greater tasks of directing knowledge lastingly towards the purpose of peace and human good. In this task, the scientists of the world, united by the bond of single purpose, which overrides all bounds of race and language, can play a leading and inspired part."

SOUTHWOLD, England (AP) — This little Suffolk town was cut off except for one high-level road recently when a high spring tide sent the River Ouse over its banks and flooded the marshlands around the town.

Empire Visits For Sea Cadets

LONDON, Mar. 11 (AP) — After the war parties of sea cadets from Britain, the Dominions and Colonies will interchange so that they may share each others training and holiday camps and build up the closer contacts so vital to the future of the Commonwealth, Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey, chairman of the Navy League, said here.

One of the essentials to future world security was that the British military forces deemed necessary after the war should be administered under a common Empire defence policy, he added.

V. D. PROBLEM

of proper rehabilitation institutions were among features contributing to juvenile delinquency and venereal disease. Dr. Knipe also deplored the failure of parents to insist on religious instruction of their children and their attendance at church services. Abuse of alcohol was another factor which was often involved in the contracting of venereal disease. Seventy-five percent of patients when asked where they contracted venereal disease said: "I don't know where I got it. I was tight." Dr. Knipe congratulated the Junior Chamber of Commerce on its courage in taking up the venereal disease campaign and wished it success in the effort.

After his address, Dr. Knipe answered a number of questions. There was never one hundred percent cure of syphilis, Dr. Knipe admitted. What was termed a cure took about a year and a half ordinarily although there was a treatment which was said to effect a cure in twenty-six weeks. It might be said that there was only one way of getting syphilis. Cases of contracting the disease by indirect contact were very few. Of course, there was hereditary syphilis.

Eye ulcers were often but a manifestation of venereal disease elsewhere.

Lack of hospitalization facilities for venereal disease in Prince Rupert was mentioned by Dr. Knipe.

Natives were probably the worst carriers of venereal disease here, Dr. Knipe said. There would be little danger of spread of venereal disease in a public swimming pool for the water would be chlorinated. Nevertheless, Norton Youngs said, there would be no Indians allowed in the swimming pool at Prince Rupert if he had anything to do with it.

Sixty - five percent of the people who had syphilis did not know it.

"We know how to control venereal disease," said the doctor, "but, unfortunately, we have not got around to it."

Dr. Knipe's address was followed by the showing of interesting moving pictures.
