GOOD BASEBALL SEASON PLANNED

Two or Three Team League Is in Prospect

Prince Rupert baseball association is determined that the teams which form the city league this year will be as well balanced as possible in order to give the fans the best brand of baseball available. They are reserving the right to switch players to whatever team they see fit in order to equalize their strength in the interests of competition.

So far, no teams have made formal entry but it is understood that the Moose Lodge and Savoy Hotel will again have teams in the league.

President Art Nickerson and other league officials doubt that they will be able to drum up more than the usual three-team league, but they feel that, if those three are properly adjusted as to player strength, the season should be a success.

The association executive hopes that the first games of the season will get under way on May 24.

In the interval, they are seeking some organization to sponsor a third team to replace last year's Watts & Nickerson squad which will not be in action this summer.

"If we don't have a good season this year, it won't be because we have not a good place to play," Mr. Nickerson said this morning. "The grounds have been put in shape and the bleachers and backstop put in good condition. All we need now is enough players and supporters to put the thing over."

BIG SISTERS, MILLER BAY, WIN SWEEPS

Two clean sweep victories featured this week's play in the Ladies' Bowling League, Big Sisters won over Comets and Miller Bay over Watts & Nickerson. Other wins were by the two games to one route. High single scorer was Ida Ramsay of Rosa Lee's with 820 and high average was B. Vuckovich of Lucky Strikes with 218 from her three-game total of 655.

McFadden Is Best Rookie

Winer of Calder Trophy In N. H. L.

MONTREAL, (— Jimmy McFadden, chunky 27-year-old centre of Detroit Red Wings, is the 1947-48 Calder Trophy winner as National Hockey League rookie of the year.

McFadden's selection, announced by the National Hockey League, was almost unanimous among 18 sports-writer selectors. He polled 50 of 94 possible points and only one selector did not place him. He was first choice of 16 writers.

For his achievement, McFadden will receive $1,000 from the N.H.L.

The Calder Trophy, in memory of the late Frank Calder who served as N.H.L. president from 1917 until his death in 1943, is awarded annually to "the player selected as the most proficient in his first year of competition in the National Hockey League."

Of the 34 players eligible, only six were considered by the hockey writers—three writers from each of the six N.H.L. cities. Points were awarded on a basis of three for a first choice, two for a second and one for a third.

Closest to McFadden's 50 points was Pete Babando, left winger of Boston Bruins, with 22. Red Kelly, rugged defenceman teammate of McFadden, was third with 14 points.

Behind came Don Raleigh, New York Ranger centre, eight points; Ed Sandford, Boston Bruins, also eight points, and defenceman Bill Barilko of Toronto Maple Leafs, four points.

McFadden, at 27, is old as rookies go. He weighs 180 pounds and is five feet [illegible] inches tall.

He finished the [illegible] schedule season—on wh[illegible] choice is based—in [illegible] place among the N.H.L. scorers, with 24 goals [illegible] assists for a total of 48. In the Stanley Cup p[illegible] won by Toronto Maple [illegible]
