esentation of committee re- s and consideration of reso- ns for the Easter conven- of the B.C. Teachers' Fed- on in Vancouver were the n topics of business dealt at the monthly meeting of Prince Rupert Teachers' As- tion held Tuesday night in the Civic Centre. J. S. Wilson, president, was in the chair.

After hearing a report by T. G. Bateman on group insurance, the meeting decided to do nothing further about this matter for the present.

A committee, consisting of R. D. Cleland, S. A. Cheeseman and Miss Spence, was appointed to consider the efficiency and fairness of principals' rating scales and to report their findings to the next meeting.

R. G. Moore presented a progress report on behalf of the elementary school planning committee. A. M. Hurst gave a similar report on behalf of the High School planning committee and intimated that a full report with plans and specifications would be presented to the next meeting.

Mr. Hurst, in the capacity of Civic Centre Association representative, mentioned that the teachers had been honored by his election to the executive of the Civic Centre.

Various resolutions considered and approved included:

Request for the abolition of the means test for senior citizens applying for pensions.

Condemnation of the over-emphasis that is at present being given to work books in primary grades, frequently to the detriment of teaching.

Request for greater provision for appreciation of athletic values in fine arts courses.

Request that the Industrial Arts Department institute a course in home mechanics for girls.

Mrs. J. T. Harvey reported that the Arts and Crafts Hobby Show would be held towards the end of April. She asked the teachers to support this exhibit and was reassured that the teachers were definitely interested.

REVEAL SECRET NAZI-RUSSIAN PACT—The U.S. state department in Washington has just made public captured Nazi documents which reveal that the Soviet government, during the years 1939 through 1941, was intent on grabbing as much land as it possibly could. Above, German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, left, and Premier Stalin look on in Mascow as Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov signs a secret treaty, dated August 23, 1939. It assured Russia of the Baltic States, Finland, and the partition of Poland. Below are the signatures of Molotov and Ribbentrop as they appear on the original document, now in state department archives.

H. M. Renwick, government inspector, and E. F. Wilks, federal Department of Public Works steamships supervisor, arrived in the city Wednesday on the Prince Rupert. Mr. Renwick will remain in the city a week inspecting the snag boat Essington and the lighthouse tender Alberni. Mr. Wilks plans to return south tonight.

Surplus Frigates and Destroyer Sold For Scrap

MONTREAL—Transactions recorded by the Ships Direct Sales Division of War Assets Corporation covered a wide range from dinghies to a destroyer and included 14 Frigates formally in commission for the Royal Canadian Navy. Destroyer and Frigates were sold for breaking up and the smelter. The frigates were bought by Wagner, Stein and Greene Co. of Vancouver, who also purchased for scrapping the former minesweeper Border Cities, a gate vessel, a harbor boat, scows and small craft.

The frigates sold on the West Coast were former H.M.C.S. Cape Breton, Coaticooke, Dunver, Eastview, Kokanee, La Salle, Longueuil, Matone, Prince Rupert, Runneymede, Waskesieu, Grou, Charlottetown and Levis.

The destroyer, H.M.C.S. Qu'Appelle, was sold as scrap to German & Milne, Montreal. The same firm purchased the tug Luceville.

The motor vessel General Cotton was sold to The British Columbia Water Transport Co. Ltd., of Vancouver. Another substantial sale on the Pacific Coast was that of the motor vessel Gryme to F. Millerd & Co., of Vancouver.

A former refuelling launch used by the Royal Canadian Air Force purchased by Bird's Eye Cove Shipyard at Maple Bay, B.C., carries the unnautical name of "Butterball."

Sales of scows, lifeboats, dinghies, marine engines and outboard motors added to the foregoing made the total for December, 1947, $223,750, and brought to $115,715,000 the aggregate of ships sales by War Assets Corporation.

Man-Made River To Protect Fens

LONDON (AP)—A big new flood prevention scheme for the Fens was initiated in Britain recently. It is designed to protect this fertile and low-lying agricultural area in eastern England from a recurrence of the severe inundations suffered last year.

It is the biggest plan of its kind to be undertaken in the Fens since they were first scientifically drained 300 years ago. When it is completed about seven years from now a new river 31 miles long will have been created—at an estimated cost of $26,000,000—to carry spring rains into the North Sea

Nurse Beat Indian Child—Is Disciplined

JUNEAU—A report to the effect that a nurse at the Alaska Native Service tuberculosis sanitarium at Alice Island, Sitka, disciplined a tuberculosis Indian child by beating the boy with a length of rubber hose was confirmed recently. The incident was told of in a letter and the nurse was severely reprimanded. The boy, William Gardener, was said to be difficult to handle and the nurse lost her temper.
