MUSEUM—briefs

—By JOCELYN BOLTON—

We have had visitors from quite a few places during the week.

David Jonsson from Northville Alberta; Donald Watson from Prince George, Marilyn Van Alstyne from Sarnia, Ont., Bernie Brantler, Petrolia, Ont., a young sailor from the HMCS Jonquiere Mrs. R. M. Boyd, Gravenhurst Ont., and numerous visitors from Terrace, all paid us a visit.

We were glad to welcome Mr and Mrs. R. Griesel and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Miller of Prince Rupert, who were interested in our exhibits.

We also had a number of children during the week and quite a few asked many questions which shows they are taking an interest.

The annual meeting of the Museum Board is tonight and Dr. R. G. Large will be showing his films of the Coast Native which should prove very interesting.

We hope that everyone holding a membership card will attend this annual meeting at 8 p.m. at the Civic Centre.

The annual meeting of the Tourist Bureau was held last Monday when election of new officers for 1955 took place. Neil Moore retiring chairman screened his movies of the Yukon for us and they proved very interesting.

It was felt that the best advertisement for tourists is courtesy and information. When travellers return home, what they say about their reception and treatment will do more to determine how many tourists we get than all the advertising that money can buy. Clerks in hotels stores, waitresses in restaurants attendants at filling stations taxi and bus drivers all these are our representatives. Boys and girls—often asked by visitors to direct them to some spot of interest—are in the picture too. Each region should put the accent on its native dishes. British Columbia its fruit, crabs and salmon. These specialties should be worked over, practised on perfected, and served with a flourish.

BEAUTY AND THE FEAST! This lovely young lady, tucking into a feast of pancakes 'n syrup, is just practising for tomorrow's Shrove Tuesday, also known as pancake day.

"Easy-as-Winking" Recipes Simplify Pancake Production

Shrove Tuesday (Pancake Day) is tomorrow and there's no excuse nowadays for Mother not to treat everyone to stacks of pancakes fresh from the griddle, because the modern pancake ready-mix does away with all the bother of making a special batter.

Here's an "easy-as-winking" basic recipe that makes 14 to 16 medium pancakes:

2 cups ready-mix for pancakes
2 cups milk (or water)

Just add milk or water to the unsifted pancake ready-mix all at once and stir lightly. Somewhat lumpy batter makes light fluffy pancakes. Pour ¼ cup of batter for each pancake on a hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once.

For extra rich pancakes add two tablespoons melted butter, fat or oil and one beaten egg to pancake batter.

For thinner pancakes use more milk or water.

For delicious buckwheat cakes use two cups buckwheat ready-mix and 2¼ cups milk, following above directions.

Ham Pancakes or Buckwheats

Fold 1 cup finely diced cooked ham into pancake or buckwheat batter and bake in the usual way.

Cheese Pancakes or Buckwheats

Fold ½ cup grated cheese into pancake or buckwheat batter and bake in the usual way.

Bacon Strip Pancakes

Cut bacon strips in half and pan-fry until crisp. Drain well on absorbent paper. Prepare pancake batter. For each pancake place 2 half strips of bacon on hot, lightly greased griddle and pour ¼ cup of batter over bacon. Bake.

Pancake Sausage Roll-Ups

Roll each baked pancake around a pan-fried pork sausage link. Serve with warm applesauce.

Chicken Roll-Ups

Spread each baked pancake with chopped, cooked chicken, roll up. Serve with hot cranberry sauce.
