City Resident Has Skeleton In Closet

Somewhere in Prince Rupert someone has a skelton in their closet . . . the legless skelton of a woman known affectionately to the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce as "Mrs. Bones."

"Mrs. Bones," whose home during the winter was the Aero Club, was missing when Jaycee regional director for the north coast Skeena district, J. S. Burns, went to collect her preparatory to her attending the Junior Chamber regional convention in Prince George next week.

The skelton was presented to the local Jaycees by former Prince Rupert doctor, Dr. Anthony Ralling.

Union, Laundry Start Wage Talks

Negotiations between Local 336 of the Laundry Workers International Union and Ideal Cleaners and Laundry Ltd. will get underway tonight, it was reported this morning.

The present two-year contract, covering the 22 union employees at the Ideal plant, expires July 16.

Peter J. Lester will assist the union with its negotiations while Hugo Kraupner, W. H. Fudger and J. E. Barrie will represent the company.

Regal Bookie Attends Rites For Jockey

LONDON (AP)—The sport of kings was well represented when Fred Winter, Britain's champion steeplechase jockey, was married to Diana Pearson, member of a Derbyshire hunting family.

One of the 500 guests was Prince Ras Monolulu, the tall tipster in his early 70s who is a landmark at British tracks. Monolulu favors an Indian-style feathered headdress.

Winter's brother-in-law, Doug Smith, furnished the bridesmaid and a page—his children. Then Smith, who is champion jockey on the flat, left the reception to ride three winners at a night meeting at Alexandra Park, North London.

Winter received a telegram saying: "May your summers be long and your Winters be fine, may your sons be short and weigh seven stone nine."

Seven stone nine is 107 pounds, an ideal weight for a jockey.

Regier Named CCF Candidate

COQUITLAM, B.C. (CP)—Erhart Regier, CCF member of parliament for Burnaby-Coquitlam since 1953, was nominated at a convention here Saturday to contest the seat in the next federal election.

Mr. Regier told delegates that surveys indicated only eight per cent of the Canadian people favor federal government proposals on the trans-Canada natural gas pipeline. He said Canadian gas needs should be met first and prices charged in the United States should not be lower than those charged in this country.

Robert Strachan, provincial CCF leader, said revisions to the B.C. labor act will subdue the trade union movement.

NO DAMAGE

WINNIFRED, Alta. (AP)—Marl Hodgson, district farmer, lost his wallet while working on the land last summer. Doing his spring seeding, he has just turned it up, contents still in good condition.

GROWING SYSTEM

VICTORIA (AP)— The British Columbia government is considering setting up a separate ministry of recreation and conservation. Such a department would administer the rapidly growing parks system and help the forestry service and education departments.
