In The Centre

By RUSTY

The teen-age members are in for a treat this Friday evening, as the members of various Western Swing groups are coming to the centre at 8:30 for a swing session in the Gymnasium. Abe Doell, of the Rocky Mountain Boys, is making the arrangements with the various musicians for the evening. This Western Jam Session is the second group to volunteer to perform at Teen Age Night in the centre. They plan several novelty numbers during the evening. As the session is in the Gym, the teens will be asked to remove their shoes and will be able to dance or just sit and listen to the Western version of a jam session. Remember, teen members, Friday evening 8:30 in the gym!

Bob Hill, president of the Little Theatre has asked me to encourage all members and non-members and would like to be members, of the theatrical group to come to the meeting Tuesday, at 8 p.m., to organize the drama work shop. There are several important items on the agenda, as preparations are being made for the work shop to be held by Sidney Risk on February 27 to March 15. There will be a play reading of the play chosen to be produced for the work shop. The meeting will be held in the Ladies Lounge and please, interested parties, do come!—I'm sure you'll all benefit from the advice of an expert.

The Ladies of the Royal Purple are holding a tea in the centre, Wednesday from 2:30 to 5 p.m. The tea with a Valentine theme is being co-convened by Mrs. Louis Gastaldini and Mrs. A. S. Hamilton. There will be plenty of home-cookin' on the sale table and sandwiches and cakes for tea. A short stage show by Mike Colussi and his accordion band will be presented after the children are dismissed from school. Mothers of the Tiny Tots, this sounds like an oasis with a door raffle and gaily flower decked tea tables thrown in to add to your pleasure. I'm sure you'll emerge completely refreshed and so will junior.

Square dancing will be in full swing at 8 p.m. Thursday. It would be fun to have five squares this week again, as we did last week.

Be seeing you in the Centre.

SLIGHT DECLINE RECORDED ON U.S. BUSINESS FRONT

NEW YORK (AP) — The greatest business boom in United States history slackened its pace a bit last week — although most lines still showed thumping gains over year-ago levels.

Auto manufacturers announced new cutbacks; rail freight loadings and coal production eased off. The stock market went into a mild decline. Some congressmen demanded easier mortgage terms to reverse what they called a sharp downturn in home construction.

Partially offsetting these declines was a burst of activity in the petroleum, chemical, paper and furniture industries. Oil companies smashed all records for production and refining of crude oil. Retail trade was still on the upbeat: department store sales were five per cent greater than a year ago although here, too, the trend was up in some spots and down in others.

Adding it all up, you got this picture: the economy, pushed to the limit in 1955, is taking time out to consolidate its gains before attempting another forward surge.
