Ewart Awarded Life Membership In Local 559

J. C. Ewart, recently appointed city building inspector, licence inspector and assistant to the assessor was made a life member and honorary president of Local 559 of the International Association of Fire Fighters, at a special meeting of the local last night.

The move was made when the 10-man union met to elect a slate of officers to carry on until the next general meeting.

In their resolution bestowing life membership on Mr. Ewart, the firemen extended their appreciation for the "services he has performed on behalf of the local during his many years as a union member and the long period he has served as president of the local."

A presentation of an International Union gold pin will be made to the immediate past-president, who joined the city fire department in 1941. Arrangements for the presentation are being made by a committee of V. K. Wagar and Ted Jerstad.

J. C. Franks, vice-president of the local will take over president's duties. V. K. Wagar was elected vice-president. Other local officers are J. S. Furness, secretary-treasurer and Ted Jerstad, recording secretary.

Chocolate Cake With Honey Stays Fresh to Last Slice

Chocolate cake is one of those staples that you simply must have on hand, but which seems to vanish the day after you put it on the shelf. And it's no wonder for chocolate cake rates as a number one dessert.

This suggestion is no remedy for holding the cake. Perhaps it might even make the problem more acute. Try honey in your chocolate cake recipe; the results are so good the cake becomes a household favorite.

Honey wins favor with the homemaker because it has the unique ability to hold moisture within baked goods and keep them fresh longer. So that extra slice or two of cake that is left over does not need to become crumbly. If you bake the cake with honey it will stay just as fresh for several days as it was two hours after it came out of the oven.

A honey cake is also a smooth textured one. Honey and chocolate flavors blend together with great compatibility, and the cake seems richer than it really is.

Here's the rule for the Honey Chocolate Cake.

3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
2/3 cup honey
1¾ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon soda
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or other shortening
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs, unbeaten
2/3 cup water

Blend chocolate and honey; cool to lukewarm. Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add chocolate-honey mixture and vanilla. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add flour, alternately with water, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased 8 inch layer pans in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Spread with Honey Icing.

Honey Icing

Heat 1 cup honey to 238° F. or until it shows a thread when a little is dropped from a spoon. Pour slowly into 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten. Continue beating until icing is fluffy and will hold its shape.

U.S. Visitors Entertained At Tea by Mrs. J. G. Lewis

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lewis on Fourth Avenue West was a gracious setting of floral displays yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Lewis entertained United States visitors, Mrs. P. L. Lotspeich and Mrs. J. L. Stovall of Fernandina Beach, Florida and Mrs. Clarence Thomson of Seattle.

Assisting the hostess with afternoon tea were Mrs. T. M. Hughes, daughter of Mrs. Lotspeich and sister of Mrs. Stovall; Mrs. William Bond, sister of Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. J. D. McRae.

Mrs. M. P. McCaffery, mother of Mrs. Thomson, presided at the pouring table, delightfully centred with a bowl of mixed summer flowers.

Canadian Association of Consumers Issues Fur Buying Guide for Summer

OTTAWA (CP)—Hot weather and fur sales appear to go hand-in-hand in August.

But beware of the "bargain" slogan when shopping for furs, says the Canadian Association of Consumers in its summer bulletin.

"Be suspicious of drastically-reduced prices," says the watchdog of the women shopper. "Real bargains in furs are rare because of the cost of skins and workmanship."

However, if the yen for furs overcomes the swelter of summer sun, the CAC has some suggestions for women shopping for authentic or synthetic furs, or fur-trimmed garments.

Starting with the realization that a fur coat constitutes a major part of any clothing budget, the CAC suggests that a wise choice considers the suitability to purpose—whether the garment is for evening, every-day or occasional wear—as well as style, serviceability and price.

Now, for the actual hunt. By law, all fur garments must be labelled with the true name of the animal whose pelt is used, even if a trade name is used as well.

A smooth, lustrous appearance, uniform color and texture, pliable skins and thick, glossy, long guardhairs indicate good quality in a wild animal fur, says the CAC. In furs from hooved animals, lamb, for instance, tight curls or natural patterns are quality indications.

On the other hand, poor quality is indicated by dull, lifeless color; thin, uneven fur, brittle or split hairs and stiff, "rattling" skins.

GET GOOD FIT

The CAC suggests that the buyer check for a generous fit around the shoulders and arms and a good overlap in the front, as well as for a strong, durable lining which will support the weight of the coat.

In synthetic furs—which have been developed to combine style with warmth and light weight, as well as a lower cost—the consumer organization's main suggestion is to have these garments carefully cleaned. These fur-like fabrics should never be put in contact with heat or steam.

Fur-lined garments should be checked to make sure the fur won't shed onto the dress worn beneath it. And in both fur-lined or trimmed garments, it is often worthwhile to buy garments which have detachable furs for cleaning purposes.

Dr. R. B. Smith Joins Clinic

A new physician began his association with the Large Clinic, 219 Second Avenue West, Wednesday.

He is Dr. Robert B. Smith, BA, MD.

Dr. Smith was born at Rocky Mountain House, Alberta, and was educated at Victoria College and the University of British Columbia, interning at Vancouver General hospital. His home is at Vernon.

His wife, Margaret, also of Vernon, is a graduate nurse. Mrs. Smith took her training at St. Paul's hospital, Vancouver, and was working in a cancer clinic prior to coming here.

Dr. Smith replaces Dr. L. P. Charbonneau, who left August 4 to take a three-year advanced course at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Centre, New York.
