Researchers for a British corporation have strong evidence to suport this revelation, despite a chapter of a detailed study entitled. "Psychology and the Motorist" — a work prepared by / two professors; Herbert A. Toops, 4 Ohio State University, and S A Edson Haven, Wayne University _ in which the professors cas-' 4 tigated women drivers generally and made fleeting derogatory reference to their hats.

"If they (women dryers) lose their hats while driving, they should come to a gradual stop and park off the highway for a while as they become upset" should come to a gradual stop , while as they become upset."

A public service division found that women drivers usually do leave their hats at home — and wore something sensible . . a | babushka, beret, scarf . . . some- | thing neat, comfortable, tidy. Men drivers on the other hand (sports car drivers excepted) often crunch their domes into an eight-inch-high, uncomfortable fedora.

Research shows that three out of five men drivers knock their hats off —or twist them askew! - when they get into the car to drive. A leading neurologist at the famed Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, said: "We have observed that women drivers wear hats which are more sensible. They are usually light, loose around the skull and physiologically more healthy. "Most men wear hats too small | at the band. They buy them that way to keep them on in a wind. This constriction around the top of their heads restricts circulation of the minor capillaries at the temple, cutting off circulation around the eyes. This can cause drowsiness dangerous to a driver." So there.

There are over 500,000 / square miles of muskeg in Canada, and the north cannot be developed until this problem has been faced. Foremost among prominent Canadians who have been giving this subject serious thought is Dr. Norman William Radforth, chairman of the Faculty for Organic and Associated Terrain Studies at McMaster University, chairman of the Biology Department of the same university, and chairman of the Muskeg Committee of the Associated Committees for Soil and Snow Mechanics.

Dr. Radforth came to the city recently and recorded some programs with Jack Martin, manager of the Northwest Construction Company and chairman of the sites and ground commission for the proposed golf course

During the research done by Dr. Radforth and others, it has been learned that muskeg can be used for farming, gardening, pasturing cattle, and building roads and railroads.

On tonight's program, Dr. Radforth and Mr. Martin will discuss the nature of muskeg and the first step in the process of using it productively, drain-• Prince Rupert Shoreworkers age.

He said that this program has depend on local residents for live reviews, as recording facilities are located here.

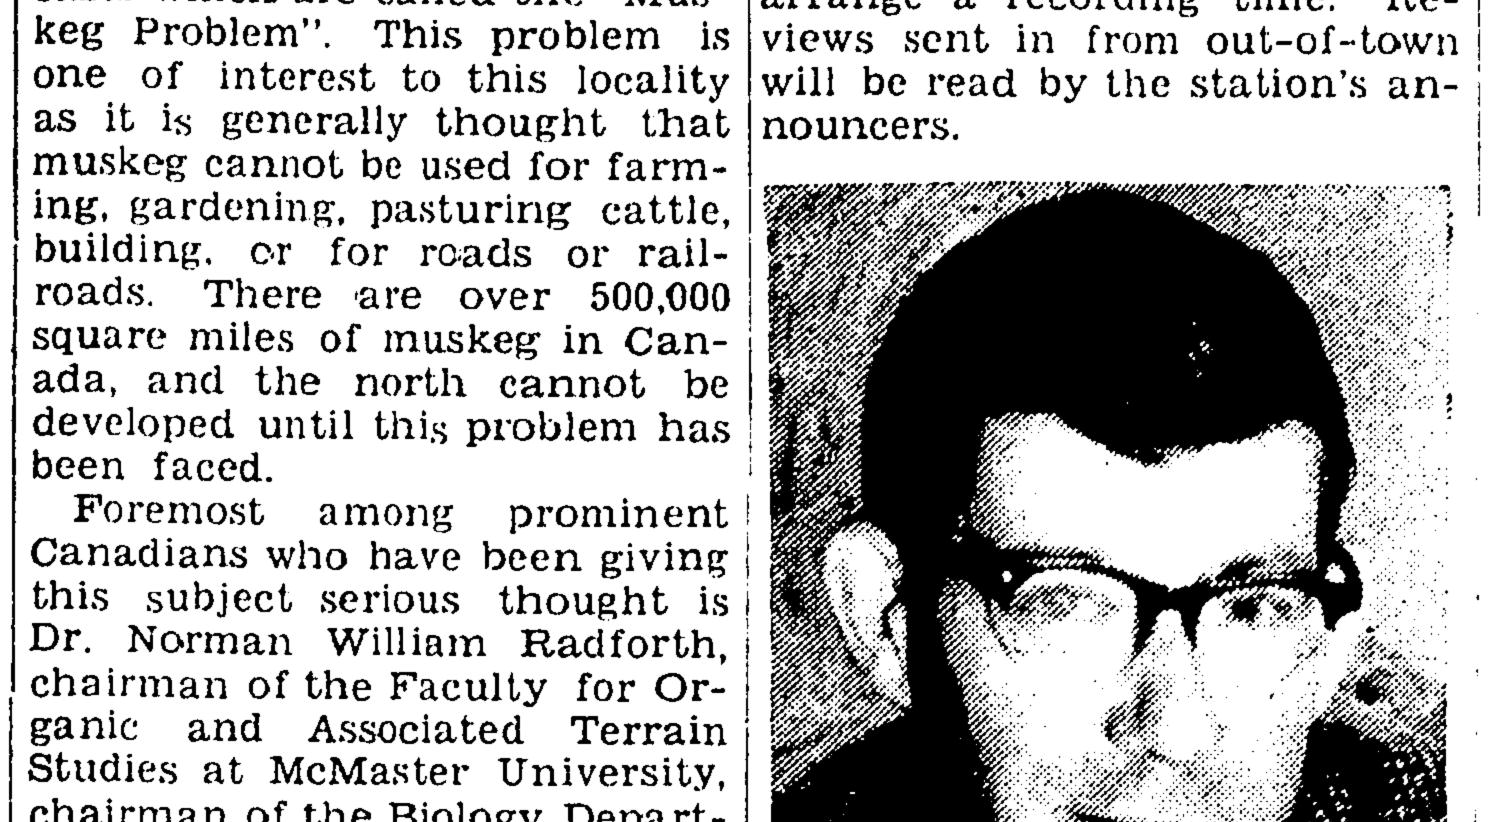

However, if anyone in Terrace, Kitimat, Hazelton, Smithers, Telkwa, Houston or Burns Lake, or in any town from Prince Rupert along Highway 16 to Vanderhoof, where the Seven Sisters network is heard, wishes to share a book, he could write a review and send it to CFPR.

The book concerned should be available at the writer's local Hocal library, or some library in the Seven Sisters area, the reviews should be typed doublespaced, on one side of the paper only, and should be under six minutes in length. Mr. Newton
