New Flower Shop Brightens Downtown Shopping District

Another step in moderning Prince Rupert's downtown business section will be taken tomorrow when the Mitchell Flower and Gift Shop is open to the public.

The store is operated by well-known Prince Rupert couple Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell.

Completely modern in design and decor, the new flower and gift shop is a pleasing combination of glass, curves and the latest in up-to-date furnishings.

Behind the glass double-doors and wide plate-glass frontage the roomy well-lighted salon and display section is encompassed in peg-board walls of chartreuse. A large window display area on a built up dais curves into the room provides plenty of space for large flower exhibits.

Several modern shelving fixtures will show off a line of selected gifts and full lines of greetings cards will also be on display.

All round the store, for holding special types of gifts is a balcony shelf trimmed in brown.

Another modern feature is the florist refrigerator box for special blooms. Finished in natural fir the refrigeration unit matches the natural finish of the curved counter.

Special writing desks will be available for purchasers who wish to sign greeting cards or cards accompanying flowers and gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell said today that their endeavor is "one way of showing our desire to realize a bright and cheerful future for our city."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell have lived in this city all their lives and have taken an active part in community affairs.

For 12 years, Mr. Mitchell was commanding officer of the Prince Rupert Sea Cadet Corps and also guardian of the Job's Daughters Bethel. Both he and Mrs. Mitchell were intrumental in arranging tours for the Job's Daughters Drill team which won for Prince Rupert Canadian and international publicity.

Prior to launching their new venture Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell attended a florist's course in Chicago, the schooling being arranged by Howard Frizzell, Mrs. Mitchell's brother.

Famous Flying Enterprise Carried Secret Atomic Metal

LONDON (AP)—The News Chronicle says the freighter Flying Enterprise, whose 1951 sinking added a new chapter to the sagas of the seas, carried a secret cargo of rare metal vital to American atomic research.

"In six small steel boxes," the story reports, "she was carrying almost all the world supply of pure zirconium — a silvery, steel-strong miracle metal for making atomic power plants."

The account says the boxes were recovered by the Italian crew which salvaged much of the cargo in 1953 from the sunken wreck off Falmouth harbor.

"Now that the United States and other countries are making large quantities of the metal, an American atomic scientist has been allowed to let British colleagues know the story," the paper says, without identifying the scientist.

The News Chronicle says it was found in 1951 "not only that zirconium could withstand very high temperature and did not corrode, but also it did not absorb neutrons."

OBTAINED IN BRAZIL

"These are atomic particles which keep the chain reaction going in atomic piles.

"There was no zirconium ore in the United States, so the Flying Enterprise went to Brazil to pick up a consignment of ore and take it to Germany—the only country with the chemical engineering plant to reduce the ore to pure metal.

"It was on the return journey that the ship foundered."

The story says the secret of the six steel boxes was so well kept that even Capt. Kurt Carlsen, who stuck heroically with his ship until it was sinking under him, did not know their contents.

SHORT KISS, LONG TERM

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—A young door-to-door magazine salesman was given a 90-day jail sentence this week for stealing a kiss from a housewife. The woman objected when Roy Rich, 25, added a light buss on the cheek to his sales pitch. She called police, and Rich was arrested a few doors away.
