Displays and discussions of art in the Junior and Intermediate grades were presented by O. K. Bennett and Mrs. Gillian Hodges of Skeena High School, Terrace.

Other discussion groups considered classroom management, teaching standards and techniques in the teaching of mathematics and social studies. These sessions were conducted by Miss M. Cottingham, Secretary-treasurer of the B.C.T.F. and teacher of Social Studies at John Oliver High School, Vancouver, Mrs. LaBelle, Skeena High School and Maxwell Tracy, vice-principal of King Edward Elementary School, Prince Rupert.

Problems of the rural school were discussed by H. D. Abbott, Inspector of Schools for School District 53, Terrace.

A. D. Jones, Inspector for School District 52, Prince Rupert, analyzed reading problems in the primary school.

Captain Grace Durkett, Salvation Army, conducted a model reading lesson with her mixed group of grades 1 to 8 from Kitselas, and a music class was carried out by Mrs. M. Plant of Terrace.

Discipline and allied problems was the subject of a discussion headed by Stan Evans, BCTF, and future teachers' clubs were discussed by Inspector Jones and Frank Sutton, vice-principal of Booth Memorial High School, Prince Rupert.

At a dinner in the Skeena High School auditorium Friday evening Dr. H. V. Warren, professor of geology at the University of British Columbia, was guest speaker. The banquet was followed by a dance in the Civic Centre at which the teachers were the guests of the Terrace Kinsmen.

Saturday morning the teachers attended a general meeting of the Federation and saw intra-school sports competition among students and teams of Terrace High School.

Brownie Pack Stages Tea

The Third Prince Rupert Brownie Pack held a tea at the Annunciation School hall Sat-Saturday afternoon.

Receiving the guests were Brown Owl Mrs. Nick Mazzone, and Captain of the First Prince Rupert Guide Company, Mrs. W. L. Hitchcock. Tawny Owls Mrs. Carl Smith and Mrs. George Brown assisted in the kitchen.

Mrs. Alec Brebner, Mrs. Phil Lyons, Mrs. Archie Bowen and Mrs. Howard Roos poured and the Brownies were in charge of serving the refreshments and the candy booth.

The pouring table was adorned with a beautiful lace tablecloth and centred with a Brownie piece made by Mrs. Lionel Holtby, which depicted an Autumn Brownie scene with the traditional flowered arch through which pixies, elves and fairies pass to Brownie Island. This was arranged by Brown Owl Mrs. K. H. Tucker and Tawny Owl Mrs. George Cook, of the First Prince Rupert Brownie Pack.

We left Quesnel early as we had a long drive ahead if we wanted to make Kamloops by dinner time and were cheered by the fact that ten miles out of Williams Lake we would hit the black top. We made pretty good time to Williams Lake, stopping en route to say hello to Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Roberts at Soda Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts lived in Prince Rupert for quite a number of years and are now operating a small store with garage facilities. They seemed very glad to see us and we were pleased to see that they were doing well. We had coffee at Williams Lake, which is a cattle town as you know, and everyone seemed very busy, rushing around. The weather was lovely and we headed for Clinton, where we stopped for a bite of lunch, while there we tried to see the Museum, which is in a small garage, but the lady who takes care of it was at work and the place locked up.

An elderly lady talked to us and told us she knew Prince Rupert, having lived on the Queen Charlotte Islands at one time, she seemed so pleased to meet us. We then made tracks for Kamloops.

At Cache Creek we turned off to Kamloops and wound around miles of good road. The countryside is full of towering hills, all colors and covered with sage brush. You can smell the sagebrush as you travel along. When the sun was starting to set a most glorious rainbow appeared and made everything look very queer. It gave one an eerie feeling, although it was beautiful to see.

At Kamloops, an attractive little city, we had the car serviced, and we registered at the "Plaza" Hotel. We were lucky to get their last double room and bath, which was very palatial and we enjoyed the comfort.

In the dining room, the food was excellent and both of us chose fresh salmon steak. We were amazed to get it in Kamloops because we hardly ever get it here—do we?

My companion, Mrs. N. A. Beketov then phonded an old friend, Mrs. Jack Oldham, whose husband taught school at the High School in Prince Rupert for about two years. So it was like old home week and another phase of our trip was completed.

In our next week column we will arrive in Vancouver.

Last week Miss Magee, art teacher at Booth Memorial High School, brought some of her class to see the Museum. They were very charming students and we enjoyed having them visit us. Hope they will come again soon.

Staff Officer Appointed To Sea Duty

Lieutenant Commander J. O. Pearson, RCN, who for the past two and a half years has been staff officer of HMCS Chatham in Prince Rupert will be leaving here Thursday, following his appointment as commanding officer of HMCS Cedarwood, navy sources in Prince Rupert said today.

The reserve unit's staff officer will be relieved December 2, by Lt. C. N. Seegar, RCN. Lt. Seegar has been serving on a continuous naval duty engagement since 1950. His last appointment was as executive officer of the Sault Ste. Marie, a fleet sweeper escort, based in Esquimalt.

The Cedarwood, also based at Esquimalt, is an experimental anti-submarine vessel attached for duty to the Pacific Naval Laboratory.

Lt. Seegar, whose home is in Toronto, was born in Wimbourne, England.

THEATRE GROUP TO SEE MAKE-UP DEMONSTRATION

Techniques in stage make-up will be demonstrated tomorrow night before the general business meeting of the Prince Rupert Little Theatre association to be held in the Ladies Lounge of the Civic Centre.

Giving finer points in make-up she learned at UBC's school of dramatic art this summer will be Julie Prockter while Verna Faught will give practical demonstrations on live models. Mrs. Faught has been in charge of the Little Theatre's make-up department for the past six months.

At the business session plans for the group's next stage production will be discussed.

A Little Theatre spokesman said today that the theatrical group is growing steadily and that anyone interested in amateur theatricals will be welcomed at tomorrow night's meeting.

St. Andrew's WA Holds Successful Tea, Bazaar

A parcel post stall, fish pond, novelties, plants, marmalades, gay aprons and beautifully knitted sweaters were some of the varied attractions and articles displayed at a pre-Christmas tea and bazaar, held in St. Andrew's Cathedral hall, Saturday afternoon. The successful bazaar was sponsored by the Evening Branch of the St. Andrew's Cathedral Women's Auxiliary.

The gaily-decorated hall fashioned with cedar boughs and huge red bows provided the Yuletide touch.

The pouring table was covered with a lace tablecloth centred with mauve and yellow chrysanthemums flanked with green taper candles.

Mrs. A. L. Holtby long-time member of the congregation, officially opened the affair. She was introduced by Mrs. A. G. Bartlett, president of the Evening Branch. Little Miss Ruth Rivett then presented Mrs. Holtby with a corsage.

Pourers were Mrs. T. Sharpe, Mrs. Fred Mitchell, Mrs. H. G. Watts and Mrs. Basil Prockter. The tea room was convened by Mrs. E. Lindseth and assisted by Mrs. Ray Jones, Mrs. Joe Scott, Mrs. J. Bowman and Mrs. A. E. Boyle. Serviters were Mrs. F. M. Longair, Mrs. A. Rivett, Mrs. Neil McDonald, Mrs. R. E. Gladding, Mrs. W. H. Kougham and Misses Betty Mordaunt, Diana Davidson, Muriel Prockter and Gail Weise.

Fish pond was conducted by Mrs. R. Farmer and Mrs. L. E. Gower. Candy was sold by Mrs. W. M. Scott, Mrs. R. Cunliffe and Miss Marilyn Farmer. Woollen goods were sold by Mrs. A. F. Martin, Mrs. E. A. Evans and novelties by Mrs. B. Eloyfson and Mrs. D. McNab.

The Junior Auxiliary Branch sold plants, marmalade and jelly convened by Miss Sharon Allen and assisted by Misses Jill Weise, Judith Bird, Diane Foreman, Helen Moore and Mrs. R. Yamada and Mrs. J. Feuchuck.

The Girl's Auxiliary Branch, sold novelties, under the leadership of Miss E. Bulmer and convened by Miss Julie Prockter. They were assisted by Misses Enid Morgan, Mary Storrie, Margaret Watts and Sue Kergin.

The sewing booth was convened by Mrs. H. Winstone assisted by Mrs. C. Foreman and Mrs. J. A. Macdonald.

The parcel post stall was in charge of Miss Tannis Bird.

The homecooking was sold by the Afternoon Branch of the Women's Auxiliary and attended by Mrs. C. Mills, Mrs. N. A. Beketov, Mrs. A. L. Holtby, Mrs. G. Philippson, Mrs. F. Mitchell and Mrs. P. Bird. Cashier was Mrs. F. N. Sutton.

THOUGH ITALIAN designers at first scorned Dior's new line, here's proof that they are following the general trend. Rome's Mila uses the straight line in this bright plaid wool coat with buckle trim. The wide shawl collar extends to the buckle closing low at the waist.

Stewart News

STEWART — The Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion launched their winter series of social activities with a crib-bage party on November 24. There was a good attendance and first prize for the ladies went to Mrs. C. J. Mayes, two tieing for the consolation prize. Mrs. R. Cornwall and Mrs. F. Hunger, the latter winning on the cut of the cards. Fred Calderone of Prince Rupert, won the men's first prize and Dr. William Hick took the consolation prize. The ladies outpointed the men by a score of 9458 to 8678.

Nurses' Dance Proves Success

With more than 200 guests present, the annual dance of the Prince Rupert chapter of the Registered Nurses Association on Saturday night at the Armory proved a gay and successful affair.

Held to raise funds for the award of a bursary to a high school student planning a nursing career, the dance was highlighted by several novelty numbers for which prizes were given by Dr. L. M. Greene, master of ceremonies. Music was provided by the Hartley Bay Five.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements were Mrs. Alec Bill, chapter president, Miss Kay Chisholm, Miss Dorothy Browne, Mrs. Neil Stromdahl, Mrs. W. D. Hayes and Miss Elizabeth Clement.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

Mrs. Laura Lyall, artist who died at Toronto in 1930, was noted for her portraits of children.

Easy-to-find clue to a man's character!

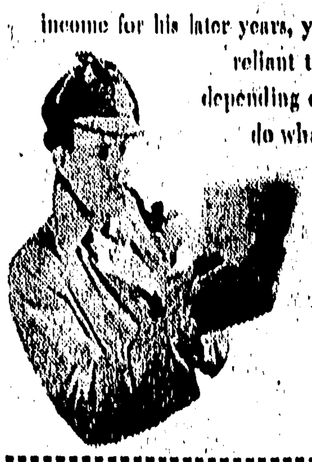
Among many a man's private papers are certain documents that can tell you things about him which you might not otherwise learn for some time.

These documents are his life insurance policies. And they indicate, for instance, that the man who owns them probably is thrifty, foresighted and realistic.

Here too is quite reliable evidence that he is a good provider — one who is genuinely concerned about his family's future welfare. And this, in turn, suggests that he is considerate of others.

Chances are he is also a dependable worker. For his ownership of life insurance demonstrates readiness to assume responsibility — an attitude that helps a man in any job.

Moreover, if he is also using life insurance to build income for his later years, you can bet he's the self-reliant type. You won't find him depending on relatives or charity to do what he can do for himself!



All in all, he's probably like most life insurance policyholders in every community — a really solid citizen!

AT YOUR SERVICE!
A trained life underwriter, representing one of the more than 50 Canadian, British and United States life insurance companies in Canada, will gladly help you plan now for your family's security and your own needs in later years. Rely on him!
