Man's Life Should Be Recorded In Newspaper Says Editor

A newspaper should be something more than a mere record of daily occurrences far and near, it should trace the important events in every citizen's life from the time of his or her birth until death, the Kinsmen Club was told last night.

Speaking on "Your Newspaper", Dick Ayres, news editor of The Daily News, told Prince Rupert Kin at their regular meeting that to fulfill its purpose a newspaper should note the birth of a child, report its progress through school, successes in sports, then business, marriage until the full cycle of life is completed.

It wasn't always as easy as it sounded, however, the newspaperman told club members, and it was often necessary for the public to aid its newspaper by filling in the gaps, providing tips or assisting reporters by giving them leads.

In the same way all clubs, organizations and associations could get news of their activities into the paper every time they met if the paper was notified in advance and an alert publicity chairman kept track of a group's projects. All meetings couldn't be staffed, Mr. Ayres said, as there was sometimes more meetings than staff members.

He said that a paper had a very diverse clientele to satisfy. There were readers who wanted all local news and others who wished world news.

"We try to strike a happy medium," Mr. Ayres said.

The speaker was introduced and thanked by Kin president Curly Barbour.

In other business Don Eby was named chairman of the Lakelse camp committee to succeed Harry Sheardown; Saturday, February 19 was set for the Kin Club to mark Founders Night, with no regular meeting slated for Wednesday, February 16 and Kin Ralph Anderson was appointed delegate from the Prince Rupert club to attend the zone convention at Burns Lake on Sunday, February 13.
