Performance With Cubs Sees Irvin Prime Material For Comeback Title

By The Associated Press

The way Monte Irvin is going in spring training, he stacks up as prime material for baseball's comeback of the year.

Once a World Series hero with New York Giants and pride of the Polo Grounds, the 37-year-old panther-like outfielder is finding new life with Chicago Cubs.

With a potent bat which has hammered at better than a .500 clip in the last 10 games, he apparently has clinched the left-field spot with Cubs and No. 5 in the batting order behind Ernie Banks.

Friday he got four singles in four times at bat and joined with Banks, who knocked in five runs, in blasting Baltimore Orioles 15-11 at San Antonio, Tex.

SECOND COMEBACK

After his great World Series performance with Giants in 1951, when he batted .458, Irvin suffered a compound fracture of his right ankle. Out a year, he made a fine comeback in 1953 only to be sidelined again as the result of a plate collision and later a recurrence of his ankle injury.

Last June he was sold outright to Minneapolis, Giants' farm, and it appeared his major league days might be over. Then Cubs invested $10,000 to buy him in the player draft last November.

"If they play me, I guarantee I'll help the team," Monte says. And he's proving it.

Rookies stole the limelight as major league teams continued to move north, nearing their home bases.

Rookie Bob Richardson of New York Yankees, an infield candidate, drove in four runs with a single and triple as Yanks broke a six-game Philadelphia Phillies' winning streak 7-4.

GRAND-SLAM HOMERS

At Jacksonville, Fla., Marty Keough and Don Buddin, rookies, each hit grand-slam home runs for Boston Red Sox in beating Jacksonville's Sally League entry 19-4. Connie Grob, a six-foot rookie righthander with Washington, joined Dean Stone in pitching Senators to a 4-3 win over Cincinnati Redlegs at Florence, S.C.

New York Giants unloaded on Cleveland Indians, winning at Houston 13-6. Pittsburgh Pirates won over Kansas City 9-8, halting a four-run rally by Athletics in the ninth inning of their game at Austin.

Rain cancelled the next chapter of the Brooklyn-Milwaukee series at Chattanooga, Tenn., and wet grounds gave a rest to Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Cardinals, scheduled to play at Knoxville.

Billiard Tourney Starts Tomorrow

A handicap billiard tournament at the Canadian Legion will get underway tomorrow and will continue over the next three weeks, it was announced this morning.

The tournament is divided into two competitions a primary and consolation event, Jerry Lemire said today.

Some 32 competitors have entered the tourney which will see winners of each event awarded trophies.

A player defeated in his first game is entered in the consolation event, Mr. Lemire said.

Finals for the tourney will be announced later.
