MR. and MRS. JOSEPH B. WALSH

Walsh-Lavigne Vows Said In Pretty Ceremony Here

The Church of the Annunciation here was the scene last Thursday morning of a nuptial mass uniting in marriage Marie Virginia Lavigne, daughter of Mrs. Ida Beaton of Prince Rupert, and Joseph Bruce Walsh, son of Mrs. Merlie Matchura and Mr. Alan P. Walsh of Prince Rupert.

The Rev. Fr. Tunney officiated at the mass for which lovely summer flowers graced the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pretty gown of white lace and net, featuring strapless lace bodice flaring into a hem-length back peplum over a bouffant ankle-length skirt of net. A matching lace jacket topped the bodice and her chapel veil of illusion was secured by a tiara. A spray of yellow roses completed her ensemble.

ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride were Mrs. Anne Thompson, matron of honor, and Miss Beth Astoria, bridesmaid, the former gowned in a rose chiffon ballerina length frock with her headdress matching her bouquet of yellow carnations, and the latter wearing a net dress of nile green with green headdress and bouquet of yellow carnations.

Attending the groom were Mr. George Dumas and Mr. Ray Spring, while ushers were Mr. Danny Bill and Mr. Howard Lavigne.

Wedding music was by Mr. John Currie at the organ, with Mrs. Margaret Lavigne singing, "On This Day."

The bridal party with their families held a wedding dinner at Club 27, following the ceremony, and a large reception was held in the evening at the Elk's Hall.

Assisiting the bridal pair in receiving guests were the principals' parents, with Mrs. Beaton choosing for the occasion a smart dress of chocolate brown with beige accessories and yellow roses en corsage. Mrs. Walsh was attired in a navy and white ensemble with matching accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

Graceful arrangements of flowers and lighted tapers flanked the beautifully decorated wedding cake on the bride's table for the event, at which Mr. Mel Thompson was master of ceremonies and serviteurs included Mrs. R. Heaton, Mrs. James McGuire, Dorothy Proppe of Burns Lake, Madeleine Youngman, Nellie Bill, Hazel Tweed, Lorraine Bell, Dale Lynch and Mrs. Howard Lavigne.

HONORS GRANDMOTHER

The 200 guests enjoyed dancing to the music of Duke McMillan at the [illegible] A special note of the evening was presentation of her bouquet by the bride to her grandmother, Mrs. Albert Arseneault.

For her wedding trip, by plane to Ketchikan, Alaska, the bride changed to a smart suit of beige tweed with accessories in deep brown and corsage of yellow roses.

The couple are now making their home at 622-A, Eighth Avenue West, in Prince Rupert.

Both principals received their senior education at the Catholic school in Prince Rupert.

Canada's Women Neglecting Public Life Says Councillor

CALGARY (CP)—Mrs. Rose Wilkinson of Calgary thinks too many women neglect public life.

She feels too many of her sex confine all their thoughts and energies to the small worlds in which they find themselves—their homes, their offices or the narrow social circles in which they move.

Rosie, as Mrs. Wilkinson is known, has been a member of the Calgary city council since 1935 and a Social Credit member of the Alberta legislature for Calgary since 1944. She was re-elected in 1948 and 1952 heading the poll in Calgary by wide margins both times.

"There are so many opportunities for women today," Mrs. Wilkinson commented. "Gadgets and electrical appliances have emancipated women from drudgery in housekeeping. But what are women doing with the time these devices save them?"

CONVENT EDUCATION

Mrs. Wilkinson was born in County Cavan, Ireland, and received a convent education. When she graduated from high school, she entered St. George's Hospital, London, England, for nursing training. She graduated at the age of 20 and spent several years doing post-graduate work.

Leaving England she went to West Virginia where she had a brother, Rev. Eugene Owen. There she married Fred Wilkinson, a Saskatchewan man and the couple went to a farm near Regina.

They moved to Oyen, Alta., in 1924 and organized a 10-bed hospital. Mrs. Wilkinson took on the job of matron.

In 1927 they moved to Calgary and Mrs. Wilkinson opened a physiotherapy clinic and lectured at Holy Cross Hospital's school of nursing.

She was busily engaged at the clinic when her first nomination for city council was announced.

"I was at first hesitant to go into public life but when I looked around me and saw the poverty in the midst of plenty, I felt this might be one way I could help."

CHECKMATE—Sporty is the word for this wide-mouthed youngster. His puckered checked collarless top has two side buttons, a smart touch for the crib crowd. The soft-textured, plastic-lined boxer pants have stitched-down creases and are gripper fastened. The outfit was designed by Alexis.

Canine Foibles

AUCKLAND N.Z. (AP)—A woman entered a grocery store, asked for chocolate biscuits and refused all shown her because "my dog won't eat them unless the chocolate is on the outside." In a jewelry store another paid £4 for ear-rings because her dog's ears "do stick up so."
