IN CURFEW ENFORCEMENT

SURVEY SHOWS DIFFICULTY

for Highway 16 eastern

In enquiries to other municipalities, Prince Rupert has learned that curfew enforcement has been found to be difficult owning to inability to obtain prosecutions and lack of co-operation between police and parents of young offenders. Maximum penalty which may be imposed under the Municipal Act is $5.

The city, which has a curfew bylaw in effect since 1957, made the enquiries as a result of questions raised

Ketchikan, it was learned, has more stringent penalties allowing for a maximum fine of $100 on a minor and a maximum of $300 on persons other than minors violating provision of its ordinance.

McBride-George start in 1964

VICTORIA, B.C. (CP) - Highways Minister Gaglardi said today his department is now working on plans to call tenders on the McBride-Prince George section of Highway 16 in 1964.

He also said that tenders will becalled at the same time on the Yellowhead route.

In Kelowna Premier Bennett said the Highway 16 route across central B.C. to Prince George and Prince Rupert and the Yellowhead Highway to connect Edmonton to Kamloops will be under construction on the same program and be started at the same time.

An earlier report said the premier had predicted the entire Yellowhead route would be under contract by 1964.
