An independent newspaper devoted to the upbuilding of Prince Rupert and Northern and Central British Columbia A member of the Canadian Press — Audit Bureau of Circulation Canadian Daily Newspaper Publishers Association Published by The Prince Rupert Daily News Limited

> JOHN F. MAGOR President

wized as Second Class Mail by the Post Office Department, Ottawa, and for payment of postage in eash.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1963

New survey leaves nothing to be desired but council, chamber must follow it up

development report just released to very important points of information. the city this week is worth many times. Already it has made a strong imits weight in gold and certainly the pression on the few who have had the $25,000 it cost to have this comprehen-opportunity of running through its sive work of art drawn up.

and of Vancouver and D. K. Naumann of the Community Planning Division have left absolutely nothing to be desired in this 70-page study of Prince Rupert from literally top to and the engineering company are de-peak. serving of the highest commendation for the precise work put into this book which will no doubt prove a precious piece of city property.

Cost to the city of Prince Rupert mit in the next few weeks. is approximately $8,000. The greater is a trivial figure when one realizes to our readers. city fathers.

ever hope to possess about our city. interested. It can easily be considered a crystal Mr. Naumann and his company the tourist industry by 1980 and pres-massive work.

The economic prospects and future less number of other interesting and pages. One has to actually peruse this Associated Engineering Services report to fully appreciate its value.

It is easy to read and should be picked up by businessmen, service clubs, and all organizations as well as other city residents. The city has a limited number of copies on hand and expects to have some for sale in the Although the city is paying for this future. Residents would do well to fully factual report, Mr. Naumann stop in at the city hall and request a

> The Daily News started the first part of a long series Wednesday, dealing with this treatise and will carry as many facets as our space will per-

To this newspaper alone, the reshare of $16,000, making up the total port will become a gem of the brightprice of the survey roughly $24,000, est kind. It will be the answer to our is being borne by way of a grant from many hours spent searching for inthe federal government. But the cost formation about this city to relay on the benefit that will be derived by all We are sure that once seen by the who live here as a result of the survey. many local businessmen and all parties The taxpayers' money in this instance. interested the demand will be much we feel, was truly well spent by our greater than ever expected. For that matter there is bound to be a large From front cover to back, this number of outsiders who will request guide contains the most valuable and a copy or at least a good long look. extremely vital information we could Investment companies will indeed be ball for anyone interested in the fu- have placed the future in the laps of ture of this northern B.C. community. our City Council and Chamber of It gives thorough coverage of Commerce. It is now up to them to statistics the average person would take a firm hold on it by following never think existed. Facts such as up the suggestions and going after what Prince Rupert's role will be in the vast potential outlined in this ent day and future figures, diagrams The information is definitely there and maps on land development, hous- and it points directly to a smooth road ing, the fishing industry and a count- ahead if it is used to its fullest extent.

Quote and unquote

The Lancet: "We share the Euthanasia Society's wish sustain a parody of life may end in serving to the shape of NATO over a decade," nobody and nothing except pride in his own Problemeal competence."

Benry Kissinger, the military theorist, in Foreign Affairs;

"Throughout its history, NATO has suffered from the difficulty that its strategic doctrine 上京 的lowed, rather than guided, the creation thats forces. Decisions have been made to meet specific crises, or on the basis of fiscal considerations, or with an eye toward what the that the (medical) profession should do more traffic would bear politically. Too frequently, to dessen the sufferior of those who have to more thought has been given to expedients for die . . A clinician who persistently seeks to getting through another NATO conference than > search, National Association of (U.S.) Mutual Savings Banks:

knowest not what a day will bring forth' . . . Prayer may, indeed, be the financial forecaster's strongest ally in 1963."

Dr. Paul B. Klaman, director of re-

"Boast not thyself of tomorrow; For thou

SIDELINES... with Chuck Davis

'It's amazing what one can when one rummages through old papers. (When two rummage, it's even more

Yesterday, braving clouds of dust, and a huge moth which snapped viciously at my hand Lyford he galloped out the front door and slowly, ponderously, took off into the distance, I opened a large cardboard box which ,had lain Torgotten, these many moons, and began poking around to see what I could find.

What to my wondering eyes should first appear but a Chiristmas card, dated 1958, from Gamal Abdel - Nasser, President of Egypt! Now, I have this reputation as a kidder of tbe first degree, Anyway, when my friends start reading about this Ohristmas card from Nasser, they'll shake their heads, and chuckle, and say things like, T see where old Big Mouth is making up stories about his Important Friends again,". Well, he, I say to them, and fie again' I DO have a Christmas card from Nasser, and don't ask me how I got it. I forget.

(Incidentally, the card is addressed to Mr. Chuck Davis. People have been calling me a churck for years,)

The next object among my souvenirs was a copy of a play I was pressured into performing in when I lived in Ontario, I remember the occasion well. The phone rang, and I picked it up, saying (rather eleverly, I thought), "Hello?"

"Hello, Mr. Davis, this is the Thirty Thespians Little Theatre Group. We're putting on a play next month, and we were wondering, . . . ."

"Well, alright", I interrupted, "since you insist, but I must have my own personal dressing room''

As it turned out, they couldn't give me a personal dressing room, but as everyone avoided me off-stage, the effect was the same.

was so nervous the first night of the play, by the way, that I called the hero "Gladys" which was the name of the heroine. This set the wrong tone for the play, right from the beginning.

The next dusty document I unearthed was a list of names and addresses. The first three names were people I owed letters to, so I accidentally dropped the list back into the box, out of sight.

Then I came across a picture of a girl. It had written on it, "To Chuck, from his Poopsie". sighed (annahhh!) and returned the picture to the box. I couldn't remember her name, but if I called her Poopsie, I "bet she remembers mine. I can see her now, with her big. good looking husband, laughing over an old picture of me. "Get a load of this one, Seymour! He used to call me Poopsie. Chee, look at those big earst What'd I ever see in him! It musta been those snappy red velvet arm-bands he useta wear!" My favorite object from this collection of trivia, though, is a little card from a weight machine. It tells me that I am ambitious, kindly, intelligent, and modest. True, true, but it's the weight I look back on fondly, 146 pounds, I wish weighed that now, instead of back then when I was 9.

EDITOR'S NOTE - The Daily News has had inquiries recently as to where Mr. Davis resides and if writing columns such as the one below is his sole occupation. We would like to say at this time that Mr. Davis lives in Prince Rupert and is employed as un announcer at Radio Station CPPR. He came to this city from Vancouver about four months ago where he worked with CBC and prior to that was associated with television in Victoria and Vancouver

3. The Suez crisis

By FLETCHER REYNOLDS The hot winds of war blew around the globe in the autumn of 1956. Hungary was swept up in revolt. But the spark that could have ignited the world was Suez. On Oct. 29, Israeli forces smashed through Egyptian lines on the Sinai peninsula and began a headlong dash toward the Suez Canal. At the Same time, British and French forces @attacked Port Said. The Israelis claimed they were getting even for Egyptian incurs-ions into Israel.

L.B. Pearson The British and French said they were acting to keep the Suez navigable. But much of world public opinion was shocked at what appeared to be an attempt to return Egypt to colonial status.

The Soviet Union quickly took advantage of the Suez crisis to turn the world's attention from the revolt against Communism in Hungary, and threatened war to "save" Egypt.

For both the U.S. and Canada, it was a time of embarrassment. Painful though it was, both countries condemned the British-French action at Suez. U-N ACTS

Acting with almost lightning speed, Canada's Lester Pearson, then Minister of External Af-Emergency Force, It was quicksembly in spite of British and ed. French opposition and the first of 6,000 men provided by U-N member nations headed into the Middle East.

Comander of the U-N Force was Canadian General E. M. L.

Faced with unified world opposition, Britain, France and Israel withdrew their troops which were replaced by U-N contingents. The U-N forces not only formed a buffer between Israel and Egypt...which they still do—but also rapidly cleared the Suez canal of wrecked shipping in one of the great engineering feats of this

CANAL OPEN

Today some 800 Canadian are on duty with the U-N in the Gaza strip. The last of the British and French have left Egypt and the Suez Canal is being operated smoothly under the Egyptian flag. However, the Middle East peace-saving operation is still costing the U-N millions of dollars a year and—like the Congo operation-has threatened to bankrupt it.

In recognition of his U-N plan, Mr. Pearson was awarded the Nobel Peace prize. NEXT: Trouble at the Wall.

the lighter side

Laws against bigamy were probably predicted upon the fact that no man can serve two masters.

"They tell me, Jones, that you pushed a wheelbarrow down the street last night after our company party. Is that right?" the superintendent asked.

"Yes, sir. I was pretty drunk, guess," admitted the machine operator.

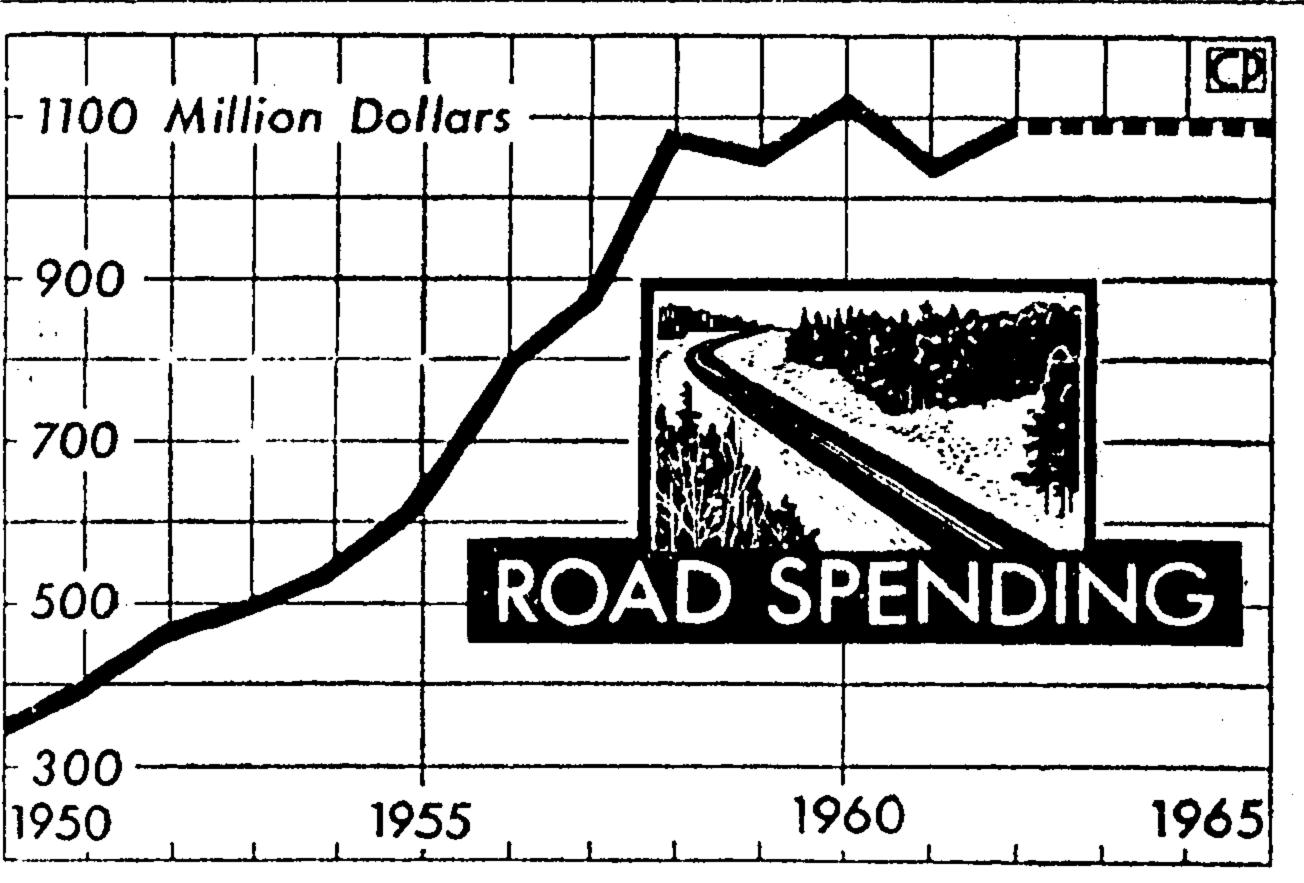

"Well, how do you think I fairs, presented the United Na- feel over the possible lack of tions with a plan for a U-N prestige that your actions may have brought upon our busily ratified by the General As- ness?" the superintendent ask-

> "Gee, boss, I never thought to ask you. You rode in the wheelbarrow," 4 4

"But, Joe, dear, you shouldn't have brought that Mr. Hoskins home for dinner when I'm housecleaning."

"Sh-sh, dear. He's the only man I know strong enough to lift the sideboard."

SURPLUS SALE - Seven Trans-Canada Air Lines' Viscount aircraft stand forlorn at Winnipeg's International Airport. The seven planes have been declared surplus by the company as part of its plan to relocate its Winnipeg overhaul base in Montreal by 1966. The seven planes are part of a fleet of 48 operated by TCA, all of which are expected to be sold.

TO STAY AT HIGH LEVEL - The Canadian Good Roads Association forecasts that road construction in 1963 will continue a a high level and remain stable for the next three years. Total expenditures last year by all governments — federal, provincial and municipal -- totalled $1.090,000,000, an increase of $62,000,-000 over 1961. Graph shows climb in volume of road building since 1950.

QUIZ HALL

Each correct answer counts 10 points. Score yourself as follows: 100 genius; 80 to 90 superior; 70 to 80 excellent; 60 to 76 good: 50 to 60 average: 40 to 50 fair. FOR MEN: -

1. Which one, according to a story, fiddled while a city

Caesar - Nero - Mexander the Great - Napoleon I

2. Which one of these is the largest in area? Monaco — Panama — Poland — Lebanon

3. Cargo ships in the U.S. Navy are named for birds.

True or False 4. "The Athens of the South" is a nickname given: Atlanta, Ga. — Charlotte, N.C. — Nashville, Tenn. —

St Petersburg, Fla.

FOR WOMEN: --5. Who stretched his hand over a sea and the waters

Joseph — Daniel -- Abraham — Moses

6. The sagebrush is the state flower of: Nevada — Nebraska — Ohio — Tennessee

7. Which in a nursery rhyme cried "Wee-wee-wee-wee-

Lamb -- Pig -- Goat -- Calf

8. Oberammergau, noted for its presentation of the Passion play, is in:

West Germany -- Helland -- Greece -- Finland

FOR YOUNG PEOPLE: -9. Paul Anderson, of Toccoa, Ga., is an Olympic champion in weight lifting. True or False

10. How many persons form the vecal group known as the Wilburn Brothers?

Three - Two - Four - Five ANWERS: —

many; 9, True; 10, Two. 4. Mashville, Tenn.; 5. Mosce; 6. Nevada; 7. Pig; 8. West Ger-I. Nero; 2. Poland; 3. False -- They are named for stars;

A Look Back at Rupert (50 Years Ago)

Jan. 24, 1913—Thomas Ballinger, a well-known and popular young man in Prince Rupert, as well as an old timer, is: going around all smiles these. days. A little daughter arrived at his home on Wednesday.

(40 Years Ago) Jan. 24, 1923— The Trades and Labor Council passed at resolution at its meeting last night expressing regret and disapproval at the City Council for not supporting the amendment calling for an eight hour day proposal for the Civic Employees Union.

(30 Years Ago) Jan. 24, 1933—Word has been received here that Oceanic Cannery which has been closed for several years will be operated this season by Messrs. Wallace and Gillespie of Van-

(20 Years Ago) Jan. 24, 1943-Latest recruits in the Prince Rupert Machine. Gun Regiment are Ross Jay, H. Vanderheide, A. A. Inglee, H. J. G. Schaffer, S. Jensen and J. Derson.

(10 Years Ago) Jan. 24, 1953— A capacity rowd enjoyed the annual banquet in honor of Robert Burns held by the Ladies Aid of First Presbyterian Church in the church hall Thursday night.

The PACKSACK

By Gregory Clark

One of my old doctor friends was talking about happiness. "It is a common belief," he says, "that rich people are happier than poor people. Well, have been the family doctor to a great many families in all levels of income, and I can assure you that happiness has nothing whatever to do with income.

There was a piece in the paper recently that says rich men do not suffer as much from ulcers as poor men. That is nonsene. If it was said that rich men do not suffer from ulcers as much as do men trying to be rich, I might agree.

"Off hand I would say that the unhappiest home I have ever been in was that of a rich man. And when I try to recall my memory of the happiest homes I have been in, in order to pick the happiest of all, I find my mind wandering amongst the most humble of homes, as far as worldly goods ' or even worldly prospects are concerned.

Happiness depends more on health than anything else. And health depends, far more than we have yet proven, upon temperament. I am almost prepared to say that happiness is a matter of predestination."

The lighter side

A home owner, wearing his oldest clothes, was out shoveling snow when a woman in a car stopped and shouted: "What do you get for doing

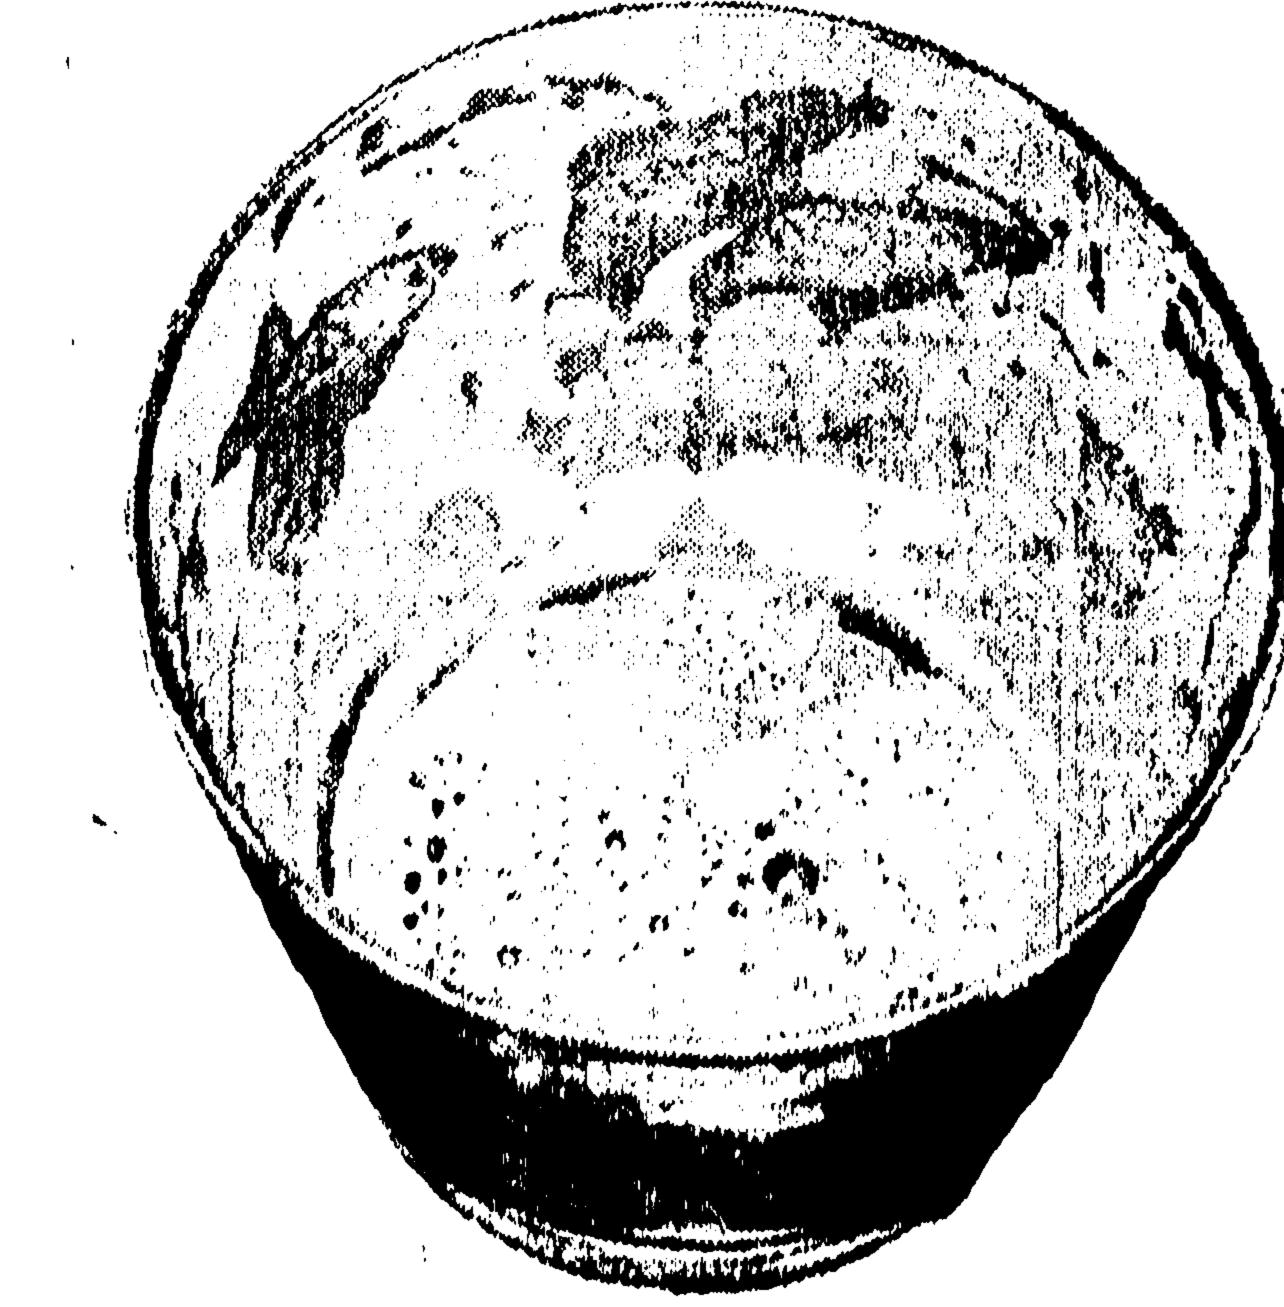

The owner looked back at the house and then at the woman. "The lady of the house lets me live with her," he said.

that work?"

Of about 115 different species of maple in the world, Canada has only 10. The maple is most abundant in eastern Asia, particularly in the Himalayan Mountains and in China.

downright good.

good right down.

"a B.C. lavorite because of the taste"

free home delivery

THE CANLING BREWERIES (B.C.) LTD.