BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Individual Judgment Sometimes Called For

Mrs. Rhule plays by the book. Strictly. In her time she has learned every system and bidding convention known to man. Today she held a 14-point hand. The book says that's a compulsory opening bid. So naturally Mrs. Rhule opened it.

I certainly don't mean to imply there is anything wrong with reading good textbooks on the game. You can find out how to handle practically every type of hand. But there are times when there is no harm in using a little individual judgment.

Take Mrs. Rhule's hand today, for example. She had 14 points all right, but she didn't have a good opening bid. I would recommend a pass on her holding.

Six of her 14 points are made up of queens and two of those queens are completely unsupported. The queen of hearts has only slight support. Queens and jacks, unsupported by other honors and held in suit lengths of three cards or less, are treacherous values.

ANEMIC OPENER

Mrs. Rhule's hand offered fine support of an opening bid by her partner, but it was anemic for an opening, except, possibly, at match point duplicate.

Against the final contract of three no trump Mr. Masters led the jack of spades. Mr. Abel won with dummy's queen and Mrs. Fusty played the deuce. A small diamond was led to the king and Mr. Masters won with the ace. He noted that his partner played another deuce.

Obviously there was no future in spades and diamonds and, since clubs looked hopeless, it appeared to be hearts or nothing.

Mr. Masters returned a heart and he was careful to lead the deuce, not the king. If he had led the king, dummy's holding would have stopped the suit. Mr. Abel played the 10 from dummy and Mrs. Fusty won with the jack. (If dummy had played small, Mrs. Fusty would have won with the eight.)

She returned a low heart to Mr. Master's king and a third heart lead through dummy's queen made sure of five heart tricks and a two-trick set.

North dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

If Mrs. Rhule had passed as dealer Mr. Abel would have opened the bidding with one diamond. Now Mrs. Rhule, with the potential value of her lonesome queens much improved, could have shown her enthusiasm by a jump to two no trump.

Shying away from no trump, Mr. Abel would say three clubs and a club raise from Mrs. Rhule would almost surely result in reaching the cold game at that suit.

Evangelists Starting Tour

Mrs. Margaret Kimball and Miss Inez Gather of Bremerton, Wash., arrived in Prince Rupert over the weekend preparatory to conducting evangelistic meetings at villages up the Skeena River.

Sunday they attended services at the Pentecostal Tabernacle here assisting Rev. W. T. Kennedy.

Accompanying Mrs. Kimball and Miss Gather on their third visit to the district will be lay preachers of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada Joseph Innes, William Gladstone and Church Army Capt. Lawrence Innes of Kitkatla.

Mrs. Kimball and Miss Gather leave tonight by train and will hold their first meeting at Skeena Crossing with others to follow at Hazelton and Kispiox. They expect to return to Prince Rupert in about two weeks.

Coal Black... or "Aluminum Blonde"?
Don't be surprised if one of these days you see a coal truck go by loaded with shining stuff that certainly doesn't look like coal. One big coal company now sprays its anthracite with aluminum paint. Not only makes it cleaner to handle, it burns better, too.
We note, too, that aluminum is involved in another fuel operation—this time in capturing heat from the sun. An aircraft company operates a solar furnace that focuses the sun's rays by means of a 120-inch aluminum reflector to create temperatures up to 8,500 F. It is used to test materials under extreme heat.

You can't go "ALL-OUT"

If you feel "ALL-IN"
These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.
