Roughies Sign Two Players

REGINA (—— Saskatchewan Roughriders announced today that halfback Ken Carpenter and veteran guard Mike Cassidy have signed to play with the Western Interprovincial Football Union club again this year.

Carpenter joined Riders last season after three years with Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Cassidy will be starting his eighth season with the Saskatchewan squad. He came here after graduating from Alabama. They are the first players signed by Riders for the 1955 season.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

Champion Risks 3 Hearts to Ruin One Lady's Hand

Some delicate inferences concerning vulnerability made it possible for Mr. Champion to stop on a dime in the bidding of today's hand.

A vulnerable overcall can be raised on slightly lesser values than a nonvulnerable overcall. This seeming inconsistency stems from the fact that your partner will have a better hand when he overcalls vulnerable.

Mr. Champion knew his partner might not have too stout a raise in his hand but he was willing to go to three hearts to find out whether Mr. Masters' raise was of the maximum or minimum variety. Holding a minimum, Mr. Masters checked out.

Three hearts was no laydown. Mr. Abel led the ace and another spade, hoping to ruff a third lead of the suit. Mrs. Keen did not go up with the queen on the second spade lead and Mr. Champion won with the 10.

He played three rounds of trumps and cashed the king of spades. Then he led a small club to dummy's jack and Mrs. Keen was in with the king. The queen of spades was returned but Mr. Champion did not ruff that card. It was of considerable advantage to him to have Mrs Keen retain the lead. He discarded the jack of diamonds.

This play put Mrs. Keen in a hopeless position.

If she led the ace of diamonds Champion would make his queen after ruffing the ace in dummy, losing two spades and two clubs.

If she led the ace of diamonds it would be ruffed and the king in dummy would furnish a club discard. If she underled the ace of diamonds, Mr. Champion would simply discard a club and would then make his contract no matter who holds the ace of diamonds.

East dealer. North-South vulnerable.
