Hunting Season For Snow Geese Changed in B.C.

Snow geese may be hunted in only one district in British Columbia instead of three under a change in the Migratory Bird Regulations [illegible]

The Canadian Wildlife Service of the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources has announced that snow geese may be hunted between December 10 and February 29, 1956, in the same area as that for black brant. The change was requested by the B.C. government [illegible] provincial and federal [illegible] on game [illegible]

The geese may be hunted only in District No. 1, that part of British Columbia [illegible] Cascade Mountains and north of the provincial [illegible] district of Atlin, except that part of the Skeena River watershed. The district includes the Lower and North Okanagan [illegible] district and part of the Similkameen [illegible] within the Okanagan [illegible]

HUNTING QUIETLY

AVERAGE HUNTERS MAKE TOO MUCH NOISE AND GO TOO FAST. BOTH BIG AND SMALL GAME ARE THUS ALARMED AND ARE USUALLY GONE BEFORE DISCOVERED. IT'S DIFFICULT TO MOVE WITHOUT MAKING SOME NOISE, CRACKING A TWIG, ETC. BIG GAME DOES THE SAME THING AND ISN'T ALARMED BY SLIGHT NOISE IF MADE AT THE RIGHT TIME—WHEN THEY'RE MOVING, EARLY AND LATE IN THE DAY. WEAR SOFT FABRICS THAT DON'T SCRAPE, BRUSH LOOSELY, AND ALWAYS MOVE AGAINST WIND.

OCCASIONALLY STOP, OBSERVE. SMALL GAME CAUSES IT MOVING.

Day Cautious Describing Revised Maple Leaf Team

By JIM BASTABLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—This is the year of "guts, goals and glamor" for Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League.

In the words of Leaf general manager Hap Day: "You can't win games without guts and goals. Glamor? I'll guarantee nobody will fall asleep at our games."

Leafs, seeking to build their first Stanley Cup championship team since 1950-51, have been working on Day's "Guts-goals-glamor" theory at their training camp here. They have been impressive, but the Leaf brass is yet to go overboard on them.

DAY IS CAUTIOUS

"I don't care to say right now if we're as good as last year's club," Day says. "The boys look all right in training but I want to see them in a few games first. That's the only way to judge."

Day will get his first look at Leafs in action this weekend when they start exhibition games in preparation for the opening of the NHL's 70-game schedule Oct. 6. Leafs open the season at Montreal against Canadiens and open at home Oct. 8 against Detroit Red Wings, defending Stanley Cup kings.

It's no secret that Leafs must make changes. Although they made the Stanley Cup playoffs last season, they were the lowest scoring club in the league. Critics said Leafs were so defence-minded that they took all the color out of the game.

NEED GOOD PIVOT

The biggest job is to find an able replacement for Ted Kennedy, 29-year-old centre and captain who retired after Leafs were knocked out of the Stanley cup semi-finals by Detroit in four straight games last season.

They have brought up a promising young rookie in Bill Harris, a standout in training on the top line with leftwinger Sid Smith and rightwinger Eric Nesterenko. Harris led Toronto Marlboros to the Canadian junior hockey crown last season.

Another junior getting plenty of raves is leftwinger Dick Duff. He had a three-game trial with Leafs in the playoffs last season and has been working well on a line centred by George Armstrong. Tod Sloan is the rightwinger. Armstrong and Sloan switched positions near the tail-end of 1954-55 and have been playing those spots so far in camp.

Then there's Earl Balfour, a leftwinger who saw limited action with Leafs last year when he was brought up from the farm-hand Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League. Centre Rudy Migay and rightwinger Ron Stewart are two holdovers who seem assured of retaining their positions on that line.

Other players from last year's club, which placed third in the regular schedule on 24 victories and 22 ties, include centre Bob Bailey and leftwinger Parker MacDonald.

The defence probably will be unchanged this year. Tim Horton, who suffered a leg and jaw fracture last last season, is ready to go. Jim Thomson, a 10-year veteran with Leafs, Jim Morrison and Hugh Bolton will be back. Either Larry Cahan, the extra defenceman last year, or Marc Reaume, a rookie up from Pittsburgh, could wind up with the fifth rearguard job.

In goal will be Harry Lumley, a solid performer since he was acquired by Leafs in a trade with the Red Wings three years ago.

Where will Leafs wind up this season?

"First or fourth," says Clancy.

Esks Keep Skein Going; Roughies In 2nd Place

By The Canadian Press

"The rich get richer and the poor get poorer."

The Western Interprovincial Football Union provides a good illustration of the old saying. Of the four teams that played Saturday night, the two that were well off point-wise picked up more points. The two sharing the basement were left relatively lower on the scale.

The first-place Edmonton Eskimos, unbeaten in 1955, stretched their winning streak in the regular WIFU schedule to nine games with a 15-0 win over Calgary Stampeders in Calgary.

Saskatchewan Roughriders gained sole possession of second place by dumping Winnipeg Blue Bombers 12-7 in Regina. The Stampeders and Bombers are in last place, each with two wins and four points.

In the eastern Big Four, Hamilton Tiger-Cats used the touchdown pass twice in the fourth quarter at Hamilton to take a 22-13 victory over Montreal Alouettes and go into a first-place tie with the Montrealers.

The Hamilton triumph, coupled with Toronto Argonauts' 30-19 conquest of Ottawa Rough Riders made the Big Four race a tight affair. The high-priced Argos and Rough Riders now are deadlocked in third place just two points behind the leaders with the schedule heading towards the halfway mark.

At Calgary, quarterback Jackie Parker, former Mississippi State flash, came back after a two-game layoff due to illness to score two Edmonton touchdowns. Former Maryland tackle Bob Dean kicked a field goal and two converts.

The Stampeders showed practically no offensive power and seven fumbles did the Calgary cause no good.

In Regina, fullback Bobby Marlow and halfback Ken Carpenter scored touchdowns for the Roughriders. One was converted by end Joe Aguirre, who also scored a single on one of his two unsuccessful field goal attempts.

Homebrew halfback Gerry James scored the only Winnipeg touchdown. It was converted by quarterback Buddy Leake, who was also credited with kicking a single after he tried a field goal from 20 yards out.

'Rocks Take Sheardown Cup

Shamrocks took a 1-0 first-half lead last night at Roosevelt Park and staved off repeated Paramount attacks for the remainder of the game to take the sudden-death contest for the Sheardown Trophy in the final game of the Prince Rupert and District Football Association's 1955 schedule.

Dave Murray, right-winger for the greenshirts was the scorer, driving the ball past Cec Morven on a scramble in front of the Paramount goal.

Second half of the game was played in growing darkness and the last 20 minutes in almost complete blackout. Paramounts pressed most of the time but were unable to score. Refereeing duties were handled by Albert Karau.

League Meeting Set Thursday

A meeting of the Prince Rupert Little League has been called for this Thursday, 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Centre to deal with matters left over from the playing season, draft plans for the annual banquet and also the annual meeting. Jim Foster, league president said this morning.
