The Cunard Steamship Company has already named two of the three 22,000-ton liners being built for the Canadian run and is considering the Carinthia and Campania among other names for the third. The Saxonia is nearly ready for her maiden voyage and the Invernia is under construction. But somehow, there's a sameness.

It is very unwise to skip a vacation. A complete change in scenery and activities helps ward off fatigue and sets the busy person on his feet for another year.
