RECIPROCAL DEMURRAGE BEING TRIED BY RAILWAY COMMISSION

ALLEGED UNFAIR DISCRIMINATION IN WESTERN RATES AS COMPARED WITH EASTERN TO BE DISCUSSED DURING TODAY.

Ottawa, June 16.—The Board of Railway Commissioners this morning commenced a series of sessions which will extend over the whole week and probably into next week. The western freight rates case, involving the question of alleged unfair discrimination in regard to rates in Western Canada as compared with Eastern Canada, is fixed for Wednesday morning. It will, in all probability, be continued to a conclusion.

ally upon the railways, but despite promises which have been made by the railway he said shippers are no better off than they were a year ago. Declaring as to the proposed penalty, he said: "We do not seek to make money out of the railways. The penalties collected may go to the crown so far as the manufacturers and shippers are concerned. What we want is an incentive and better service."

SIX THOUSAND FOLLOWED THE COFFIN OF DEAD SUFFRAGETTE

GREAT SUFFRAGIST DEMONSTRATION AT FUNERAL OF THE MILITANT WHO TRIED TO STOP KING'S HORSE IN DERBY RACE

London, June 14.—Three thousand militant suffragettes and as many more male suffragettes, non-militant organizations and trades union women marched here this afternoon at the funeral of Miss Emily Davison, the suffragette who flung herself at King George's entry in the Derby, and sustained injuries from which she died a few days later.

O. Baumgarten, a suffragist minister, officiated, Rev. Cyril Hinchliff assisting. Afterwards the cortege marched to the station, sending the body to Morpeth, Northumberland.

MISS EMILY DAVISON.

Traffic on Piccadilly was blocked for four hours. A militant leader, bearing a huge cross, headed the procession, with the coffin following. On the coffin were suffragette banners, badges and a scholastic cap. The next fifty women wore white robes and carried laurel wreaths, reading "Fight On, God Will Give Us Victory." These were Miss Davison's last words.

Twelve bands participated, playing the Marseillaise and the Dead March in Saul. A score of carriages, filled with flowers sent by suffragists from every part of the world, followed the hearse.

EVERY ULSTER VILLAGE AN ARSENAL WITH DRILLED MEN

ENGLAND FACING A CIVIL WAR ON HOME RULE BILL—FORMER ARMY OFFICERS ARE DRILLING MEN NIGHT AND DAY

(Special to The Daily News.) London, June 18.—That Britain today faces a civil war in Ulster can no longer be denied. Approximately one million of men are ready and well trained to fight immediately upon the application of Home Rule for Ireland. Every village is nothing short of an arsenal and former army officers are drilling the men night and day.

there is a small or large contingent of the "patriots" solemnly pledged to save Ireland from the tyranny of the present government. Meantime Premier Asquith is pursuing the even tenor of his way and making his preparation for the first battle on home rule, which is to be fought in the house. The bill will come up again some time this week, and the occasion will undoubtedly be a memorable one.

WHO WILL BE THE DEPUTY MINISTER

Two Important Civil Service Positions are Now Vacant, one for More than a Year

Ottawa, June 16.—The filling of two deputy ministerial vacancies, that of inland revenue and that of mines, is expected at an early date.

The position of deputy minister of inland revenue has been vacant for more than a year, and it is said that Mr. William Hamsworth, acting deputy minister, will be promoted to the position, temporarily at least. Mr. Hamsworth is now 63 years of age and is expected to retire shortly.

Mr. J. L. Laflamme, secretary to Hon. W. B. Nantel and a well-known journalist, is mentioned for the position. A further aspirant is Mr. J. U. Vincent, K. C., defeated Conservative candidate for Russell county in the last election.

The name of Professor W. R. Brock, director of the Geographical Survey, is mentioned in connection with the vacancy in the mines department created by the superannuation of Dr. A. H. Low.

THE MONEY SITUATION BRIGHTENS IN THE EAST

V. F. G. Gamble Says Eyes of All Eastern Business Men Are on Rupert.

"Everywhere in the east people are taking a keen interest in Prince Rupert," said Mr. Vernon Gamble, of the firm of Harrison & Gamble, to the News this morning. Mr. Gamble has just returned from a ten weeks' business trip in the east. He has been visiting Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, New York, Chicago and other important cities. He is of the opinion that the money situation in the east is decidedly brighter. The prairie provinces are hardest hit, yet they should soon recover. There has been a greater immigration to the prairies during the past five months than during the whole of last year.

Prince Rupert should be the busiest town of its size in Canada during the next year. Many business men in the east expressed to Mr. Gamble their intention of visiting this city, and when the new hotel is erected they will certainly come in swarms. The people on the prairie provinces particularly look to this as the coming great city of the west, says Mr. Gamble.

Just One Letter Wrong

There have been law suits fought about the misplacing of a comma and two men were aggrieved yesterday at the misspelling of their names. The Seal Cove mascot was taken to Dr. Dade, the veterinary surgeon, for treatment. The wicked printer marked it Dr. Cade. The latter was indignant about being called a "vet," and the "vet" missed the valuable piece of advertising intended for him.

Victor Newton of Rossland, B. C., son of S. M. Newton, of the Empire, arrived here this morning.

SUNSHINE GIRLS HAD CONTEST LAST NIGHT

Herb Bell Was Birth Raiser as "The Man from Klondyke" in Gay Comedy.

The chorus girls' contest was one of the leading features at the Westholme Opera House yesterday evening. The Sunshine Girls did their utmost to outvie each other in the excellence of their "stunts." The first prize for the contest was finally awarded to Cecil Breach, who played a violin obligato as an accompaniment to Frances Crane's singing. Florence Merrett took the second place.

The show was "The Man from Klondyke," considered by some to be the best performance which the Frank Rich Company has put on during the present engagement here. Herb Bell was certainly at his best in the leading role, as Heinrich Guggenheimer, the man from Klondyke. Some of the catchiest songs were "My Georgiana Lou" by Bessie Barry and chorus, "Burglar Rag" by Aubrey Carr and chorus and "I Got the Mumps" by Cecil Chaney and the Sunshine Girls. This was Miss Chaney's first attempt at leading the chorus and she did the work very creditably.

The company will play this evening a new comedy with the alluring title "The Magic Bath."

WEALTHY ITALIAN PURSUED BY MAFIA GANG FOR ELEVEN YEARS

DEATH DEALING DEVICE THROWN UNDER HIS HOUSE NEARLY CAUSES DEATH OF THROWERS—THEY WERE CAPTURED.

Los Angeles, June 16.—Mafia punctuated an eleven years' pursuit of J. D. Trepani, a wealthy fruit merchant, formerly of New Orleans, with a bomb explosion which wrecked Trepani's home at midnight last night, fatally hurt one of the dynamiters and seriously injured the other.

under the porch of the Trepani residence. It exploded prematurely and fragments wounded both men and set fire to their clothing. They were captured as they fled, their course being lit by the flames from their blazing garments.

Trepani, who said he had been hounded from New Orleans, but had steadfastly refused to contribute money, was not at home at the time and he and his wife escaped injury. Although dying at the police emergency hospital, one of the bomb throwers persistently refused to give a name. The other was identified by letters in his possession as Peppino Principe, a Sicilian resident here.

Though he did not arrive at the scene until an hour after the explosion, Trepani became intensely excited and the police were able to obtain no information from him further than that he believed the two men were agents of the Mafia, which he declared had begun its persecutions and demands for tribute eleven years ago in New Orleans. Most of his statements were confined to the earnest wishes that the two bomb throwers would die.

WHALER KARLUK SAILS NORTH WITH STEFANSSON EXPLORERS

MISUNDERSTANDING AMONG SHIP OFFICERS JUST ON THE EVE OF STARTING OUT—CHIEF MATE ALLEN DISCHARGED.

Victoria, June 18.—The old whaler Karluk got away yesterday evening with Captain Bartlett in command. There was quite a crowd of people to wave adieu on the wharf before leaving. Chief Mate Allen asked Captain Bartlett for certain instruments which he claimed the chief mate should have on such farewells to the intrepid party of scientists who left for a three years' sojourn in the wilds of snow and ice. Mr. Stefansson, the chief of the expedition, did not leave with the party, but is to join them at Nome later, as ice conditions will not permit of their leaving that point before July 20th.

There was an unfortunate difference of opinion between the captain and the chief mate. Captain Bartlett refused the requisition and hot words followed. This proved the sensation in the operations for departure. "It is better to have it over now than have trouble on the journey," said bluff Captain Bartlett, and at once discharged the mate. Allen was taken quite by surprise but indignantly denied that he had a grouse against the captain.
