Strike Would Boost Idle Workers to 4,000

VANCOUVER (CP)—The number of British Columbia workers idle through labor disputes threatened to jump past the 4,000 mark Friday as Vancouver milk drivers voted overwhelmingly in favor of strike action.

The strike vote, involving more than 1,000 milk drivers in Vancouver and Victoria, came on the second day of a walkout by 3,000 fruit packers in the Okanagan Valley and the 54th day of a strike of 350 seamen employed by Union Steamships Limited.

The Vancouver Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees Union (AFL-TLC) voted 763 to 91 in favor of a strike on a government-supervised vote announced here Friday.

LAST DITCH TALKS

Union officials said a strike deadline would not be set until after another last-ditch bargaining session Monday between the union and representatives of nine major dairies in the Vancouver area

The dispute over wages and number of delivery days involves 900 Vancouver workers and another 180 drivers in Victoria. The Victoria milk drivers announced earlier they would follow the lead of Vancouver drivers in the dispute.

FAMINE IN PROSPECT

The strike, if called, could produce a virtual fresh milk famine for more than 500,000 persons in the lower B.C. mainland and Victoria areas. But union and government negotiators said they were condifent the dispute would be settled without a strike.

At Kelowna, B.C., the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers Unions (AFL-TLC) announced that it had applied to Labor Minister Lyle Wicks "for permission to prosecute employers on a charge of intimidation."

About 3,000 workers struck 28 fruit packing plants in the fertile Okanagan valley Thursday to back up demands for a 10-cent hourly wage increase to the present basic rate of 75 cents an hour for women and $1 for men.

The union's intimidation charge was laid after A. R. Garrish, president of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, issued a prepared statement saying the situation was well in hand and the packing houses have "all the workers needed to handle the current fruit crop."

No new development is expected in the Seafarers' International Union (AFL-TLC) strike against Union Steamships until a newly-appointed federal mediator begins hearings here next week.

The federal labor department Thursday announced the appointment of Eric G. Taylor, Toronto industrial relations consultant, as an "industrial inquiry commission" to attempt to bring the disputants together in a settlement.

The seamen struck July 3 to back up demands for substitution of an hourly pay rate in place of monthly wages.

Scouts See TV Films Produced

The following is the fourth letter from Prince Rupert's six-boy delegation to the Eighth World Boy Scout Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., which concludes this Sunday. Today's letter is from P/L Robin Cameron. Letters are still to be published from Jack Rudolph and Everett Hall.

By ROBIN CAMERON

Sunday started out the same as usual. Our troop leader woke us up at 6:30 a.m., everybody getting it was Sunday and we didn't have to get up until 7 o'clock.

After breakfast we went out to see if the post office was open to see if we could get our Jamboree stamps but the post office didn't open until 1 p.m.

By noon it was so hot that we could barely stand it. After lunch we had to sit in the sun and watch television films being made of various dances done by the Negroes, Scotch, Americans and Filipinos.

We found out today that we will be putting on our Indian dance at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow (Monday, August 22).

After supper we went over to the arena at 7:30 p.m. for a Scouts Own Church service. During the ceremony Camp Chief R. F. Thurman spoke about Scouting.

Tonight a Venezuelan Scout is going to show us a shrunken head from the Amazon.

Fire Destroys Arena, Plant In Moose Jaw

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP) — The Moose Jaw Arena and its artificial ice plant were destroyed early today in a two-hour fire.

The 35-year-old rink, valued at about $150,000, has been used as a roller-skating rink all summer. The fire was reported about 3½ hours after Friday night's roller-skating session ended.

Hundreds of spectators, many of them in night attire and coats, flocked to the scene.

A changing wind saved the Moose Jaw curling rink, a few yards south of the arena. Also saved by the changing wind was the Balmoral apartments, a brick apartment block across a lane from the curling rink.

The arena was located on Ross street west, a half-block west of Main street in downtown Moose Jaw.

BUILT IN 1920

The arena was built in 1920 through the sale of shares to the public. The city later took over.

Arena manager Harry Battell said it would cost more than $50,000 to replace the artificial ice plant.

Two hours after Mrs. V. B. Steffler, cashier of her husband's all-night restaurant on Main Street near the arena, reported the fire, the building was a smouldering ruin. Only faint flames and billows of smoke belched from the charred mass of wood and twisted steel girders.

More than 40 city firemen, including all off-shift workers, were called into service, and they were assisted by members of the RCAF station fire department. City police turned out in full force to direct traffic and assist in other ways.

No injuries were reported. Ambulances stood by in case of accident.

Sailor Told To Support First Wife

Magistrate Oscar Orr suspended sentence and placed Buchan on two-year behavior bond on condition he send at least $90 a month overseas.

Mrs. Buchan No. 2 said she would remarry her husband if he can obtain a divorce from his first wife.

TORONTO (CP)—Nearly $1,000 in registered mail and a post office truck were stolen Friday night by two men disguised in coveralls and caps.

One of the bandits pointed a gun at Sterling's heart and told him: "Give me the truck or I'll kill you." A second man appeared and the pair drove off.

Bad Weather Hampers Search

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bad weather which persistently dogged the search for a missing Pacific Western Airlines plane in the Kemano area, kept search planes grounded again today, according to an RCAF air-sea rescue spokesman today.

He said the swimming gala, which is to follow the Miss Prince Rupert beauty contest at Gyro pool, McClymont Park, is being staged to point up the progress made by the city Parks Board.

Chairman of the Parks Board Bob Eby has been asked to be master of ceremonies for the swimming meet, Mr. O'Neal said

TO OPEN BATH HOUSE

The swim meet will coincide with the official opening of the new McClymont Park bath house, which will be declared open just prior to the beauty contest.

The TLC president said that Doug Newton, chairman of the swimming gala committee and his co-workers had lined up 13 events to include both junior, senior and open swimming and diving events for both girls and boys.

The open events will see students competing for the Trades and Labor Council Grand Challenge trophy for the championship of Prince Rupert and also the Daily News grand aggregate or top competitor trophy.

Apart from 15 contests for the students there is a 100 yards free style race open to all residents of Prince Rupert.

Junior students will be classified as those 12 years and under while seniors will include children over 12 up to high school graduation.

The playground supervisors, whom Mr. O'Neal said "are doing an excellent job," will accept applications to enter the swimming races, or prospective competitors can telephone 4860.

...Did you ever say to anyone ...did in a safety deposit box ...evidence of wrongdoing by the ...police?"

...Det Dougherty said he had. ...statement came after three ...of cross-examination of ...witness by T. G. Norris, counsel for chief Walter Mulligan.

The union president reiterated under Mr. Norris' dogged questioning his previous assertions that Chief Mulligan was responsible for dissension within the force.

The men lacked confidence in the chief and his top officers, Det. Dougherty stated.

ALLEGES FAVORITISM

He named Sup.. John Horton, deputy chief Gordon Ambrose, Supt. Ben Jolly and Sgt. George Pinchin as senior officers who had been promoted because of "favoritism" by the chief. Many other officers had been passed over.

Det. Dougherty mentioned Supt. Harry Whelan, who killed himself with his revolver during the present inquiry, as one officer whom it was felt had received a "raw deal."

Ambrose replaced Whelan as deputy chief when Whelan was demoted for an off-duty misdemeanor.

"It was a very important post" Det. Dougherty said. "Whelan was guilty of a misdemeanor but Ambrose, who was just as guilty of a similar misdemeanor . . . got the post."

Mr. Norris maintained that Det. Dougherty's charges were based on police station "gossip."

Too Much Whisky, Not Enough Cows And Farms on Tour Say Russians

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Federal officials have agreed to reduce the social side of the Russian farmlands tour of Canada after the Soviet visitors' complaint they were seeing too many humans and whisky bottles and not enough cows and tractors.

Soviet farm leader Vladimir Matskevich showed particular impatience Friday during a 200-mile tour of rural spots in southeastern Quebec. The delegation stopped twice for drinks and an exchange of pleasantries at Freligsburg and Granby.

He kept asking to see more cattle and machinery. He barely touched whisky offered him during the day but drank red wine at lunch at Granby.

S. J. Chagnon, chief federal conducting official, said the 16-day tour schedule is being rearranged to reduce social calls.

LEAVE FOR OTTAWA

The nine-man Soviet delegation left this morning for Ottawa by chartered bus after completing a tour of the Montreal area.

Their first stop will be at the farm home of H. H. Hannan, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. The farm is on Ottawa's eastern outskirts.

All through Friday the Russians kept popping questions at Mr. Chagnon and Quebec farmers about Canadian agriculture: the amount of rainfall, irrigation ditches and who built them, hybrid corn crown, types of farm machinery used, crop rotation systems, pastures and co-operatives.

And all the answers were diligently marked down in little notebooks.

The Russians were shown through the huge apple co-operative storage plant at Freligsburg, some 40 miles southeast of Montreal.
