Hulse Scores 27 In Sourdough Win

Ketchikan Sourdoughs swept the second of a two-night exhibition basketball series in the Civic Centre last night, trouncing Prince Rupert All-Stars 71-57 in a slow game that only picked up in the final quarter. Ketchikan's win leaves the series split. All-Stars took Thursday's encounter 59-54.

The city squad found themselves facing a formidable scoring line headed by former Ketchikan High school playmaker, Fred Hulse. Hulse snared 27 of Sourdough's points playing a consistently good four quarters.

Poor marksmanship contributed to the All-Stars' defeat while Ketchikan took full advantage of their better acquaintance of the smaller floor.

The game was slower but showed a little more team co-ordination than Thursday's event. Neither team monopolized the wide-open type of play.

Sparked by Hulse with 11 points, Sourdoughs racked up a comfortable 20-12 first quarter margin which they maintained throughout the game although threatened on several occasions.

Ray Spring and Terry Shenton dropped in two baskets each for All-Stars.

Doing well on rebounds and taking longer shots, All-Stars, led by Shenton, cut down Ketchikan's margin during the second quarter but the shooting of both Bud Land and Lloyd Whaley kept Ketchikan ahead 37-30.

In the third quarter All-Stars' Spring scored seven points to keep Rupert in the game. Hulse laid away six points for Sourdoughs.

Inability to hit the hoop marred All-Stars play in the final quarter. Trailing 54-49 the city squad only managed to break through for eight points while Ketchikan paced by Hulse with seven points and Harry Johansen with six points, forged out 17 points to take the game.

During the final frame, Prince Rupert's John Newton and Mike Young fouled out. Darrel Young fouled out in the previous frame.

Ketchikan made 29 of the 31 foul shots awarded them by referees Vern Ciccone and Bob Sankey while All-Stars caught 11 of the 14 awarded them.

LINEUPS:

Sourdoughs: Whaley 11, Lang 13, Hulse 27, Christopher 10, Hinman 2, Mackey, Johansen 8. Total 71.

All-Stars: Hartwig 2, Shenton 17, Gurney, Sankey 2, D. Young 6, Newton 10, M. Young 7, McAfee, Spring 13, Johnson. Total 57.

Top OSL Teams Whipped By Underdogs

By The Canadian Press

The underdogs in the Okanagan Senior Hockey league have taken to doing more than growling now that playoff time is less than two weeks away.

All season long Vernon Canadians, defending Allan Cup champions, have looked a cinch to go on to defend their title this season. But Friday night the runaway OSHL leaders suffered an 11-4 walloping from the third-place Kelowna Packers.

In another game the runner-up Kamloops Chiefs were upset 6-2 by the cellar-place Penticton Vs. In the Kelowna game, it wasn't all happy smiles of victory. The Packers suffered the loss of two of their players for the season. Mike Durban suffered a broken jaw, sidelining him from the third straight OSHL playoff, in a collision with Frank King. Bill Swarbrick picked up three broken ribs when bodychecked by Ted Lebodia.

Televised NHL Games Boost Interest

By The Canadian Press

Television, which has been blamed for the slow death of some sports, apparently is acting as a shot in the arm for hockey in the United States.

That at any rate is the reaction in hockey centres after the first five of a scheduled 10 nationally - televised National Hockey League games.

This afternoon in Boston the colorful Montreal Canadiens were to be screened in a game with Boston Bruins. Their free-wheeling style of play should cause the game's rating to shoot even higher.

Columbia Broadcasting System executives have been delighted with such reactions as this one from a LaMarque, Tex., viewer: "I have been wishing all my life for a chance to see ice hockey . . . this is the peak in sports enjoyment. . . ."

OWNERS PLEASED

Owners of minor league and NHL clubs have been just as pleased by subsequent effects in attendance figures.

In the American League Hershey Bears turned away 1,000 customers one night, Rochester Americans had a record 7,203 Friday night, and Cleveland Barons played to their first full house this season.

Boston was playing without its top scorer today. The Bruins lost Jerry Toppazzini for the rest of the season in a game against Detroit Thursday. Toppazzini emerged from a collision with Wings' Ted Lindsay with severe lacerations and complicated fractures of the bones around his nose.

Bruins' coach Milt Schmidt accused Lindsay of a deliberate hatchet job, but Toppazzini said Friday night, "I'm sure Ted didn't do it intentionally."

Lindsay says "Nobody feels any worse about it than I do. We're all in hockey to make a living, not to maim anyone."

To replace Toppazzini Bruins have called on Bob Beckett of Quebec Aces in the Quebec League and are also having George Ranieri flown in from Victoria Cougars of the Western League.

Amerks Keep Lead Intact, Canucks Drop Decision

By the Canadian Press

In the 200-odd games played so far this season in the Western Hockey League, the home team has won two out of three games. But Seattle and New Westminster, who ranked one-two in the Coast Division, cut down the margin Friday night. The Americans maintained their four-point lead over the Royals by shutting out Victoria Cougars 2-0 on Cougars' home ice.

New Westminster edged Edmonton Flyers 6-5 before 3,904 Edmonton fans.

ONE GOAL ENOUGH

Canucks, who previously had won seven out of 10 games played on the Prairie tour, dropped a 1-0 decision to the Warriors in Winnipeg.

Murray Wilkie surprised about 3,000 Winnipeg fans and Vancouver goalie Ray Mikulan when he scored Warrior's only goal, a 20-foot sizzler in the third period.

The victory didn't help Warriors much. They are still in the Prairie Division basement nine points back of Calgary Stampeders.

In the night's other low-scoring contest Guyle Fielder fattened his league-leading average with one of Seattle's goals while Bruce Lea got the other.

FOR TWO FASHOWAY

The Royals victory over Edmonton brought no change in the league standing but it increased New Westminster's lead over the third-place Canucks to six points.

Gord Fashoway's second goal of the night in the final period proved the winner. Other Royal marksmen were Bobby Love, Arlo Goodwin, Denny Olson and Ollie Dorohoy.

Flyers counted goals by Tom McCarthy, Jerry Melnyk, Bill McCreary, Don Poile and Ton Leswick.

Goalie Bev Bentley was spectacular in the Royal cage and he also drew a couple of penalties, one for holding the puck. The second came two minutes later when anxious Bev juggled the puck over the boards. Royals protested the resulting penalty by throwing 14 hockey sticks on the ice.

Goldstein Calls Aragon "Bum" In Fight-Fix Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Boxer Dick Goldstein threw welterweight Art Aragon's fight-fixing trial into an uproar Friday by calling him "a bum."

Superior Judge Hebert V. Walker twice threatened to clear the courtroom of spectators, saying it was "not a place of amusement."

Goldstein charges that Aragon offered him $500 to "take a dive" in their scheduled bout at San Antonio, Tex., last Dec. 18. The fight was cancelled when Aragon said he was ill.

The furore began when Aragon's lawyer, Paul Caruso, asked Goldstein whether he had said: "Aragon is a bum. Before I'm through with him he'll be off the sports pages."

Goldstein said he had not threatened Aragon's career but added:

"I called him a bum many times."

"You feel he is a bum today?" asked Caruso.

"Yes," Goldstein replied.

Goldstein had testified earlier that Aragon told him that if he changed his mind about the proposed fix "my life wouldn't be worth two cents."

Paced by Jim Johnson with 32 points, Booth Memorial High School Rainmakers took their eighth victory of the Junior Boys' Basketball League in the Civic Centre last night, downing Annunciation Crusaders 67-51.

The win leaves Bo-Mo-Hi still at the top of the league with Sunrise hard at their heels. Crusaders have only won two of their 12 games.

Scoring six of eight points on foul shots, Johnson sparked Rainmakers to a 22-18 first quarter lead.

He scored four baskets to boost Booth's total of the second quarter to a 36-20 score and went on to add eight points for a 53-40 third quarter tally.

Crusaders put up a strong fight but were unable to cope with the scoring of both Johnson and Kim Mah who notched six points each to help Rainmakers take the easy victory.

Walter Oskoy topped Crusaders with 12 points.
