SHOOTING AS GOOD AS THE BISLEY MATCHES

Now Believed That Prince Rupert Marksmen Will Bring Home the Richmond Cup.

The contest for the cup presented by the sports committee of 1909 took place at the butts on Dominion Day and was won by the Civilians by the narrow margin of 6, just sufficient to "bring the cup back home." The cup was held by the Civilians until last year, when it was wrested from them by the militia. On each occasion the contests have been spirited and the results close. The fine shooting of both sides can be gathered from the following scores:

Civilian Rifle Association. Table with columns: Yds. (200, 500, 600), Total. Rows include D. C. Stuart, D. Brown, C. T. Partington, W. J. Greer, J. N. McDowall, R. W. Cameron, A. Hunter, J. E. Larkin.

Earl Grey's Own Association.

Table with columns: Yds. (200, 300, 400), Total. Rows include Lieut. McDermid, Pte. McLean, Sergt. Brown, Pte. Matheson, Corp. Averill, Pte. Holland, Sergt. Jack, Col. Sergt. Leek.

The Earl Grey handicap spoon was won by Private Holland. It must be remembered that the above scores were made in showery weather, which was a trifle uncomfortable for the men who lay prone for eight shots at each range. Outside of this, however, there was nothing to interfere with good marksmanship, and certainly that was the order of the day.

Excitement began to run high at the finish of the 200 yard range. That ended with no advantage to either team, the score being 248 all. The interest quickened at the 500 yard range, and the score of each marksman was throbbingly watched and canvassed. It ended with three points in favor of the Earl Greys.

The opening of the 600 yard shoot was somewhat sensational. By the rules every contestant was granted a sighting shot, and if he scored on this he could count it, otherwise it was not to count against him in the number of his shots. Thirteen out of the sixteen men competing scored a bulls-eye for every one of these sighting shots, which was certainly enough to start the whole crowd yelling.

Then, after four men on each side had shot, the score was still even. But the next two men on either side lifted the score to 10 in favor of the Civilians, and at that result there was only one side to do the shouting. The militia appeared to be defeated. Holland and Averill pluckily and calmly faced the odds and managed to reduce them by 4.

If you strike the average of the scoring you will find that the high mark of 94 was made, which is equal to the Bisley shooting and the superior of many important shoots in different parts of the world. The outcome of such scoring will be that Prince Rupert will be amply represented at the provincial shoot at Vancouver this month, with a reasonable confidence that our marksmen will bring back with them the Richmond cup.
