ROUTE OF FATHER'S DASH TO DYING SON.

HIGH ESTIMATE IS MADE OF WORTH OF LATE C. M. HAYS

CHAIRMAN SMITHERS OF THE G. T. P. SAYS THE ROAD MIGHT WELL HAVE INSURED THE LIFE OF MR. HAYS
FOR $25,000,000.

Alfred W. Smithers, chairman of the board of directors of the Grand Trunk Railway in a recent interview not only paid a high tribute to the late Charles Melville Hays, former president of the Grand Trunk, but considerably increased the general estimate of the value of such a man to his own generation.

Mr. Smithers says that Mr. Hays, who drew a salary of $75,000 a year, was underpaid, because he added one hundred million dollars to the assets of the company in five years. According to Mr. Hays' productive capacity, his salary, large as it was, was insignificant.

Mr. Smithers now intimates that if the Grand Trunk System had insured the life of Mr. Hays for ten, twenty or twenty-five million dollars, they would not have made any mistake. He says the time is not far distant when $25,000,000 will be considered a moderate estimate to put on the value of the life of a great captain of industry.

Elbert Hubbard, in discussing Mr. Smithers' remarks, quite agrees with him and says:

"There is one woman in America who carries $1,200,000 life insurance. I know of quite a number of men who have a million dollars, and my experience with insurance companies has shown me that whenever an individual applies for two, three, four or five thousand or a million dollars life insurance the record of this man and his productive value are gone over with a fine tooth comb. No one physician's report will satisfy them. He is examined by different physicians in different cities and under various conditions.

"And even then no man can get big insurance unless his life is worth the money.

"For instance, in order to get a million dollars insurance on your life you must be an individual whose loss to the world would be more than a million dollars if you were snuffed out.

That is to say, you cannot overinsure an individual any more than you can overinsure business property.

"Hays was a very remarkable individual. And yet his virtues were of a kind in which we can all participate. He had strength, patience, persistency; and his freedom from all petty jealousy, his breadth of vision, set him apart. He was loyal to the institution that employed him. He gave an absolutely undivided service. He was true to his colors—nights, days and Sundays."

Calgary Has Many Bonds.

The Bank of Montreal, which is acting as fiscal agents to the city of Calgary, has been asked to arrange for the sale of $1,500,000 worth of bonds as soon as possible. The city has for sale $3,500,000 local improvement and general bonds. Money market conditions make it difficult to sell these securities at present.—Monetary Times.

Public Park for Calgary.

A bylaw is being prepared for the purchase of fifty acres on the Bow River, just west of Calgary, for $155,000. This is the result of an understanding between the parks committee and the present owners of the property.

Helping Prince Rupert Fair.

The provincial government has decided to lend its assistance to the exhibition in Prince Rupert next September. It will place at the service of the association two large tents in which to house the exhibits. The dominion government is arranging to make a display of fish, which it is expected will be one of the best ever made.

THE FOREST CLAD DISTRICT THAT SURROUNDS THE THREATENED TOWN OF COCHRANE.

This picture is typical of hundreds of square miles to the east and west of the T. & N. O. Railway, in which forest fires are raging. Elk Lake, Matheson, Earleton and Charlton are surrounded by just such forest growth.
