Two await sentence August 19 after knocking down watchman

Bear mauls 7-year-old at Jasper

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—Laboratory workers today checked for rabies the remains of a 400-pound black bear that killed a seven-year-old girl here last week after wrestling the child away from her mother.

However, national park wardens said they doubted rabies would be found. They said the bear appeared in good condition—it was just healthy as the many bears frequenting the tourist camp grounds where the youngster was mauled.

The bear, about four years old, was no stranger to the Sunwapta Falls cabin grounds 30 miles south of here. Like other bears, it had often foraged the camp, looking for tourists' food hand-outs. Camp workers called the bear Victor.

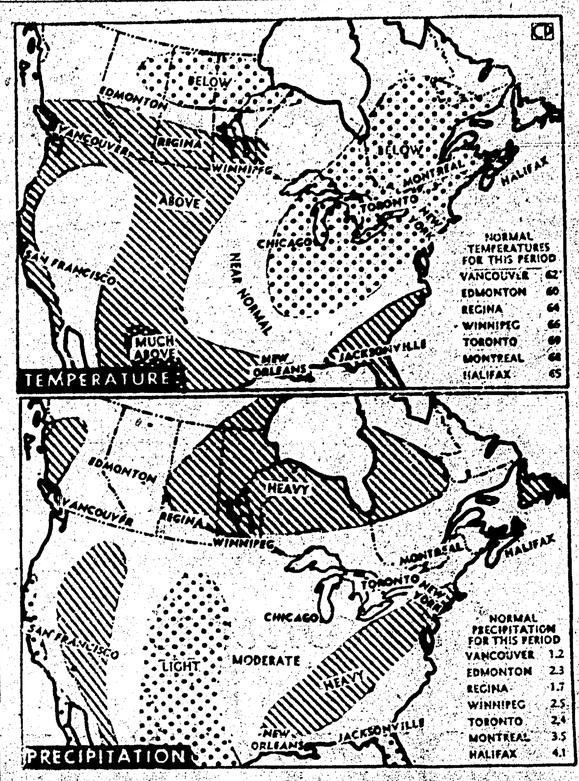
When Victor emerged from the bush in his last visit Friday, Barbara Coates, 7, of Calgary and her five-year-old sister Allison were behind their parents rented cabin picking strawberries. Both let out screams. Allison ran inside the cabin but Barbara stumbled and fell.

POUNCES ON CHILD

The bear pounced on Barbara. Her mother, Mrs. Jack Coates, 30, tried to snatch her daughter clear. The bear sank its teeth into the child's back and dragged both her and Mrs. Coates about 50 yards into the woods before the later was forced to release her grip.

A coroner's inquest decided that Barabara died of a broken back and massive abdominal injuries.

The six-man jury asked that wide publicity be given to the accident, the first fatal accident with bears in Jasper National Park's history.



FOR THE FIRST TIME in four months, the United States long-range weather forecast predicts "normal" temperatures and rainfall for this area. In other words, precipitation will be heavy and temperatures near-average. For southern B.C. the forecast sees above normal temperatures and moderate rainfall. —CP Newsmap.

Pair plead guilty to double charges

Two Prince Rupert men who knocked down an 81-year-old night watchman in the second of two night-time weekend raids on city stores have been remanded for sentence on charges of breaking and entering and theft.

Donald George Findlay, 23, and Donald Nels Jensen, 23, both of Prince Rupert, pleaded guilty before Magistrate E. T. Applewhaite in city police court this morning and were remanded for sentencing August 19.

TWO CHARGES EACH

Each was charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit an indictable offence and with breaking and entering and theft.

Crown Prosecutor A. Bruce Brown told the court that the pair entered the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co - Operative store at Cow Bay 5 a.m. Sunday and after talking for a short while to 81-year-old night watchman Daniel Seewert knocked him to the floor stunning him momentarily. They escaped before the watchman could recover from the blow. Nothing was stolen from the Co-Op, Mr. Brown said.

Mr. Seewart, of 1329 Eighth Avenue East, received no injuries.

STEAL $36

Early Saturday morning the pair broke into the Superior Auto Service at Third Avenue and Park Avenue and stole $36 from the cash drawer. The break-in was discovered a few hours later, the prosecutor told the court.

The two men were charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit an indictable offence at the Co-Op and were charged with breaking and entering and theft in connection with the $36 theft from Superior Auto Service.

Halibutters sell catches

Two halibut vessels sold a total of 122,000 pounds on the Prince Rupert halibut exchange this morning.

"The Sea Ranger" sold 90,000 pounds to Atlin Fisheries for prices of 21.4 cents for medium, 21.2 cents for large and 14 cents for chicken size halibut.

The "Unimak" sold 32,000 pounds to British Columbia Packers for prices of 21.4 cents for medium, 21.4 cents for large and 14 cents for chicken size fish.

Khrushchev says Reds "unbeatable"

KUIBYSHEV, Russia (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khruschev told the West Sunday that the combined might of the Communist camp is unbeatable.

The Soviet leader, in a speech dedicating a huge hydro-electric station, accused Britain and the United States of open aggression against Lebanon and Jordan and of plotting aggression against the new Iraqi republic.

"We will do everything in our power to prevent them from unleashing a new war," Khruschev told his audience on the Volga River.

"But if they do not come to their senses and if they unleash a new aggressive war we and all the other peace-loving nations of the world will do everything in our power to destroy the imperialist aggressors and establish peace throughout the world foreve."

COMMUNISM. SUPREME

It was then that Khruschev added that no one can defeat communism's combined might.

He charged that the United States and Britain scuttled a summit conference by rejecting Soviet proposals and used negotiations as a cover to pour more and more troops into Lebanon and Jordan.

53 Killed in weekend mishaps

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

At least 53 accidental deaths were reported across Canada during the weekend—29 in traffic accidents, 20 drownings and four in miscellaneous mishaps.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. local time Friday until midnight Sunday showed Ontario led the list with 18 deaths, followed by Quebec with 14.

Ten died in traffic accidents in Ontario and seven were drowned. One died in a fire. Quebec had 12 highway deaths, one fatality in a train accident and a baby strangled on a crib strap.

No deaths were reported in New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island. One person was drowned in Nova Scotia. Another was killed by a car. Newfoundland had one fire death.

Drownings were the most common form of weekend accidental death throughout the West—one in Manitoba, four in Alberta, six in Saskatchewan and one in British Columbia. B.C. had five traffic deaths and Alberta one.

B.C. salmon fishing to continue for week

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harvesting of B.C.'s bumper salmon run will continue at least until the end of this week following postponement of a strike deadline by the province's 5,000 salmon fishermen.

The strike, scheduled to start at midnight Saturday night, was postponed after a new offer was made by the Fisheries Association of B.C. A poll of fishermen on a previous offer by the association showed 75 per cent favored a strike.

The joint United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union and B.C. Native Brotherhood bargaining committee recommended fishermen accept the new offer made Saturday by association president James Sinclair.

The offer is for last year's minimum prices for all species except coho, which would be half-a-cent higher, and fall chums caught north of Cape Caution, which would be two cents higher. It also calls for increases in the salmon welfare fund guarantee by $5,000 to $50,000.

REJECT SLIDING SCALE

The previous offer included a sliding scale for sockeye which would gear the price to the size of the pack. This was rejected by the bargaining committee as unacceptable.

Both the union and the association have predicted big catches this year following three poor seasons. The fishermen have said they should be paid at least the same prices as last year so they can make up for small income made when the catch has been light.

The association has said a big catch poses marketing problems and means heavy charges for storage since it cannot be sold in one season.

Blood donations fall short of '57 amount

Prince Rupert residents donated 349 pints of blood during the two-day blood donor clinic staged in the Civic Centre auditorium Thursday and Friday.

Making the announcement today was E. T. Applewhaite campaign chairman for the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

The quantity of blood donated fell slightly short of last year's donations, Mr. Applewhaite said.

City resident dies aged 39

Mrs. Medrick (Grace Martha) Nelson, 39, died Saturday morning in Miller Bay Indian hospital following a lengthy illness.

Born in Port Essington, November, 1918, Mrs. Nelson is survived by her husband, three sons, John, Allan, and Richard and three daughters Barbara, Linda and Lorna, all at home, at 851 Ninth Avenue West.

Mrs. Nelson is also survived by two brothers, William Spalding of Port Edward and Herbert Spalding of Terrace and one sister, Mrs. Franny Cooley of Prince Rupert.

A memorial service will be held at Ferguson Funrela Home Friday at 8 p.m. and the funeral service at 4 p.m. Saturday. Interment is at Fairview Cemetery.

UFAWU executive asks federal inquiry

Number of trade unionists in the immediate area of Prince Rupert asking for a federal inquiry into the Centennial Riot August 3 has risen to more than 2,600.

This morning the local executive of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, representing 200 fishermen and 600 shoreworkers, sent a wire to Justice Minister Fulton requesting a Royal Commission investigation with a special view towards racial discrimination. In this demand the UFAWU followed suit with a Prince Rupert Labor Council wire August 6 to Mr. Fulton. The Labor Council represents about 2,000 trade unionists.

On August 5, the Kitimat-Kemano Labor Council asked for a federal investigation, charging "injustice and cruelty" was suffered by prisoners arrested during the riot.

The UFAWU sent copies of the wire to Frank Howard, MP Skeena, Lester B. Pearson, leader of the opposition, Hazen Argue, CCF house leader in the Commons, and B.C. Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

Stressing the need for equal racial treatment, the UFAWU asks investigation into following points:

- Background of racial discrimination with particular attention to treatment of Natives by RCMP,
- Discrimination against Indians in industry,
- "Double standard" prevailing in business practice between Natives and non-Natives.

The wire predicts outbreaks in the near future "on a more massive scale" as result of a special city committee recommendation that RCMP use a firm hand in dealing with street fights and drunks.

'We feel that you responsibility is to see that all Canadians are given fair equal treatment and that lack of application of the Canadian concept is the basic reason for the riot," the wire concluded.

This morning in police court. Crown prosecutor A. Bruce Brown withdrew four more charges laid in connection with the riot for lack of evidence.

Charged with being members of an unlawful assembly, following persons were freed by Magistrate E. T. Applewhaite:

Harold Barton of Kincolith, Dennie Dixon of Prince Rupert, Felix Davis of Port Edward and Rena Eli of Alyansh.

Jail term imposed for possession

Thomas Lawrence Kennedy, 54, of Vancouver who pleaded guilty on August 1 to a charge of possession of stolen goods over $50, was sentenced to five months in jail by Magistrate E. T. Applewhaite in city police court this morning.

Kennedy was arrested July 26 when he was found in a local hotel room with a suit case containing an electric razor and a suit valued at more than $50 that was stolen from a fishing boat at Cow Bay.

H. J. Campbell dies aged 56

A city fisherman Harry J. Campbell, 56, died Sunday morning in Prince Rupert General hospital, following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Campbell has no known relatives. Funeral arrangements, in the hands of Ferguson Funeral Home, will be announced at a later date.

Okanagan man-hunt goes on as suspect escapes posse

PENTICTON, B.C. (AP)—RCMP are positive they had a fleeting glimpse during the week-end of a man who has eluded police-led posses throughout the southern Okanagan for the last seven days.

The search for Donald Stevens, charged with wounding an RCMP corporal at a roadblock set up following the slaying of a woman fruit picker, was narrowed Sunday to the heavily-wooded Green Mountain area 10 miles west of here.

Stevens was sighted by a three-man squad of RCMP on a winding dusty road between here and Keremeous, 20 miles to the south-west. But their quarry disappeared into the dense timber that flanks the road.

Stevens was carrying a rifle over his shoulder, police said. He was previously thought to be armed with an automatic pistol.

ARMFUL—Lindsay Crosby, Bing's son, seems to be living in a pool's paradise as he heads for a swim at the Concord Hotel in Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., accompanied by a pretty brunette and blonde—Doris Wiss and Lynn Rosenthal. Miss Wiss is said to be the new heart interest in young Crosby's life.

VISITORS INSPECT FRIGATES DURING WEEKEND STAY HERE

A large number of city residents yesterday afternoon took advantage of a warm sunny day to visit Royal Canadian ships the "New Waterford" and the "Antigonish."

Arriving here Saturday morning from Nanoose Bay, the frigates were in port on route to Juneau to engage in University Naval division summer training.

HMCS New Waterford is under the command of Lt.-Cmdr. W. S. Blandy CD, and the Antigonish is under the command of Lt.-Cmdr. W. J. Cocks, each with eight officers, 20 cadets and crews of 130 men. The ships sailed this morning.

Precautions unnecessary

The RCMP detachment here was all ready Saturday night for a repitition of rioting which ended British Columbia centennial celebrations in this coastal city a week earlier.

The normal three-man night force at headquarters was enforced with about 10 extra officers and squad cars were held in service through the night. Shore patrols from the visiting destroyers HMCS Antigonish and New Waterford were on duty in the city.

But nothing happened. There wasn't even a fist fight.
