Museum Briefs

By JOCELYN BOLTON

Our Tag Day was a success, thanks to all the very good taggers who volunteered their time and effort to the cause of Museum Building Fund. I wish to thank you all for a good job done, and also the weatherman behaved so well, which also helped to make our tag day a success. Many friends also helped, and I especially want to again thank P. F. P. Bird, who always comes and counts all the money, deposits the take and in that way relieves me of that very tiresome task, and as the funds are "in trust" it makes auditing complete, to have your banker handle all money. John McLeod of North Star Bottling Works, was again very kind in donating soft drinks for the taggers, and we appreciate this generous donation, because they get pretty thirsty.

Mrs. Clarence Dixon also was a willing helper and drove taggers to Miller Bay, Watson Island and Port Edward, and gave the whole day to helping us, we thank her very much. Mrs. George Fowlie brought in a lovely box of home made cookies for the taggers and is always very generous on tag day, we thank her also, and other businessmen also made generous contributions to our fund and we give them a special "thank you."

The Daily News was very generous in their publicity and we appreciate their support very much.

In looking through some old papers the other day, I came across a menu of the First Annual Meeting and Dinner of the Museum, held at the Boston Cafe, Tuesday, Feb. 23 at 6:30 p.m. 1932, and as it was really well printed, thought it might be of interest to you to see what they had for dinner.

I hope some of you will be interested as I was, when I came across this rather old and interesting past of the Museum of Northern British Columbia.

Teen Talk

By SUE KERGIN

Hello, everybody!

Monday afternoon some 25 Booth Memorial High school senior girls heard a talk about the teaching profession, given by Mr. Ozard who is the head of the College of Education at the University of British Columbia. Not all of these girls are planning on the teaching profession but a good half of them are, and they all found Mr. Ozard's speech very interesting. He told the group that there are 35 professors and instructors in the College of Education; and that approximately 650 teaching students attend the Vancouver College and the remaining 250 attend Victoria College. He also mentioned the requirements of a teacher; the special courses, summer schools, and the different types of teaching certificates.

Yesterday afternoon 45 senior girls were taken on a conducted tour through some divisions on the first floor of Prince Rupert General Hospital. The four divisions were: the laboratory, the kitchens, the board room where a demonstration on operating technique was given and the X-ray department. The girls found the hospital very intriguing and some of them even posed as "patients" for minor demonstrations and blood testing. The tour was offered to these students as part of the celebrations of the hospital in commemoration of Florence Nightingale.

There will be a CYO dance in the Annunciation Hall this Friday, May 10. Everybody is welcome to attend, and remember, the dance hall is always well filled, so get there early.
