SHIPWRECKED MARINERS FROM THE WEEDIN ARE IN RUPERT

THEY WERE WRECKED DURING FOG ON ROCK NEAR FREDERICKS ISLAND—ACCIDENT WAS DUE TO AN ERROR IN THE CHART.

Five members of the crew of the vessel Weedin, which was wrecked recently during a fog on White Point, are now in town. They are the skipper, H. Olstrom; the chief mate, Hugh Daly; the deckman, Olaf Jacobson, and two of the fishermen, Dan Campbell and Joe Davis. They arrived here this morning by the Prince Rupert.

of the latest and was four or five miles out so far as this point was concerned. "We stayed by the boat for five days, hoping that some vessel might come which would enable us to take away the cargo of fish which we had caught, this being 95,000 pounds. It was fine weather and we did not suffer from exposure. We rescued our clothing and grub and all the thirty-three members of the crew were safe. We saved eight of the twelve dories. The other four were smashed on the rocks. We turned over the dories and slept under them at night. "As no vessel hove in sight, we put to sea in the dories on the sixth day and rowed to Naden Harbor. The trip took us about thirty hours, but this includes a stop for some hours on land on the way. At Naden Harbor we were most hospitably treated. Twenty-eight members of the crew went south on the Prince John. The rest of us came to Prince Rupert on the Prince Albert. The officers of that vessel treated us with marked consideration and we can feel nothing but gratitude to them for their kindness."

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 4.—Incidental to the miners' strike there was a pretty tough battle in a Hungarian boarding house at the Wolverine mine yesterday. The men and women inmates used hot water, pepper and all sorts of household utensils as weapons, and would have routed the sheriffs completely had not the troops come to their aid and rescued them. PUMPING STATION AT SHAWATLANS IS READY

Was in Operation Yesterday for the First Time—Test Was Very Satisfactory.

The new pumping station at Shawatlans Passage for pumping the water from the lake into the city reservoir was in operation yesterday for the first time. Acting Mayor Dybbavn, who, along with other civic officials, witnessed the test, reports that the plant worked most satisfactorily. The test was only a preliminary one and none of the water pumped went into the reservoir. Before Shawatlans water is used the pipe line will be thoroughly washed. Yesterday the water was pumped only as far as the first ridge on the city side of the passage. A few adjustments have yet to be made before the plant will be put in regular operation, although if it were necessary the pumping station could be started up at any moment. It is expected that it will be in regular operation in less than a week.

GREEKS LOSE TWO THOUSAND KILLED IN VERY HOT BATTLE

THEY ALSO HAD SEVEN THOUSAND WOUNDED BUT THEY MANAGED TO REPULSE THE ATTACKS OF THE BULGARIANS

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Aug. 4.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph with the Greeks at Salonika describes a recent battle between the Greeks and the Bulgarians in the Djura district. He states that this battle was one of the most hotly contested in the whole war. The Bulgarians, says the correspondent, reinforced with fifty thousand men withdrawn from the Serbian frontier, made an unexpected attack on the Greek left wing. The fight lasted for two days, with varying successes on either side. Victory finally rested with the Greeks, who eventually captured their lost positions and forced the Bulgarians to retire. The Greek losses were two thousand killed, including many of the officers, and seven thousand wounded.

Athens, Aug. 4.—Official despatches from the front admit that a strong attack by the Bulgarian forces compelled the Greeks to retire from their strong positions on the heights in the neighborhood of Petchova, Vevukovit and Kavitsa, but it is claimed that the fresh Bulgarian attacks on Djura were repulsed with great loss to the enemy.

PROVINCIAL PRESIDENT'S ADHERENTS ADVOCATING INTRODUCTION OF DICTATORIAL GOVERNMENT SO THAT THEY MAY DIVIDE SPOILS.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Pekin, Aug. 4.—The revolutionary forces of the south are being steadily subdued by the northern troops supporting the government and the provisional president, Yuan Hi Kai. The rebel leaders disappear whenever the rebel centre is menaced by government troops. The President's adherents express much elation over the successes gained by the loyal armies, and advocate the introduction of a dictatorial government, in the hope that this would result in the establishment of the new Yuan dynasty, under which they would share the spoils. Peking, Aug. 4.—With the fall of the ports at the mouth of the Yantze, which are believed to be imminent, the river will be cleared of rebels. It is thought that when this is accomplished the rebellion will resolve itself into provincial outlaws, which can be soon terminated. The latest reports from Shanghai say that Dr. Sen, the former provisional president, is still there, but that the other two leaders have fled.
