Urges Lotteries

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. Birger of Oslo, Norway, said here Canada should legalize lotteries to help the health and well-being of the country. The lottery system is legal in Norway. "It can make Canada one of the healthiest nations in the world," he said.

POETIC LAWYER

Louis Honore Frechette, French-Canadian poet who died in 1908, was also a lawyer and member of Parliament.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES
By FRED RYAN

While Kitimat is a promising centre in which a man may start or even contemplate a business of his own, it is not, in my opinion, the fabled goose that pops a golden egg into an outstretched hand.

But, to a person who gives a little forethought to the service he intends to supply to the community, and then works diligently forming the enterprise of his choice, Kitimat will assure a business that has a reasonable opportunity to prosper.

My advice to a person seeking a business opportunity in Kitimat is to first count his money, then ask himself where he will situate. Should he be fortunate and manage to secure a location in the Aluminum Company of Canada, Limited, Commercial Building located in the City Centre, he can use his money to install fixtures and put stock into his store and can be sure of his future, providing he is willing to work.

Presently there are a number of opportunities that would provide an excellent income catering to the present population of Kitimat. There is a crying need for a bakery, delicatessen, specialty eating house, and furniture store. Actually, you name anything we haven't got and this community of ours would require it.

Taking the theme of business opportunities in Kitimat a step further, keeping in mind the rapid population growth and future projected expansion of our industry, you can take a directory of any Canadian town that has a population of over 25,000, and any business that is prospering there will do equally as well here.

In conclusion, I would point out to people who wish to establish a business in Kitimat that they first make inquiries from the local Chamber of Commerce, who would be happy to lend all the assistance possible, be sure that suitable premises are available and you have the approval of the Town Planning Department of the Municipality to locate. Then bring in your stock, work diligently, and my guess is that success would be assured in this fast-growing community.

Beards Popular

WATERLOO, Ont. (CP) — Robert Totzke, marshal for the beard-growing contest which is part of Waterloo's centennial celebrations this summer, reports that only about half the 350 entries to date are from Waterloo. The rest came from Kitchener and other nearby communities.

DR. JOHN E. KEYSTON of Halifax has been appointed vice-chairman of the defence research board. He formerly was chief superintendent of the naval research establishment at Dartmouth, N.S. (CP Photo)
