Women of the Moose

Plans for an active autumn season were foretold last week when five Women of the Moose committees held regular sessions, to make arrangements for the WOTM fall bazaar, November 12 and to complete plans for money raising projects.

The Women of the Moose Library committee met August 12 and made plans for a bake sale to be held September 20 in Gordon and Anderson. At the session, held at the home of Mrs. John Patrick with Mrs. Maurice Trudeau as hostess, plans were also made for the bazaar, at which the committee will sponsor a novelty booth. Departing member Mrs. Stuart Campbell, who leaves shortly to reside in Quesnel, was presented with a farewell gift. The evening concluded with whist. Winners were Miss Sylvia Johnson and Mrs. John MacDougall.

On the same night the publicity committee met at the home of Mrs. H. I. Phipps, with eight members and three guests present. During the business session, plans were made to hold a photo contest at the committee's chapter night, September 3. The group also plans to sell Christmas cards and novelties as a money raising project. Winning the night's prize was Mrs. Halfred Stevenson.

On August 13 the hospital committee held its meeting in the Moose Temple with six members and one guest present. Mrs. Walter Eyre was hostess. Plans were made for bingo night, September 6. Raffle books for a bedspread were distributed. Mrs. Leonard Raabe won the night's prize. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Raabe, September 10.

Also on Wednesday night, the Moosehaven committee met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Long with nine members and one guest in attendance. The group completed its plans for a rummage sale, to be held August 23. Entertainment was comprised of a showing of slides by Mrs. Percy Bond, on her recent visit at Mooseheart, Illinois.

The home-making committee met under the chairmanship of Mrs. Thomas Walsh at the home of Senior Regent Mrs. William Pilfold. Members displayed the doll to be raffled as a money making project. Sewing for the doll's wardrobe began. The group also made plans for a white elephant stall to be featured at the WOTM fall bazaar.

Ex-residents announce engagement

Of interest in the city was the announcement made today by former city residents, Mr. and Mrs. Werner (Barney) Berg of the engagement of their daughter Gayle Irene, to Gordon John Kraft, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Kraft of Allen, Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Berg left here a year ago to take up residence in New Westminster. While in the city, Mr. Berg was a dispatcher for a taxi company.

Miss Berg was a grade 11 student at Booth Memorial High School during the 1956-57 term.

Mrs. Howe arrived early in July and is the house-guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, and shown at their home on Third Avenue West. She leaves for Ontario August 25. Sherril Cook also leaves August 25 with her mother for Vancouver where she will enter "Crofton House" in September. —Staff photo.

Susan Clibbett wins first flower prize

A 13-year-old girl, Susan Clibbett, won the first prize of $5,000 worth of fire insurance Saturday when she was awarded first prize for growing the prettiest bouquet of nasturtiums this summer in a contest sponsored by T. Norton Youngs. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Clibbett, 244 Fifth Avenue West.

Taking second prize of $2,000 fire insurance for growing the largest flower entered in the contest, was Syd Hamblin of 420 Fourth Avenue East.

Bruce Merrison, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Merrison, 1110 Sixth Avenue East, received the third prize of $1,000 worth of fire insurance for the largest leaf entered which measured 7¼ inches in diamenter.

The contest was held to help beautify Prince Rupert during its Centennial year, Mr. Youngs said.

More than 2,000 packets of nasturtium seeds were delivered early this spring to every house in the city.

Judging the large array of flowers entered were Mrs. Alex Mitchell, P. E. P. Bird and Miss Marjorie Tattersall.

PRINTED PATTERN M316
by Oldric Royce

PROMINENT DESIGNER

Most alluring silhouette for fall is the floating harem skirt, interpreted here (with breath-taking elegance) by top couturier Oldric Royce. It's easier to sew than you think—fabric is simply gathered onto a narrow underskirt. The bodice is distinguished by beautiful shaping with pleats accenting the curve of the neckline. This romantic designer sees you in motion—dancing, turning, walking with eye-appealing grace. Choose a fluid silk crepe, night-gleaming faille or satin for your couture copy of Printed Pattern M316—a brilliant way to launch the new season of parties and theatre-going.

Printed Pattern M316 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 requires 6 yards 39-inch fabric.

Send ONE DOLLAR for Printed Pattern M316 to Prince Rupert Daily News, Pattern Department, 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ontario.

City man wins CNE arts prize

A Civic Centre volunteer arts and crafts instructor was the winner of a first prize in the Arts and Crafts section of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, it was learned here today.

Henry Seppa, 1254 Second Avenue West, won his prize of $40 for his entry of a matching silver pin, bracelet and earrings set, made during the Civic Centre Potpourri last April.

Mr. Seppa received his training as a silversmith in Finland.

He won the first prize in the jewellery competition of "Best Designed Jewellery" including enamelling but excluding stone setting.

PERSONALS
