Francois Lake

On Saturday evening there was a gathering of about 50 geese out on the lake ice. One lone swan is staying in the meadow behind the church. Probably waiting for the ice on the lake to melt so that it can swim. The ice is getting very grey looking and is rotten at the edges.

Jack O'Meara's sister Mrs. John Lindsay and her daughter Beverley are staying with the O'Meara family here for a few days. Their home is in Vanderhoof, and they travelled here by train.

Bill Van Tine is mystified as to how a little black and white spaniel puppy could have come to his farm at Grassyplains. A dead horse was lying not far from the road to his home, and as an eagle had recently come to feed on the carcase and the puppy was left near the dead horse he thinks that the eagle was carrying the puppy when it decided to come down and feed on the horse. He probably flew off and forgot the puppy, or was too gorged with food to carry the puppy up into the air.

If we want worms in our gardens to help work the soil or for fishing with we have to start them and take care of them. I was digging in my front garden the other day when our just past four-year-old little grand - daughter Marie came down to help. She was delighted when I turned up a worm and would bury it carefully again "to put it to bed" as she said. After a while she and I had a slight difference of opinion as she was dancing on a batch of little tulips just showing above the ground. She decided to go home, which is next door. Just as she was leaving she remarked "Goodbye Gran'ma. I like your worms but I don't like you!"

There was a general meeting of the Francois Lake Recreational commission at the Hugh Neave home on Thursday evening, with eight members present. The sum of $10 was given the 4-H Homecraft club. and $25 to the Athletic club to help towards building new bleachers and repairing the back-stop at the Community hall.

The Van Zanten boys saw two moose cross the lake from the southbank to this side early on Friday morning. The ice didn't hold them up as they got near this side, so they had to wade in at the last, with the water up to their stomachs.

Licenced Guide Offers Aid

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS (CP) —A licensed guide has offered to devote months "if necessary" to hunting the Sasquatch, hairy giants of legend.

The offer of Jack Kirkman was accepted by the Harrison Hot Springs centennial committee, which plans a Sasquatch hunt as part of its observance of B.C.'s 1958 centennial.

However, committee chairman Tony Barger said no plans for the hunt will be made until the project is approved by the B.C. Centennial Committee.

If the B. C. body approves, the Harrison group will have about $700 to launch the search in surrounding mountains. The money comes from a government and village centennial allocation.

EXPORT CARS
