You Will Find

Nine open-stock patterns of Dinnerware in our Crockery department. Some of them are just plain, everyday crockery and others are fine china, but they are all good patterns and good, clean stock without flaws.

Some of our customers select a pattern and buy a few pieces at a time until they gradually accumulate a complete set without feeling the expenditure.

No matter how little or how much you may want to spend on dishes, we have qualities to suit, and no matter if you don't want to spend anything we are glad to have you "look around."

SOUNDS LIKE WILSON

Crabs That Climb Trees and Chase the Squirrels.

It is not generally known that Delkatlah Bay is the habitat of the succulent crab. They are very numerous near the mouth of All Those Desiring to Study the bay and have a very fine flavor. Old timers like C. M. Wilson aver that on a sunny day they crawl up on the beach, form in platoons and engage in sham battles. Many of them climb adjacent trees and chase the squirrels for sport.
