RELIGIOUS RIOTING IN ROME WAS VERY IMMINENT SUNDAY

FOUR HOURS WERE OCCUPIED BY CATHOLIC ATHLETES IN GETTING TO ST. PETER'S TO BE RECEIVED BY HIS HOLINESS.

(Special to The Daily News)
Rome, Sept. 8.—The streets were guarded yesterday by police carabinieri and troops from the Church of St. John. Lanterns where the Catholic Athletics heard mass, to St. Peter's, to which edifice they marched to be received by the Pope. The great parade planned was prohibited by the police on account of threatened reprisals by the anti-clericals. Notwithstanding the strictest measures to ensure order, a few scuffles occurred, amid the cries of the Catholics, "Long live the Pope." to which the clericals responded, "Long live Free Thinking."

Four hours were occupied by the athletes in reaching St. Peter's, where on their unfurled flags they knelt when the Pope appeared on the balcony. The Pontiff enquired regarding the obstacles placed in the way of the demonstration, and urged extreme prudence. The Ossavatore Romano published articles inspired by the Vatican protesting against the prohibition of the parade, which it considers an offence against the liberty of Catholics.

BRITISH COLUMBIA IS COMING TO FRONT FOR HOMESTEADERS

THE PRAIRIE PROVINCES SHOW CONSIDERABLE DECREASE IN HOMESTEADING, THIS PROVINCE RECORDS INCREASE OWING TO RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION.

Hawa, Sept. 6.—Homesteads in Western Canada for the first half of the present year totalled 45,154. This is a decrease of 3,376 or over 20 per cent, as compared with the first six months of 1912, despite a considerable increase in immigration. It indicates the growth and scarcity of "free land" in the prairie provinces now suitable for settlement and within easy reach of railway communication.

British Columbia is now beginning to attract the homesteader. The construction of the C. N. R. and G. T. P. across the province is being followed by a steady trail of new settlement. During the six months from January to June of this year homestead entries in British Columbia totalled 1,250. During the corresponding six months of last year the total was only 124.

JAPANESE PEOPLE DEMANDING WAR WITH CHINA AND AMERICA

Populace Besieges Foreign Office Insisting That Troops Be Sent to China to Obtain Satisfaction for Killing of Japanese at Nanking

Tokio, Sept. 8.—The assassination of Mortarto Abe, director of the political bureau in the foreign office, which took place Saturday evening, has caused a tremendous political reaction against China, at whose instigation it is believed the murder was committed, and one of the most dramatic chapters in the history of new Japan is being written today.

Fifteen thousand men gathered at a mass meeting in Hibiya Park yesterday and loudly called for military action against China. After a number of fiery speeches they marched upon the foreign office and clamored for admission. They demanded the dispatch of troops to China at once, and that the government of Japan at once take the necessary measures to obtain satisfaction for the killing of Japanese at Nanking. Failing in this they demanded the immediate resignation of the minister of foreign affairs, Baron Makino.

The speakers denounced the flimsiness and emptiness of Japanese diplomacy in connection with the California alien act, and declared that the Chinese republic would insist upon the Japanese flag being wiped out, some of the leaders of the neighboring republic having publicly stated this.

The manifestation was clearly an explosion of popular resentment against the ministry. Profiting by the lessons of the riots which followed the conclusion of peace with Russia, the Japanese government reduced the risk of violence by refusing to permit a single policeman or soldier to appear upon the scene of the manifestation.

The demonstration was participated in principally by students, and was orderly during the early part of the day. But later a score of agitators, including a girl who had been educated in the United States, swayed the mob and worked them up to a frenzy. The speakers decried Japanese diplomacy generally, declaring that it had never contributed to the upbuilding of the empire and had always ended in failure. The incidents connected with the civil war in China, and China's bearing in regard to Japan generally, were declared to be unbearable.

In the midst of these treasonable harangues a sudden cry to march to the foreign office was raised. This caused a general stampede, in which many persons were nearly crushed to death and several may die. The crowd wildly surged through the streets only to find the iron gates of the foreign office locked. Scores pounded vainly at the gates, but the under officials refused to open them and a delegation climbed over.

A long parley ensued, during which the crowd grew impatient. A photographer seeking to make snapshots was stoned and the gathering showed growing signs of anger. Then one of the chief delegates mounted the portal and announced the progress of the negotiations going on inside. He said that it was the voice of the people speaking and that the agitation would never end until their demands were granted.

The extraordinary situation lasted for five hours, finally ending when assured that Baron Makino would receive a delegation and give their representations every consideration. Half of the crowd afterward marched to the baron's residence, five miles away, but were stopped by the police and not permitted to get too close to the palace.

TWENTY THOUSAND MOURNERS AT GRAVE OF IRISH STRIKER

SHOUTS OF "POLICE" BROKE UP FUNERAL PROCESSION AND LEFT HEARSE CONTAINING COFFIN ALMOST ENTIRELY DESERTED.

Dublin, Sept. 4.—Two miles of mourners followed to the grave yesterday the body of James Nolan, the laborer who was killed by a police baton charge last Saturday. Through the heat and dust of the main streets and beyond to the cemetery at Glasnevin, five miles away, more than 20,000 men, women and children tramped to the solemn music of three bands. They marched with heavy steps and with sullen faces of persons nursing sorrow.

There was one moment of swift panic to break the steady trudging to the grave. Restless horses bolted just as the hearse was passing the Imperial Hotel in Sackville, where at least 10,000 spectators were congregated. So nervous was the crowd after the events of the past few days that shouts of "Police" were raised and in an instant hundreds of women, carrying babies, were rushing for safety in shops and houses.

The procession was broken and the hearse containing the coffin was left deserted, except for half a dozen men who bore a large wreath on poles. Quite fifty thousand persons were at the cemetery. What police were present were hidden behind tombstones.

WORK HAS STARTED ON FAIR GROUNDS.

Architect Potter Has Prepared Attractive Designs for Exterior and Interior.

Work started this morning at the roller skating rink in preparing and levelling the grounds surrounding that building for the forthcoming Prince Rupert exhibition, and from now on there will be a busy scene on Sixth avenue. It was decided at Saturday night's meeting of the directors of the Northern British Columbia Agricultural and Industrial Association to place the construction work in charge of A. J. Prudhomme and the architect, J. W. Potter. The latter has prepared most attractive designs for both interior and exterior decorations. A vast quantity of bunting—purple and orange, the colors of the association—has arrived for decorative purposes, and this work will be in charge of Lionel Crippen.

All wishing to obtain copies of the fair catalogue and prize list may obtain same, together with entry forms, at the exhibition office, or same will be promptly mailed on receipt of written request. As there is a vast amount of detail work to be handled by the secretary, it is requested that entries be made at as early a date as possible.
