28th ANNIVERSARY PARTY

Distinguished visitors attend SON birthday banquet, concert

The Canadian, Norwegian and American flags were proudly saluted Saturday night whn the ons of Norway Vinland lodge No. 28 clebrated its 28th anniversary with a dinner dance and variety program in the SON hall.

Guests of honor were the Regional Manager of the Sons of Norway lodges for British Columbia, Tormod Rekdal and his wife, the social director of the Sleipner lodge No. 8, of Vancouver.

President P. L. Peterson introduced the guests and artists.

In his address, Mr. Rekdal spoke on the activities of the SON lodges and the "wonderful benefits" received from the SON insurance policies. He also praised the work of the lodges in helping to support the Normana rest home in New Westminster.

Among the congratulatory telegrams received was one from the Mitnosola Lodge in Ketchikan, Alaska.

For the occasion the hall was attractively decorated in an autumn motif.

Taking part in the enjoyable variety program was vocalist Mrs. Morris Kaardal, a vocal duet and skit by Mrs. Charles Dearaway and Mrs. Jack Adams and a monologue by Miss Dearden. Miss Olive Strand presented several piano selections and accompanied the singers.

Presenting accordion numbers were Michael Colussi and his pupils Miss Andrea Hansen and Miss Margaret Toth.

General convener for the successful affair, atended by some 100 members and guests, was Mrs. John Pedersen.

PRECIOUS TROPHY

CHAPLEAU, Ont. (CP)—A hunter from the U.S. warned by a game warden that his car's roof might be damaged by placing a bull moose on top, replied: "That's all right. There are lots of new cars in the States, but mose are hard to come by."

JOHN MUST returned to the city last week to take up the position of producer with Canadian Broadcasting radio station CFPR. Mr. Must left Prince Rupert in March of this year after working with CFPR as an announcer for almost a year. He made a tour of the United States and worked with private television in Ontario before taking his new position here. He filled the vacancy left open by R. D. Falconer who became station manager of CBC in Whitehorse.

Commissioner to meet Scouters

The Boy Scout Field District Commissioner, Joseph Turner of Prince George will make two visits to the city within the next week, the Prince Rupert Boy Scouts association executive were told last Thursday night.

Vice-President E. T. Applewhaite presiding, said that Mr. Turner would meet with the Scouters this Thursday and on November 24 he would again be in the city to meet with the sponsoring groups and church groups.

At the executive meeting, it was decided to stage the annual Boy Scout association dinner December 1 in the Canadian Legion.

Seeds of the white birch tree number close to 1,500,000 per pound of weight.

Weekly chess

A weekly chess tournament has now been organized at the Civic Centre to be held every Wednesday at 8 p.m., program director Jake Vandenbrink announced today.

Mr. Vandenbrink said that beginners were also encouraged to join the Wednesday night chess classes.

No formula for gaining credit rating

There was no magic formula for the recognition of good or poor credit risks, the members of the Prince Rupert Retail Credit Grantor's association were told last night when the group held its quarterly meeting in the Prince Rupert Hotel banquet room.

Speaking to the members was Richard A. Morley, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

"Where 1.4 per cent of business failures are found to be due to insurable factors such as fire, 8.9 per cent of failures are due to bad accounts receivable," Mr. Morley reported.

He urged the co-operation of merchants, banks and credit bureaus in the proper administration of credit.

Forty enjoy SON whist

Ten tables were in play Friday night when the Sons of Norway held its weekly whist tournament in the SON hall.

Taking men's first was Ted Rorvok, Paul Oklaimitz, second and Emil Sletten, pool.

Mrs. A. E. Norton took the women's first prize, Mrs. J. M. Jordan, second and Mrs. Gunnard Anderson, pool.

FRANCOIS LAKE—The Women's institute held the annual bazaar in the hall last Saturday afternoon, and the Landing was surely a busy place for a while. Tables the full length of the hall were laden with handiwork done during the past year, sewing, knitting, embroidery. Forty aprons were offered at the Scottish apron stall.

Also for sale were plants, magazines, mystery parcels, home cooking, candy and a fishpond for the children. The school children made attractive baskets filled with candy and managed their own little stall.

The 4-H Girls club had a very attractive display of their work during the year, including dresses, blouses and wool slippers. They also held dart contests, muffin pan toss and guessing contests.

The door prize, a Christmas decorated candle, was won by Mrs. John Keefe. I won an apron as the number on one I had bought at the stall was the lucky one. Tea was served at attractively decorated tables.

✦ ✦ ✦

Margaret Anderson came to the Landing today by boat the twenty miles from their ranch on her way to Vancouver where she will have to undergo an operation.

✦ ✦ ✦

The meadows are gay with dandelions in bloom, which is unusual here at this time of the year.

✦ ✦ ✦

Mr. A. J. Lenehan and Mr. W. Buckingham called in for a short visit on Thursday. They live in Prince George and were fishing for steelhead in the Morris River, but the lake is too high so they had no luck. They are now trying for grouse and moose.

✦ ✦ ✦

Clarence Snyder had just had a registered five months old Galloway bull shipped in by express from Lipsett's in Regina. It was crated and the express from Lipsett's in Regina. It was crated and the express charge on it was $124.70.

✦ ✦ ✦

Mr. Harman Hadland of Regina is well drilling in the district and staying in Burns Lake. He is working from Smithers to Prince George, and handles the machinery by himself.

We are anxious to have a well drilled for our school, but the expenditure has not been passed yet.

✦ ✦ ✦

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rowbotham called on us last week. They are both with Nelson Brothers Fisheries in Port Edward.

✦ ✦ ✦

Flying Officer Jack Leonard and L. A. C. Mary Pickering from the Royal Canadian Air Force Ground Observer Corps Filter Centre in Prince George are visiting Civilian Ground Observer Corps Observation Posts in the Burns Lake-Smithers Area.

The Ground Observer Corps is an adjunct of The Royal Canadian Air Force and a part of the Nation's Air Defence system for early warning in the case of an enemy attack. This organization also serves as a member of the Search and Rescue organization, providing information on the movements of Air Craft reported missing.

Personally speaking . . . .

A six-month sojourn in Scotland will be enjoyed by Mrs. G. Douglas Hague and her three children, Don, 11; Leona, 4 and Earl, 2, of 967 Sixth Avenue East, who leave tomorrow morning by Canadian Pacific Airlines plane.

Making the entire journey across Canada and the Atlantic by air, Mrs. Hague will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. G. Leck, whom she hasn't seen in ten years, in Glasgow, Scotland.

Mr. Hague will join his family early next summer and return with them, following a European tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Tormod Rekdal of Vancouver are in the city visiting members of the Sons of Norway lodge. While here for a week, they are guests at the Prince Rupert Hotel.
