THAW GETS A ROUGH DOSE OF CANADIAN JUSTICE

JAPS LAND TROOPS IN CHINA—WIFE MURDER AT FERNIE—BOMBARDIER KNOCKS OUT GUNNER

THAW IS SUDDENLY DEPORTED BY THE CANADIAN OFFICIALS

KICKED AND FOUGHT HIS CAPTORS AND SCREAMED THAT HE WAS BEING KIDNAPPED—EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS IN VERMONT

Colebrook, Que., Sept. 11.—Harry K. Thaw will not have another famous trial in Canada on the 15th, as has been announced, because he is no longer in Canada. Much against his will he is now back on American soil in the state of Vermont. The Canadian immigration authorities yesterday got a move on and hustled him over the border.

Acting under the instructions of the Minister of Justice the immigration officials took Thaw out of the immigration pen at the Grand Trunk depot and in an automobile rushed him to the Vermont boundary, where he was arrested by United States officials.

Thaw was greatly surprised when the officials entered the pen and ordered him to get ready at once for a trip to the border. He wanted to ask questions but was met with firm, curt replies. Then his surprise changed to fury. He flatly refused to budge an inch without advice from counsel. When treated like a peevish child by the officials he picked up a bottle of ink and hurled it at the one giving him orders. It missed and smashed through the window.

Then the officials closed in on him, forcibly ejecting him from

YAKUTAT BAY AND GLACIERS VISITED BY GEOLOGISTS

CANADIAN PORT WILL SOON BE POSSIBLE ON ACCOUNT OF RECEDING GLACIER—PRESENTATION TO CAPTAIN McLEOD.

The C. P. R. steamer Princess Maquinna, which went north a couple of weeks ago with a large party of geologists bound for Dawson and other mining centres, arrived in port yesterday afternoon on its return trip, having parted with the geologists at Skagway. Previous to his departure from Skagway, Captain McLeod was presented by the party with a sealed gift, which he is bound over not to open until he reaches Vancouver. Sir August Baker made the presentation on behalf of the geologists, who were delighted with the treatment they had received at the hands of the genial captain and his staff.

During his northern trip with the geologists, according to statements made by Captain McLeod yesterday, some very interesting places were visited, among which was Yakutat Bay, where there is a receding glacier. This bay extends to near the border between Alaska and Canada and as a result of the receding glacier the bay before many years will extend into Canadian territory so that a Canadian port can be established there.

Captain McLeod took his party into Russell's fiord, an arm of Disenchantment Bay, where many glaciers were seen. The bay is uncharted and was filled with ice from the glaciers, making navigation difficult. The Maquinna was the first boat to enter the bay since 1891.

On the return trip from Skagway the Maquinna carried a fairly large number of passengers going south for the winter. She arrived here shortly before 6 and left at 6:30.

REPRESENTATIVE BUSINESS MEN PLAN TRIP ACROSS THE CONTINENT

Will Travel East to Montreal Over Grand Trunk Pacific as Soon as Line is Completed---Proposition Met With Enthusiasm

With the rapid approach of the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific line in British Columbia and the linking up of Prince Rupert with the east by the shining steel, leading business men of this city are planning ways and means of advertising to the outside world the unlimited resources of that portion of Western and Northern B. C. opened up for development and the many business opportunities of the western terminal, the great "Pacific Port of Progress."

made at the leading cities throughout the prairie and eastern provinces along the line. It is not improbable that if such a proposition be carried out the delegation would be publicly entertained in most of the places visited and in this way the city would get untold value in advertising its opportunities by direct contact between those who are best able to give first hand information and those who are seeking such information.

Another idea in connection with the plan is to carry along an exhibition car, in which would be displayed the mineral, agricultural, fishery and timber resources of the district directly tributary to Prince Rupert.

The scheme is being fathered by C. W. Peck, George Frizzell, M. J. Hobin and a few others. These men have just started interviewing business men of the city, but already nearly a dozen of the leading citizens have given positive assurance that they will form members of such a party. To successfully carry out the plan that has been proposed an early start is of paramount importance. The committee must have positive assurance as to the number of business men who will participate in the trip before the committee takes up with the railway officials the matter of securing such a train. President Chamberlin, of the G. T. P., is expected to pay a visit to Prince Rupert in the near future, and it is hoped that plans will be sufficiently matured to submit the proposition to him on the occasion of his visit.

Considering the purpose for which the trip is planned it does not seem too much to expect that President Chamberlin will accede to the request for a special train at as early a date as possible after the road is completed and that very favorable terms will be granted.

FINE WINDOW DISPLAY

Splendid Showing of Rexall Toilet Preparations at Orme's

Orme's Second Avenue drug store is today making an exceptionally interesting window display of Rexall shaving, toilet and tooth preparations. This display is part of a well organized campaign covering all the Rexall stores in Canada, the United States and Great Britain, everyone of which is today making a similar display. The local window display is supplemented by a large advertisement in the Saturday Evening Post (which unfortunately missed connections here this week), and a similar advertisement in the "Daily News." The campaign will include one special display every month for some time.

FELIX DIAZ CERTAIN OF BEING PRESIDENT

Nephew of Dictator Says Huerta Will Not Run Again for the Office

Berlin, Sept. 8.—Felix Diaz stopping incognito at the Hotel Esplanade, declared today that he would leave for Mexico probably via New York, the first week in October, to open his campaign for the Presidency.

"My latest advices from home indicate that I am practically certain to be elected," said Diaz. "Huerta will not run."

"I will not discuss President Wilson's Mexican policy. He is a good man. I realize he means well. I expect an early peaceful settlement of my country's troubles."

Diaz was sent to Japan as a special Mexican envoy to the Mikado, but will not fulfill the mission.

Will of Late Duke of Cumberland Shows His Interest in This Country.

(Special to The Daily News) London, Sept. 11.—Truth draws attention to the deep interest the late Duke of Cumberland felt in Canada as shown in that peer's will, in which he says:

"I have often been astonished at the cheery optimism with which Canadian statesmen are alienating for all time their freedoms in their vacant territory, thereby reproducing for all time and for future generations the very land problems which are the bugbear of Europe today."

PRINCE RUPERT MAN WHO WAS IN WRECK

O'Dell Says He Was Struck on the Head by Piece of Wreck But Managed to Float

Seattle, Sep. 8.—George O'Dell, one of the survivors of the wreck of the steamship State of California, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, arrived here on the Humboldt. O'Dell took passage on the California at Prince Rupert, bound for the new gold diggings on the Shushana.

When the big liner struck and her upper works were carried away, O'Dell was struck on the head by a piece of wreckage and rendered unconscious. He says he was swimming at the time and believes his arms and legs acted automatically, keeping him afloat until he was taken out of the water by men from the Admiralty Trading Company's cannery who had gone to the rescue of the passengers struggling in the water.

O'Dell's home is at Prince Rupert. He sustained a bad scalp wound as a result of his experience in the wreck.

Dr. Scharsmidt, Conservative organizer, left on the Prince Albert last night to visit the northern parts of Graham Island.
