Past president Mrs. J. R. Ayres installed the new slate of officers.

The retiring president Mrs. Lindseth, as a delegate to the provincial PTA conference held in Victoria last month, outlined the proceedings and explained some of the resolutions which were proposed.

Two of the resolutions proposed were to label all poisonous and lethal chemicals and have X-Ray machines operated by qualified radiologists.

Mrs. Johnstone, convener of the "Centennial Carnival" held last month, reported that the sum of $444.05 was realized, part of which will be used to buy a machine designed to speed up the reading ability of pupils.

Mrs. Bell was nominated as regional representative to the Parent Teacher Federation.

Principal R. G. Moore reminded members that registration for enrolling Grade 1 beginners for school in September was taking place in the school from May 14 to 16.

The association will again provide ice-cream bars for the school's sport's day.

The meeting voted to donate money to be spent on the Safety Patrol boys picnic, following a request by teacher Ian Currie.

Mrs. Bell spoke on the Vancouver Holiday Theatre production "Golden Nugget" which will be presented on the afternoon and evening of May 27 in Booth Memorial high school.

Hospital board grateful for Moody trust fund

The Board of Trustees of the Prince Rupert General Hospital at its last regular meeting expressed appreciation to the trustees of the John E. Moody trust fund for a donation of $9,064.68 used in the renovation of the maternity wing, which will be known as the John E. Moody Memorial Wing.

Making the announcement today was hospital administrator Edward Knight, who said that the donation was recently received by the hospital from the trust fund of the estate of John E. Moody.

The hospital's benefactor Mr. Moody, a staunch churchman and very interested in the medical work among the Indian people left a large estate, following a fortunate investment in coal bearing lands in the vicinity of Telkwa, prior to 1914.

Moving to Port Simpson to work for the Port Simpson General hospital under Dr. R. W. Large in 1914, Mr. Moody left the bulk of his estate to the hospital upon his death in 1939.

The money, placed in a trust fund, is dispersed to various hospitals in the area for the medical needs of the Indians at Hazelton hospital, Miller Bay Indian hospital and the Prince Rupert General hospital.

Mr. Moody arrived from England as a young man and settled in Ontario before he went to Hazelton and ran the farm at the Hazelton hospital. It was during this time that he made his investment in coal.

Summer brides given valuable tips on beauty for wedding portraits

TORONTO—A girl's loveliest portrait photograph is her wedding picture—in full color. To capture a bride's beauty on film at its best, here are a half dozen "tricks of the trade" from portrait photographers:

● Forget the new "sack look" for one day. Pick a bridal gown with that tiny-waisted "wedding ring" look. Some day you may want to brag about that small waistline. Emphasize it by wearing foundation garments one size smaller than you generally wear.

● Many brides don't look their best in white. If you're one who doesn't, consider the new off-white and soft pastel tints for your wedding gown. They show up beautifully in color portraits.

● Go to the hairdresser at least one full day before your photo appointment — to avoid that "just set" look. And don't experiment. Keep the hair style you're accustomed to wearing. The one that flatters you is soft and casual.

● Use a tinted liquid makeup base. If it is one shade darker than you normally wear, it will hide blemishes. Use no rouge, for it tends to create unflattering shadows.

● Use a clear red lipstick, applied as neatly as possible and following the natural outline of your lips.

● Use eye makeup, even if you are unaccustomed to wearing it. The makeup will make your eyes seem larger, give them depth and sparkle for the portrait. First darken your brows with short, light strokes of an eyebrow pencil, then blend with a soft brush. For unruly brows try an old toothbrush rubbed with a bit of softened soap. Next outline the eye gently with the pencil, extending the line slightly out and upward beyond the outer edge of the eyelid. Finally, apply mascara to the lashes, taking care to keep the lashes separated.

While you're at the photographer's studio, it's an excellent time to have a more informal portrait made, so take along a change of clothes. A dress cut on simple flowing lines—preferably in a solid pastel shade, is most flattering.

After the wedding, you can surprise your new husband with this portrait for his office desk.

Only one fire still burning in Rupert area

Out of 10 new fires that started in the Prince Rupert forest district last week, only one is still burning, the District Forestry office reported today.

The lone blaze, near Terrace, is being kept under control. Hazard in this area continues to be "low to moderate" the Forestry reports.

Total of fires in the Prince Rupert district since beginning of the season May 1 now stands at 18. Estimated damage to date is $401. Pre-summer tea in June plan of Cathedral WA

The Afternoon branch of the Women's auxiliary to St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral will hold a pre-summer tea in June.

"God-speed and a safe return" were the wishes extended to Mrs. H. G. Watts, who leaves May 22 to accompany her husband, The Rt. Rev. H. G. Watts, Bishop of Caledonia, to England where he will be attending the Lambeth Conference.

at the . . . Museum

By JOCELYN BOLTON

Peter Bennett, who addressed the Canadian Club last week visited the museum and left us some brochures on the International Vancouver Festival. We also have Centennial folders, giving Calender of Events in the Province, road maps and other folders for distribution.

Mrs. Evelyn Fingarson of Vancouver also called to see us as did quite a number of the American sailors. Most of them were from different part of California. They were all very pleasant nice men, enjoying their trip and nearly all have their cameras with them.

Mrs. R. W. Large was a visitor last week taking out her membership in the Museum. We are always pleased to see Mrs. Large. She has given many donations to our exhibits. Some of our most cherished baskets were the gift of Mrs. Large and when we have them displayed in the new museum, I am sure, as they always do, they will cause people to wonder at the marvellous work of our Native people.

Our guests have come from many parts, Mobile, Alabama, Vancouver, B.C. Vernon, Kitimat appears often, Hazelton, Smithers, Victoria and many other parts. In spit of Pierre Burton's remarks that we don't get any tourists, we do get them. Furthermore, from the mail I receive, the folders, maps and letters sents in reply it appears we will have a great many before 1958 is over.

"Skeena, River of Destiny" is still very popular and we have had requests from the U.S. and Eastern Canada for quite a number of copies lately, even one from Altavista, Pa. We still have a good supply autographed by Dr. R. G. Large.

Dr. R. G. Large brought in some old Cunningham coins for our coin case They are of interest to many of our guests. Young Roy Pawlucki brought us some German paper money, which we can use when we finally get our coins and paper money in shape to display properly. This collection has grown so fast that it is hard to keep up with it. We hope to have it smart and new for our new building—which is growing very fast and makes one realize that moving day is not far off.
