ROOSEVELT PARK CARNIVAL

More Than 4,000 Dimes Exchanged For Fun at Successful PTA Carnival

The exchange of more than 4,000 dimes set a precedent in the Roosevelt Park school last night when $415 was realized at the first annual Rooselevt Park School's 10-cent-carnival.

The unusual affair was a scene of gaiety as multi-colored balloons and streamers in the school's colrs of red and white decked the schol's activity room.

More than 500 adults and children enjoyed themselves in the school's "house of amusement."

Proceeds from the successful event will go toward the Parent-Teacher Association's project, an opaque projector and the group's share in the Parent-Teacher council's bursary fund, reported general convener and PTA president Mrs. James Pinniger.

Main attraction proved to be the doll walk enjoyed by boys as well as girls and convened by Mrs. A. G. Bartlett and Mrs. A. W. Large.

Running a close second as the evening's highlight was the cake walk entered by both parents and children, chaired by Mrs. K. F. Harding and Mrs. A. E. Boyle.

A half-hour of movie cartoons was given three showings due to the tremendous crowd, Mrs. Pinniger said.

Attending the coffee counter were Mrs. Bruce Love and Mrs. Eric Janes while Mrs. C. L. Martin and Mrs. Robert Player sold doughnuts.

Mrs. Melvin Forbes sold aprons and Mrs. J. J. Donaldson and Mrs. Roy Boychuk handled the home-cooking counter.

The baby elephant table was convened by Mrs. Erling Wick and Mrs. Bjorn Wick.

Students from Grade 5 and 6 assisted convener Mrs. Percy Bond in the comic stall. Miss Barbara Thomson and Mrs. J. H. Steele convened the boy's marble guessing games. Attending the candy stall were Mrs. Robert Munro and Mrs. Arthur Rutherford.

James Pinniger and Rayner Montgomery sold soft drinks.

Mrs. Pinniger also acted as general cashier for the 10 cent carnival.

Saturday Sermon

"THE PRAYER OF FORGIVENESS"

By W. T. McFERRAN
First Presbyterian Church

During the decisive hours of human history our dying Lord spoke seven times from the cross. The first word He uttered is a prayer of forgiveness, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do."

The only begotten Son of God died on the cross so that we can become children of God. He became what we are, that we might become what He is. God is our Creator, our King, and our Judge, but He is more than all this. He is our Father, who seeks to adopt the one who is not yet His child.

God's fatherhood is no mere passive feeling of benevolence toward the pleasant people in the world. On the cross our Lord shows that infinite love will go to infinite lengths to redeem us.

FOR WHOM DOES JESUS PRAY?

He prays for the members of the mob who had shouted "crucify him"; even Calaphas, Herod and Pilate were included in His prayer of forgiveness; and, surely, His prayer includes the soldiers who drove the nails into His hands and feet, who knelt at the foot of the cross, not in reverent sorrow, but to cast dice. Perhaps they were the same men who last night threw a purple robe about Him, and smote Him on the head, and spat upon Him, and offered Him mock worship.

We can understand why the soldiers were so savage. They were trained and paid to be cruel. The cross was an instrument of political terror, and they were the men to do the filthy work of crucifixion. We can understand the soldiers' action. Our Lord did more. He forgave. He gave a practical demonstration of His own teaching, "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you."

Forgiveness comes on two levels, that of sins and that of wrongs. In its relation to God, we call an evil act a sin. In relation to the neighbor who suffers because of this act, we call it a wrong. The two levels intersect in the life of a Christian. As our Lord tells us if we accept the forgiveness of sins, we must practice the forgiveness of wrongs. Only the one who has been wronged, or sinned against, can remove it. Extracting this wedge is painful. The forgiveness of your sins cost Almighty God the cross. We do not save our selves; we must be saved.

The world is cursed with sin today, the same kind of sin that nailed Jesus to the cross. "God commended His love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, CHRIST DIED FOR US."

TOMATO TIP

I THINK everyone agrees that tomatoes are never at their best this time of year, but that is no reason why we should go without them. Why not slice them and then fry or broil, sprinkled with buttered bread crumbs, herbs or grated cheese? Don't overlook finely chopped onion either.

Look closely at the fabric in the garment you are wearing. Those threads that run up and down are the "warp". The threads that go across are the "woof".

Look closely again. Because it is entirely possible that some of the clothes you are wearing are woven of wood.

Entirely possible, yes. Because, in the only integrated operation of its kind in the world, Columbia Cellulose and its affiliated companies make it possible to turn forests into fabrics.

From the forests of British Columbia, around Terrace and the Nass and Skeena Rivers, wood is cut which is processed into pulp at our dissolving mill near Prince Rupert. At the Chemcell plant in Edmonton, Alberta, the pulp is combined with chemicals derived from natural gas, and the cellulose is thus spun into synthetic fibres, such as acetate — which has become a household word in clothing for men, women and children.

Other fibres produced from British Columbia forests include such wonderful new fibres as Arnolt and Fortisant. Carefree, beautiful fibres that are bringing a whole new way of life to Canadians everywhere.
