ULSTER'S ARMY REVIEWED WITHOUT DISTURBANCE

RENWORTH WRITES OF RICHNESS OF CHISANA—THREE BIG STORES BUILDING ON SECOND AVE.

RENWORTH HITS THE TRAIL FOR THE NEW DIGGINGS AT CHISANA

PARTY TAKING IN TWO TONS OF GRUB — MEETS CHISANA MEN AT WHITEHORSE WHO SAY PAY RUNS THOUSAND A DAY THREE MEN WORKING

Fred W. Renworth is now experiencing some of the hardships of the trail to Chisana. He wrote his friends here from Whitehorse stating that he was leaving for the new diggings the following afternoon, and that if he and his party had good luck they hope to make the trip in twenty-six days. He says:

"You can tell Max Heilbronner that we are going in by Klucane. Men are coming in from the diggings every day and bringing out most favorable reports. These men are all out for grub and are going right back."

"A man just in today told me that on some of the claims they are taking over $1000 a day, three men working, and that dozens of others are striking it rich. He said that there was no grub in there. Flour sold for $1.50 a cupful; tea $1 a cup, and other things in proportion.

"We have added a man to our party, a Mr. H. Page of Vancouver, making three altogether, and we are taking in two tons of grub, which should last us for awhile."

"Anyone coming in from the south should outfit here, as they have everything here and prices are all right. But they should bring in horses, as they are a luxury here and in great demand. Mark your letters via Whitehorse. The mounted police are arranging to take the mail in during the winter."

HAND TO HAND CONFLICT ON THE STREETS OF DUBLIN.

The Metropolitan Police of Dublin are seen here in hand to hand conflict with the strikers. It was one of the most savage conflicts of the kind in recent years. One striker was killed outright and several others died subsequently from their injuries. The most serious result is that organized labor, electrified by the alleged savagery of the official attack, has created conditions favorable to a nation-wide strike.

ULSTER'S VOLUNTEER PARADE PASSED OFF WITHOUT TROUBLE

TWENTY THOUSAND SPECTATORS ON PARADE GROUND—LARGE BODY OF METROPOLITAN POLICE PRESENT FROM DUBLIN—AN INCIDENT OF LOYALTY.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Belfast, Sept. 29.—Although the whole city was filled with Ulster volunteers and metropolitan police, Sunday passed off quietly. The latter arrived here from Dublin on Saturday morning and had taken up their stations on the streets before the parade of the Ulster volunteers started. In the parade were fourteen battalions numbering over eleven thousand men. They paraded the principal streets with colors flying and bands playing. When the bands were silent the marchers kept step to the slogan "No Home Rule," the majority of the mass of spectators joining in. The commander-in-chief, Sir George Richardson, reviewed the volunteers on the parade grounds, with twenty thousand people looking on.

It was a great surprise that the proceedings passed off so quietly. One incident that may have assisted to this result was the order of the commander at the close of the review for three cheers for King George. Immediately a monster Union Jack was unfurled and the spectators joined heartily with the volunteers in singing the national anthem. There was apparent, however, a great enthusiasm in the movement everywhere.

In the evening the executive committee of one hundred met and selected its standing committees, the most important of these being volunteers, advisory, personnel, finance, intelligence, railways, supplies and medical boards. Many large new subscriptions were made on Saturday to the indemnity fund.

MACKENZIE KING ADDRESSES "NO STRIKE" ASSOCIATION

TELLS CINCINNATI ASSOCIATION THAT UNITED STATES WOULD DO WELL TO ADOPT CANADIAN LAW FOR SETTLING DISPUTES.

Cincinnati, Sept. 26.—Hon. W. Mackenzie King, former minister of labor of Canada, and author of the Canadian industrial disputes and investigation act, tonight was the guest of the "No Strike" Association of this city at a banquet and the principal speaker.

Hon. Mr. King arrived in Cincinnati yesterday, and is the guest of D. B. Meacham at the latter's home. He has been the guest of honor at various luncheons by business men and the "No Strike" Association, and this afternoon addressed a meeting of business men on the floor of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. King explained the Canadian law and the spirit in which it is considered and followed by both the employees and the employers of the Dominion to the Hamilton County legislative delegation, with whom he met this afternoon.

Tonight at the Hotel Sinton, before a large crowd of banqueters at the banquet given in his honor by the "No Strike" Association, Mr. King congratulated the association on the work it had undertaken in the interest of industrial peace.

Mr. King outlined the provisions of the Canadian law and the results achieved under its operation since the time of its enactment. Mr. King then spoke on a bill which has been drafted by the local association, and which has been modelled upon the Canadian act. He believes that if it were enacted into law by the state it would go a long way toward successfully effecting the end it was intended to serve.

EXHIBITION VISITOR WANTED INFORMATION

Vancouver Man Wanted to Know the Reason for Awnings at the New Premier.

On the opening day of Prince Rupert's first fair a visitor from Vancouver, unaccustomed to skyscrapers such as are now under construction here, stood basking in the glorious sunshine and gazing in wonderment at the new Premier Hotel, upon which an army of workmen were busily engaged. Just at this moment Kenny Munro happened to come along and the curious visitor politely inquired as to the object of the awnings that were suspended away at the top of the building.

"Oh," said Kenny, "the sun is so hot we had to put those up to keep the bricklayers from getting sunstroke." The visitor thanked him for the information and no doubt returned to Vancouver with better impressions of Prince Rupert's weather.

The Pacific Transfer Co. was called upon this morning to answer to a charge of breach of the street bylaw, which says that no cart or wagon shall be left on any street at any time to which horses are not attached. The accused was found guilty and being the first offender brought up on such a charge a minimum fine of $1 and $2 costs was imposed. BRITISH EXPERT SAYS CANADA SHOULD BUILD HER WARSHIPS

"THE WHOLE WORK COULD NO DOUBT BE DONE IN CANADA FROM THE OUTSET," DECLARES SIR PHILIP WATTS.

Vancouver, Sept. 26.—In the opinion of Sir Philip Watts, K. C. B., since 1911 advisor on naval construction to the British admiralty, who arrived in Vancouver this morning, warships of the larger classes could be built in Canada, but not as quickly or cheaply as they are turned out in England.

The best way, he declared, for Canada to start on naval construction would be to have a few ships built in England at first and then have some built partly in England and partly in Canada, and, finally, when the workmen have been trained and the ship building plants properly organized and equipped here, to build the ships altogether in Canada.

"Of course," he said, "the whole work could no doubt be done in Canada from the outset, but I think that the cost would be very great, and the ships would take a much longer time to build than is the case in England."

The building of the ships, however, he remarked, would not be the only thing that would have to be taken into consideration. There would be the machinery to build and install, and the most important item, arming the ships when completed. At present Canada has not the facilities to do either of these things, he claimed.

As to the Borden naval policy and the naval policy of the Liberal opposition, he had nothing to say, nor would he be quoted as to the British naval programme.

LORD NORTHCLEFFE COMES TO DEFENCE OF DOWNING STREET

SAYS SOME CANADIANS ARE INCLINED TO SWALLOW JEALOUS RUBBISH INVENTED IN GERMANY OR UNITED STATES

Montreal, Sept. 26.—"The fact that the centre of the Imperial combination is a small island far removed from the rest does not seem to interfere with the development of the whole scheme. There has been friction, but as a matter of fact, I am sure that the irritation caused by the government at Washington and the irritations caused by the government at Ottawa have not often been as great as the irritation caused by Downing Street."

"Downing Street is very often slow, but as an organizer, I do not look for too much haste at headquarters. There is not much movement about an anchor but it is a very essential part of a ship."

So spoke Lord Northcliffe in a distinguished gathering at the Canadian Club luncheon this afternoon.

"Canada is so busy over her own development that she has no time to examine the many rich portions of the great imperial business combinations, of which she is a partner."

"Some Canadians are far too inclined to swallow the jealous rubbish invented by envious writers in Germany and the United States as to the decline of the British Empire. That Empire is sound everywhere. Great Britain was never more active and alive."

"Now that Canadians are acquiring the means and time to travel, they are finding that the business partnership has many vast sources of wealth hardly yet tapped."

"I am convinced that no one who reflects on the progress of mankind can feel anything but satisfaction when he compares the history of the two great English-speaking peoples since they parted company in 1776."

"Their story is indeed the chiefest part of the history of the world since that memorable date," he said.

McMillan vs. Hillis.

The case of McMillan vs. Hillis occupied the attention of Judge Young's court last Saturday morning. This is an action to recover on a cheque money for furs sold by plaintiff to defendant. The contention of defendant is that the furs were not worth the price set on them by plaintiff and that for this reason they were returned. Judgment in the case is reserved.

The announcement that the Railway Commission has authorized the operation of a freight and passenger service on the Grand Trunk Pacific as far as Mile 300 will be good news to the business men of Prince Rupert and to all residents of the interior.
