DITCH DELIGHT—With an oil derrick taking the place of the traditional windmill, youngsters skate aross a frozen ditch in a scene reminiscent of "Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates" at The Hague, Holland. The oil derrick is one of an increasing number in the area. Holland's oil industry is booming and derricks are now almost as familiar a sight as the dikes.

Linda seeks more money

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Linda Christian wants $650 a month from Tyrone Power's estate for support of each of their two daughters.

Her lawyer, James Fizzolio, said Thursday he will ask superior court to authorize the payment because when Power and Miss Christian were divorced, no provision was made for child support.

"With Power's death, alimony to Miss Christian ceased," he said. "For this reason, support for the children must come from the estate."

POLICE PROGRESS

Color photographs of the scenes of crimes now are taken by Scotland Yard in England and by police in South Africa.

OCEAN CURRENTS

BELLINGHAM (AP)—The shift in ocean currents which cost American fishermen a share in 4,250,000 sockeye salmon last summer is breaking up, oceanographers reported here Tuesday.

Clint Atkinson of the Fish and Wildlife Service at Seattle, and Dr. J. P. Tully, Nanaimo oceanographer, described the current shift at a meeting of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission.

SET FOR SANTA—Getting an early start in offering Christmas greetings, merchants have converted the Twin Peaks tunnel entrance into a huge 30-foot fireplace in San Francisco. The display is highlighted by 15-foot stockings and 10-foot candles.

CANINE RESCUERS

Dogs of the St. Bernard breed have saved some 2,500 lives in rescues in the European Alps.

ST. PIERRE ET MIQUELON VOTE TO REMAIN FRENCH TERRITORY

ST. PIERRE, St. Pierre et Miquelon (CP)—These tiny windswept islands, in and out of French and British hands for 300 years, have decided to remain a territory of France.

The elected General Council of the islands' 5,000 residents has chosen to retain their status. All overseas territories were given the option, as a result of their approval of the French constitution Sept. 28, either to become fully integrated with France, to become self-governing member states of the French community or to keep their status as it was before the referendum.
