HAGWILGIT BRIDGE NEARLY COMPLETED

Engineer in Charge Adopts Novel Method of Capturing Bush Tail Rats

C. C. Perry, Indian Agent, who returned last night from a business trip to Hazelton where he was the guest of Government Agent Hoskins, reports that the new high-level bridge at Hagwilgit is almost completed. It is a suspension bridge with a 600 ft. span 250 feet high. Compared with the unique Indian bridge built from telegraph cable it is a magnificent structure.

Mr. Spencer, the engineer in charge, has had some interesting experiences with bush tail rats during his leisure hours. Having lost a couple of pairs of boots and a razor strap which were eaten up by the pests he adopted a novel way of catching them. Pieces of sticky fly paper were thrown about the floor of his cabin and when the animals got tangled up it was an easy matter to capture them.

Mr. Perry, who went to Hazelton on the train that was held up at Terrace on account of the washout, spoke in most complimentary terms of the kind treatment the passengers received at the hands of Mr. Gordon proprietor of the hotel at Terrace.

While in Hazelton he saw a number of exhibits of agricultural products that clipped anything that was sent from the Bulkley Valley to the recent fair.

When asked why these were not sent down the owners replied that they didn't think the exhibition would amount to much. Now that they have heard of the success of Prince Rupert's first fair, a greater variety of exhibits from that district is assured for next year.

Mr. Perry stated that Government Agent Hoskins has a garden adjoining the government office in which he saw vegetables that were far superior to anything shown at the fair.

AN EARLY MORNING CHURCH WEDDING

H. H. D. Hemmel of the Union Bank Claimed as a Bride
at Popular Young Lady

At St. Andrew's church this morning at 7 o'clock Mr. H. H. D. Hemmel, accountant in the Union Bank, claimed as a bride one of Prince Rupert's most popular and accomplished young ladies, Miss Laura Jean Holby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Holby. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Rix.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father was most becomingly attired in a Royal blue travelling suit with Bulgarian trimmings and hat to match. She carried a beautiful bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. O'Neil, the bride's sister, acted as matron of honor, attired in a pretty suit of navy blue with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of carnations. Mr. Lionel Holby, brother of the bride, assisted the groom. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, only a few invited guests being present. The bride was the recipient of many handsome wedding gifts, among which was a cut glass vase from the choir of St. Andrew's church of which she was a member. Mr. and Mrs. Hemmel left for the south on the 9 o'clock boat on a honeymoon trip to the lower coast cities. There was a large gathering of their friends at the wharf to extend congratulations and good wishes. As the boat pulled out the happy couple were showered with rice and a regular fusillade of old shoes. Three hearty cheers were given them. They expect to return in two or three weeks.

EX-KING MANUEL'S WIFE SERIOUSLY ILL

The above picture was taken at Sigmaringen, where Manuel and Princess Auguste Victoria of Hohenzollern were married. They are seen standing on the steps. They proceeded from there to Munich where the Princess was taken suddenly ill and had to be rushed to a private hospital. An operation may be necessary.

LEFT FOR VICTORIA

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. McLeod Take Their Departure from the City

Rev. W. H. McLeod and family left by the ss. Prince Rupert this morning for Victoria, where Mr. McLeod will engage in the study of law. The remains of their infant daughter, who died a week ago, were also taken on the same boat for interment at Victoria. The departure of Rev. Mr. McLeod, who filled the position of pastor of the Baptist congregation here for the past three years, is regretted by the congregation generally as well as by the members of all other denominations. He will be particularly missed by the young men of the city as he always took an active interest in athletics.

Change of Ownership

Jas. Currie of Knott's bakery, and W. Purvis Garnet, an employee of Clifton's bakery, have purchased the latter business which it is their intention to conduct along improved lines. Both being experienced men they should have no difficulty in retaining all of the old customers of Clifton's bakery and will likely add materially to its patronage.

FISHING SCHOONER HAD STRENUOUS TRIP

Could Not Move For Nine Days--
Lost Nearly All Her Sails--
Catch Nearly Nil

The fishing schooner Albert Meyer which went to northern waters some weeks ago to engage in cod fishing arrived in port last night about midnight. She was towed in by the James Carruthers. On account of bad weather the schooner had a most unsatisfactory trip, being able to fish only three days. The catch is therefore practically nil. For nine days the schooner was anchored about 500 miles west of Rupert, unable to move on account of the storm. She lost practically all of her sails. The schooner has been out about two months. Capt. Dan Martin was in charge with a crew of about forty.

RAILWAY COMPANY STARTING STAGE LINE TO THE CHISANA

ALSO GETTING HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH OF GRUB UP THE WHITE BEFORE FREEZE-UP--WHAT MANAGER DICKESON SAYS

General Manager Dickeson, of the White Pass and Yukon railway, was a passenger on the Princess Sophia, which passed through yesterday from the north and it was expected that he might have something definite in regard to the proposed branch line from Whitehorse, the end of steel on their line, to or in the direction of the new gold diggings at Chisana. Mr. Dickeson said that Mr. Close (of Close Bros., Chicago), chairman of the Board of Directors, has made a long stay in the Yukon this summer, and after the discovery at Chisana had been verified the matter had been talked over and Mr. Close had said that he would take up the matter with the board. In the meantime he had authorized the putting in of a stage line for passengers and freight from Whitehorse to the camp.

"That shows what we think of the camp," observed the general manager, and he went on to say that although a hard road in summer he believed that at comparatively small expense a good winter road could be made and in this he hoped that the government would assist.

Of course, he went on, it would take some time for the arrangements to be completed, but already work had started in the building of the necessary road houses and barns at every 25 or 35 miles of the route to Chisana, a distance of over three hundred miles. Road work could only begin after a good snowfall; then they hoped to have a good road as that of the winter road to Dawson, and it would be of practically the same length.

But they had already made arrangements to land before freeze up some $100,000 worth of supplies up the White River, which would be taken in over the frozen ice by that way. So there would be no need to raise the cry of famine in the camp.

As to the richness of the camp itself Mr. Dickeson said it was too soon to judge, as but comparatively little work had been done. He understood, however, that at least $30,000 had already been taken out. This was from two creeks only, Little Eldorado and Bonanza, and considering the very short time sluicing had been in operation this was exceedingly encouraging. The gold taken out was coarse in character and similar to that of Eldorado in the Yukon in the early days.

DISAPPEARED IN THE NIGHT, BODY IS FOUND IN THE RIVER

HAZELTON WOMAN SUPPOSED TO HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE--BODY WAS FOUND FIVE MILES UP RIVER

News reached the city last night of what is apparently a sad suicide case at Hazelton. On Friday night Fritz Harris, a half breed and his wife, Louisa Harris, retired at their usual hour. He awakened about two o'clock in the morning and was somewhat surprised to find that his wife was not beside him. On making enquiries from the children one of them said that the mother had told them the previous day that she would not be with them very long. Fritz immediately started out to search for his wife and although he kept up the search till daylight no trace of her could be found. The police were notified Saturday morning and search parties started out in all directions. About eleven o'clock that night word reached Hazelton that the body had been found in the river at Glenwood, five miles above Hazelton. Government Agent Hoskins and Dr. Winch, coroner, went to Glenwood Sunday morning to arrange for an inquest today. It is believed that the woman's rash act was the result of worry over a criminal case pending of which she was supposed to be the victim.

DEATH OF JOHN DOYLE

Received Fatal Injuries on Way from Here to Chisana

News was received on Saturday evening of the death of John Doyle at Skagway. He left here in fine health bound for Chisana. Shortly before reaching Skagway he accidentally fell down a hatch, breaking his collar bone, and fracturing a rib. As soon as the boat touched Moore's wharf he was removed to the excellent hospital at Skagway and received every attention. But he never fairly rallied from the shock and in a couple of days passed away.

"Johnny" came here early last year because he had become largely interested in Graham Island oil lands. Meantime he attended bar at the Windsor and later at the Savoy. He was among the best known Klondikers here, as he had been proprietor of two hotels in Dawson.

Celebration at Smithers

The arrival of the first passenger train at Smithers on Saturday evening was the occasion of quite a celebration. Mr. Armstrong, the train agent, on his return last night reports great activity in the new divisional point. Quite a large number of buildings are going up and every thing points to a busy winter.

TIM HEALY ATTACKS METHODS OF LABOR AGITATOR LARKIN

STATEMENT MADE AT DUBLIN COURT BY A LEADING NATIONALIST--LANCASHIRE COTTON MILL OWNERS DENOIED ON BIG LOCKOUT SOON

London, Oct. 2.--Timothy Healy, M.P., made an attack yesterday on the methods of James Larkin, in stating a case for the masters at Sir George Asquith's court of inquiry into the Dublin labor war. In the last five years he said, Dublin had been subjected to more strikes than during its entire existence as a capital. The strikes had been brought about by methods which made trade unionists ashamed and the masters would be forced to combine to preserve what little was left of the wreck of trade and commerce in Dublin.

Larkin, he said, acted the part of Napoleon. His men obeyed him as implicitly as the French soldiers obeyed their emperor, and it was that that brought about these strikes. All employers had been the subject of Larkin's attacks and humbled masters had worn out their marrow bones kneeling at his shrine. The present condition of affairs, he said in conclusion, was as finished a system of tyranny as had ever been started in any country, except, perhaps, the "Reign of Terror" in Paris. In fact, he did not know of any reign of terror so complete as this present one.

Events seem to be moving rapidly toward a grave industrial crisis. "It may," says the Times "be postponed for a time, but recent indications forbid the hope that it can be altogether averted and signs pointing to a speedy development are increasing. One of the most ominous is the fact that yesterday the master cotton spinners' confederation decided to close all their spinning mills from October 25 until the dispute now in progress at one mill in Bolton is settled. This dispute has nothing to do with wages or other standing conditions. It is the result of a demand on the part of the spinners that an overseer, to whom they object, should be discharged.

Chief Walter Owen of the Provincial Police left this morning for New Westminster, having in charge Wm. Brown sentenced to ten years and ten lashes for a serious criminal offence.
