ALD. MAITLAND AFTER SCALPS OF THE OWNERS AND AGENTS

OBJECTS TO THE FINES IMPOSED ON RESIDENTS OF THE RESTRICTED DISTRICT—CHIEF TO GET NAMES OF AGENTS FOR VARIOUS PROPERTIES.

Following the reading of Chief Vickers' report at the monthly meeting of the police commissioners yesterday, Alderman Maitland opened up a big question by objecting to the fines that were being imposed upon residents of the restricted district. Upon asking why these fines were imposed Chief Vickers explained that it was because the convicted women had made themselves objectionable and had not lived up to certain rules of the district. Alderman Maitland took the ground that if the women were objectionable they should be sent out of the city. Further discussion of the question made it quite apparent that Alderman Maitland was after the owners and agents for the property in the restricted district rather than the women who lived there. He was of the opinion that the laws regarding these matters had been made more strict and he said the city should keep up with the law. Chief Vickers produced a copy of the statute, from which it was shown the owners of and

On motion a hearty vote of thanks was passed Percy F. Godenrath for his work in connection with the financial campaign and publicity of the fair. Mr. Percy Godenrath yesterday appeared before the civic finance committee and presented a report of the subscriptions received by the Northern B. C. Agricultural & Industrial Association, and the finance committee authorized a second payment of $1,500 to the association. The final payment will be made when the accounts are all in and balanced.

DEPARTMENT STORE TO BE OPENED HERE

Prince Rupert is to Have a Large Department Store, Conducted on Up-to-Date Methods.

As additional evidence of outside faith in the City of Prince Rupert another large dry goods store is to be established in this city. Some months ago Pride, Nash & Co., of Stettler, Alta., wrote to Harrison, Gamble & Co., seeking information as to the field for another store. As a result of the information given Mr. Nash came here a couple of months ago to look over the situation and make arrangements for premises. The prospects looked so encouraging that a decision was reached to open up and the premises lately occupied by the Prince Rupert Hardware & Supply Co., on Third avenue, were secured temporarily. Mr. A. W. Pride, senior member of the firm, arrived in the city yesterday and on the same boat a large portion of the new stock ordered specially for their store here. The freight alone on the goods arriving yesterday amounted to nearly a thousand dollars. Carpenters are at work today putting the store in shape to receive and properly display the goods.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT AGAINST CALLING IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

TOO MUCH OCCUPIED WITH DOMESTIC POLITICS TO CONSIDER THOSE OF THE DOMINIONS—WIDESPREAD DISAPPOINTMENT THE RESULT.

London, Oct. 6.—The Daily Telegraph in an article this morning says it understands the government has no intention of calling a general imperial conference. The announcement, which it is claimed, is made on the highest authority, has occasioned widespread disappointment, even more marked in the overseas dominions than in the mother country. In Canada, New Zealand, Australia, South Africa, responsible ministers have openly expressed their hope that His Majesty's government would recognize the importance of immediate consultation between the different sections of the Empire, with a view to concerted action, and the Daily Telegraph, in reviewing the situation, adds: "So strong are the arguments for a conference that the colonial press, apparently with full knowledge that representations had

PREPARING TO SHIP BIG GUNS TO PROTECT THE PANAMA CANAL

FORTS FOR PROTECTION OF THE PACIFIC ENTRANCE ALREADY CONSTRUCTED ON THREE ISLANDS IN THE BAY OF PANAMA.

New York, Oct. 6.—United States army officers have begun to prepare the special tackle and machinery which will be needed to handle at the piers here the big guns which will be sent on a ship to the Panama Railroad and Steamship Company this month to the fortifications at the entrances to the Panama Canal. The guns for the Pacific forts will go first. They are one four-inch gun with several six inch rifles. The other fourteen inch gun and the sixteen inch one, which are now being manufactured, will not be ready for several months. It has been found advisable to send these guns by sea from New York, even though they are intended for the forts at the Pacific end of the canal. At Cristobal they will be put on cars constructed specially for them and taken across the isthmus. The cradles and carriages for the larger guns have been cast in the shops at Gorgona, and have been ready for more than a month. Fortifications of the Panama Canal has in view two points: First, making it impossible for an enemy in time of war to take possession of the waterway, and second, making it impossible to injure it to such an extent that it could not be used by the navy of the United States. There is one other way in which the canal could be made useless as an instrument in the hands of the United States, and that is by blockade. The forts cannot prevent this, the authorities say. Nothing but a strong navy can be of avail in such a case, they assert. The forts at the Pacific entrance are being constructed on three islands in Panama Bay at the very beginning of the canal, Flamenco, Perico and Naos. These islands are great masses of volcanic rock. Behind these rock walls, the men are safe from the fire of any ship, no matter how near the ships stand. A whole fleet within a mile of these islands could keep up a steady fire and not injure the forts or the men in them.
