NEW BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Victoria Colonist is impressed with the fact that daily trains are now running to Smithers and are also running through the Yellowhead Pass some 90 miles down the Fraser River, and it goes on to speak of this new British Columbia being opened up by the railway. Its area, it says, is about 80,000 square miles, which makes it about twice as large as the three maritime provinces. Speaking of Prince Rupert, it says:

"The magnitude of the development which will ensue from the building up at Prince Rupert of a great ocean and railway terminal cannot very well be estimated, nor can we measure the importance which the fisheries will assume. We speak of these things only in a very general way, but they are factors the value of which cannot be measured. They mean a large population, which will furnish a market for all that can be produced upon the farms of the interior. The whole statement of facts regarding the great area, soon to be opened to colonization and enterprise, shows what a magnificent heritage we have in New British Columbia, a region where, ten years ago, there was scarcely a settler, except at a few points along the coast and in the immediate vicinity of the old gold fields of Cariboo. Surely there is great promise in all this to those persons who think of British Columbia as a whole."

ANOTHER BENEFIT TO THIS PROVINCE.

It was pointed out in this column a few days ago what an impetus would be given to the fishing industry of this port by the new American tariff taking off the duty on fish. In another direction the new tariff is to be of great benefit to Prince Rupert and the province. This is in the removal of the duty on paper and pulp. This clause was bitterly fought by the paper combines in the States, which declared that free paper would put them out of business because it could be manufactured much cheaper in Canada near the source of an almost inexhaustible supply of raw material close at hand to water powers which were available under the most favorable conditions.

The pulp and paper industry of this province is steadily growing, although up to the present the market has been limited. We may reasonably expect now that there are greater possibilities in this direction that the ratio of growth will be radically larger.

There are five pulp mills in the province, but only two of these are now in operation. The one near here, at Swanson Bay, is not at present making pulp. But doubtless with the advantage of the new tariff it will start up again, as will the others. Also, the industry is bound to grow very rapidly under such favorable conditions, and the growth of the industry will rapidly increase the trade of this port.

"HONOR FIRST, THEN LOVE," MOTTO OF PRINCE ERNEST

REFUSAL TO RENOUNCE RIGHTS TO HANOVERIAN SUCCESSION MAY BALK KAISER'S AMBITIONS

Berlin, Oct. 7.—An utter deadlock apparently exists in the negotiations for placing Prince Ernest of Cumberland and his bride, Victoria Louise, of Prussia, on the throne of Brunswick, and Emperor William may be disappointed in the hope of seeing his only daughter the wife of a reigning sovereign. This has been brought about by the failure of the Prussian officials to realize clearly before the betrothal of the young princess, the determination of Prince August Ernest and his father, the Duke of Cumberland, never formally to renounce their rights to the Hanoverian succession.

Princess William's lawyer son, who was sent to confer with him at Karlsruhe before the betrothal to induce him to renounce his rights was met by this statement from the Duke: "For me and my family, honor comes first, then love."

Princess Victoria Louise, therefore may find herself the wife of a pretender in much the same position as former King Manuel of Portugal.

Port Simpson Band Take Remains of Albert Wellington.

Conductor Pollard, Secretary D. A. Johnson and all the members of the Port Simpson band came over yesterday afternoon and took back with them the remains of Albert Wellington, who had been one of their prominent members for over sixteen years. He was with the band when it first played here on May 24, 1906, and also when the band won the first prize at New Westminster in 1905.

He was also one of the band when they received the honor from the Prince of Wales, now King George, at Vancouver in 1901, and on many other notable occasions he figured with the band and assisted his fellow members in winning marks of commendation.

ACTORS PERSONATING TURKS WERE MOBBED

When King Nicholas' Play Was Being Aided Turkish Characters Nearly Lynched.

Cettinje, Montenegro, Oct. 6.—Riotous scenes, almost culminating in the lynching of the actors who represented Turks, marked the first performance tonight of King Nicholas' play, "The Siege of Scutari."

When the actor who played the role of Essad Pasha came upon the stage the tumult became deafening. A youth sprang on the platform, revolver in hand, and with difficulty was restrained from shooting the actor. When a member of the cast, before the battle scene, began to describe the assault on Tarabosch, several veterans in the audience arose and denounced him as a liar.

When the third act showed the Turks in full retreat the audience made a rush for the stage with the intention of lynching the wearers of the fez. The police were compelled to use force to restrain the frantic people.

New Loan for China

London, Oct. 7.—A Shanghai dispatch to the Morning Post, says it is understood that the Chinese government is arranging to borrow $125,000,000 from the quintuple syndicate, consisting of bankers of France, Germany, Russia, Great Britain and Japan. The loan will be made on the same terms as the previous one.

To Make It Easier

Why are all the Federal bye-elections not fixed by Mr. Rogers for the same date? Because Mr. Rogers thinks he can better "fix" the constituencies if he hasn't too many on his hands at the same time.—London Advertiser.
