BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

Playing Reversing The Dummy Illustrated in Today's Hand

Before giving up on a hand where the defenders ruinously shorten your trump suit by forcing you to ruff, it is always advisable to consider the line of play known as reversing the dummy.

South dealer
Both sides vulnerable

NORTH
Mr. Champion
♠ 9 5 3
♥ 8 7 3
♦ A 8 2
♣ A 5 4 3

WEST
Mr. Dale
♠ 10 2
♥ K Q J 10 6 4
♦ 7 4
♣ K Q 10

EAST
Mr. Masters
♠ 8 7 6 4
♥ A 9 5 2
♦ 6 5 3

SOUTH
Mr. Muzzy
♠ A K Q J
♥ none
♦ K Q J 10 9
♣ J 9 8 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	1 ♥	2 ♦	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	3 ♦	Pass
5 ♦	All Pass

Briefly, this means you will try to set up the dummy rather than your own hand. Ruff as many tricks as possible in your hand, shortening your trump holding to less than the number of trumps on the board.

Eventually, you plan to use dummy's trumps to do the major part of the job of picking up the trumps held by the enemy.

In today's deal Mr. Muzzy got into the reasonable final contract of five diamonds and Mr Dale led the king of hearts. Mr. Muzzy ruffed and it appeared to him that he was in a very fine spot. All he had to lose was a couple of club tricks.

He took three quick rounds of trumps, then led the ace and another club. Mr. Dale won the second club with the queen and returned a high heart. Mr. Muzzy ruffed again and was somewhat surprised to note that this took his last trump.

If he led another club at this point, Mr. Dale would be in a position to cash all of his remaining hearts. Sadly, Mr. Muzzy played his four good spades but had to concede the last two tricks for a one-trick set.

Of course, he should have foreseen this result and handled the play differently from the start. He could have made the hand easily as follows:

At trick two lead the ace of clubs and then a small club. Mr. Dale would win and return a heart. Ruff this and lead a third club. Again Mr. Dale would win and have no better return than a heart. Ruff for the third time.

Now lead the king of diamonds and follow with your last diamond, the queen. Overtake this in dummy with the ace. Cash the eight of diamonds, picking up the last outstanding trump. The rest of the cards in the closed hand would now be good.

be closed by a cul-de-sac and vehicular access to Booth Memorial High School grounds should be from Fifth and Seventh Avenues. Parking areas should be provided at the present junctions of these avenues with Hays Cove Circle.

This would eliminate the traffic - hazard created by Hays Cove Circle cutting between two sections of the playground of Booth Memorial.

Only pedestrian access should be provided from the cul-de-sac on Sixth Avenue to the school grounds; this would, however, be an alternative access for fire-fighting equipment in an emergency:

Green Street should be the last cross street before the school grounds; Ebert Street between Fifth Avenue and Seventh Avenue should be sold as four lots for housing.

The School Board should continue its program of landscaping the school grounds, and should develop the area to the west of the school for playground and parking purposes as soon as possible; this area should be considered a reserve of land which can be used for educational buildings and facilities as the need arises.

Mr. McGovern said there is need for more playground space at the high school and the need will continue even if a new senior high school is built.

It is undesirable to have a school on an island surrounded by traffic routes, he said.

The road around the high school is justified only if a large volume of traffic has to use it and this does not appear to be so, report said.

If the city extends telephone service outside city limits as it would do to Digby Island and Dodge Cove, rates would have to be filed with the Public Utilities Commission and PUC jurisdiction would apply.

PUC would only have jurisdiction outside the city though, it was pointed out in a letter from the commission to city council.

If the city wishes to extend services a certificate of public conveyance and necessity must be applied for and the telephone bylaw as drawn up must be submitted to the commission.

Mayor Hills said if the cable to the airport went past Dodge Cove there would be sure to be requests for phone service from residents there. The Mayor said there would also likely be requests from Port Edward.

"The proper thing to do would be to give Dodge Cove phones," said Mr. Hills.

PUC rates would apply to telephone service outside the city.

The letter was received and filed for further consideration.

PURE TUNGSTEN

Tungsten was first isolated in its pure state in 1771 by K. W. Scheele, a Swedish chemist.

Rites Tomorrow

The Skeena fisherman, brought dead into Prince Rupert Sunday, is John Jentoft Sandahls, 72, of Dodge Cove on Digby Island.

RCMP in Port Edward received a call from Mr. Sandahl's son Sunday night that his father had been reported sick on his boat near the Skeena River Limit by other fishermen.

Mr. Sandhal s was born in Namsos, Norway, and came to Canada 32 years ago.

In 1932 he took up residence in Prince Rupert and has been a fisherman ever since.

He is survived by his wife Ingrid at Dodge Cove, Digby Island, three sons, Widar or Terrace, and Arvid and Leif in Prince Rupert, and four daughters, Iva, Mrs. Peter Husoy of Prince Rupert, Mrs. Edna Mosely of Vancouver, Mrs. Odby Irvin and Mrs. Haldis Phillipson of Terrace, and one sister in Norway, Mrs. Oliva Lougen.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. from Ferguson's Funeral Home with Rev. A. S. Olson officiating. Interment will be at Fairview Cemetery.

PRESENT CANADIAN SOLDIER "BEST-BEHAVED IN HISTORY"

VICTORIA (CP) — Canada now has the best-behaved army in its history, Col. James Riley Stone said in an interview here Monday.

"Whereas at the time of Korea we had about 600 men in detention, the number has dropped to an all-time low of around 85," said the 47-year-old provost marshal from Ottawa, while making an inspection tour of service detention barracks at Work Point.

"The Canadian soldier is quieter and more law-abiding than at any time in our history."

Col. Stone laughed derisively at a suggestion that the new higher rates of pay might result in disorderly behaviour.

"Absolute nonsense," he said.

"Better pay gives the soldier more prestige and dignity in relation to civilians. He is far more likely to get into trouble if he has nothing in his pocket than if he can afford to go to decent places for amusement."
